Recommend Renewal of Three Licenses

When the Board of Aldermen at its last meeting renewed common victualler's licenses in this city five lunchrooms did not have their licenses renewed. Complaints had been received regarding the manner in which these places had been conducted. Included were George's Lunch, 291 Centre st., Newton; Antonio Massimo, 192 Adams st., Nonantum; Thomas Malloy, 100 Needham st., Newton Highlands; Vartan Kosroffian, 1205 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls and John Aharonian, 1223 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls. As a result these lunch rooms have not been selling food or alcoholic beverages since May 1st.

Following a conference with the lunchroom owners affected the Licenses Committee, at its meeting on Wednesday night, recommended the renewal of licenses to George's Lunch, Kosroffian and Aharonian. If the Board of Aldermen accepts these recommendations at its meeting next Monday night the three places in question will resume business.

Tearing Down Old West Newton Block

The Nickerson Block at 1345 to 1353 Washington st., West Newton, near Cherry st., is being razed. This building was for many years the principal block in that village. It was built by James H. Nickerson, a former prominent business man of West Newton. He was the first president of the West Newton National Bank and treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank. Both these institutions were located for many years in the block now being demolished. The West Newton postoffice was also located there and the branch of the Newton Public Library was on the second floor. The Odd Fellows' Hall was on the third floor of the structure. The postoffice moved a few years ago to Waltham st. and the two banks removed in recent years to new buildings on Washington and Chestnut sts.

Health Dept. May Change Ruling Regarding Measles

At the next meeting of the Newton Board of Health on May 7th a proposal may be made to change the regulations affecting measles. The present rule specifies that children in whose families a case of measles occurs, must remain away from school for at least two weeks. According to the proposed change, a child who would receive immunization treatment could attend school.

The Newton Health Department will conduct a clinic at the Newton Hospital out patient department on Friday, May 11th, for the purpose of collecting blood from persons who have had scarlet fever during the past year. This blood will be used to obtain serum for preventive of scarlet fever. Any person donating the required amount of blood (about a half pint) will be paid $5. In this city last year 179 children were given preventive serum after having been exposed to scarlet fever; of this number 11 later contracted the fever. Among 164 children exposed to the disease, and who did not receive the preventive treatment, 25 contracted the fever.

Newton Hospital Busy First Three Months of Year

The Newton Hospital is a busy place these days. On Saturday, April 14, it was housing 195 patients, the largest number in any one day for a long period. Daily average number of patients for the first three months of this year was 160.56, against 157.95 for the corresponding period a year ago.

The Trustees held their regular quarterly meeting on Tuesday, last. It was stated that rising prices for materials and supplies had contributed to raise the total average cost per patient to $5.74, against $5.47 in the first quarter of 1933. If the cost is reckoned on the basis of excluding babies as patients, the average was $5.83 for the first three months of this year.

It was stated at the meeting that the sound-proofing of the corridors on the third and fourth floors has been greeted with enthusiasm by patients and nurses alike. Further extension of the sound-proofing is planned. At the meeting a new, illustrated booklet of the hospital was distributed. It contains valuable information for the public, and particularly the patients, as the rules governing the operation of the hospital are set forth including prices for various rooms, visiting hours, etc. It is also planned to put this booklet into the hands of new residents in our city as soon as they locate here that they may be informed of the facilities offered for treatment, diagnosis, etc. It was also stated that receipt of a $15,000 legacy has made possible a substantial reduction in the hospital's bank borrowings and of course a reduction in the interest cost of same.

The financial operations of the hospital for the first quarter of 1934 show an operating income of $63,337, against $67,000 in the same period a year ago. Due to higher food costs, sound-proofing of corridors and purchase of additional equipment, operating expenses for this period were about $4800 more than the corresponding period last year. The net result, after endowment income, was a red-ink balance of $10,347, against $6,889, but it compares with a budgeted loss of $14,743.

Business from private patients was particularly good, amounting to $36,134, against $29,747 a year ago. From the Newton Board of Health cases the hospital received but $215, against $5,151 a year ago.

Newton Quota on ERA Only 350

On April 1st the CWA ended and the ERA took its place. On CWA work, the rules provided that any unemployed person was eligible for a job regardless of his or her financial condition.

On the ERA all placements are made on the basis of welfare need. Those having two or more dependents will be first considered. In every case a budget is to be established for the family and work provided on the basis of the budget, but not exceeding 24 hours per week.

Newton's quota for ERA work is much lower than the CWA quota. At one time over 1300 persons were employed on CWA work but on the ERA work probably not over 350 will be employed. The government is reducing the allotments in cities and towns which they believe are in the better financial condition.

Some Fined and Given Suspended Jail Sentences

Five youths and eight boys who reside in the Thompsonville section of Newton Centre were in the Newton court last Friday charged with pulling about a dozen false alarms and setting six brush fires within the past few months. The gang members were arrested following some persistent work by Serg. Crowley and Patrolmen Bibbo, Smith and Turner of the Newton police. Although they were found guilty of these many offences, none was sent to jail; the sentences imposed on all being suspended.

Francis Walsh, 22, of 422 Langley road, Newton Centre, and Antonio DeMaio, 17, of 385 Boylston street, Newton Centre each was fined $50 and given suspended jail sentences of 30 days. Walsh was found guilty of having set six brush fires, of having pulled eleven false alarms, and of having been present with a sixteen year old youth, Charles Simpkins, when the former pulled a false alarm. DeMaio was found guilty of having pulled three false alarms.

Mario Caruso, 19, of 26 Beecher place, Newton Centre, Albert D'Ercole, 17, of 337 Boylston street, Newton Centre, and John Scinore, 17, of 3 Jackson street, Newton Centre, each was fined $25 and given suspended 30-day jail sentences.

Break at Armory In West Newton

A break was made at the State Armory, West Newton, on Tuesday night. It was discovered Wednesday morning by John Barton of 12 Kempton place, West Newton, armorer at the building. Entrance had been effected by removing a sash from a narrow window at the front of the armory. A fire extinguisher had then been used in an effort to break the door at the armorer's office, the burglar apparently trying to enter the office to obtain the keys to the various rooms of the armory. No effort was made to enter the rooms where the ammunition or arms are stored.

Haskell, Miss Mabel Riley, Mrs. William Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Mr. W. J. O'Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Jouett, Mr. Charles Floyd, Mr. Norman J. Cate, Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. William McCabe, Mr. E. J. Frost, Mrs. John Hopewell, Mrs. M. P. Delano, Mrs. L. G. Bankart, Mrs. Cutler B. Downer, Mr. Leslie Clafl, and Mr. E. T. Keefe. The seating capacity of the bleachers, which was only 500 for last year's show, will be increased to 1500 this year. Tickets are on sale at one of the drug stores in each village, as well as by a large and active ticket committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. Alden Thresher of Waban.

The band of the local post of the American Legion, which furnished music for last year's Show, will again give its services.

Judging by the entries already received and by the plans on foot for spectacular military riding, the quality of the competition at this year's Show will fully measure up to last year's standard. All entries must be in the hands of Manager Arthur Lovesey, 8 Hillcrest rd., Milton, not later than May 5.

Alleged Drunken Drivers In Court

Alexander McDonald, 21, of 27 Howard st., Watertown, was found guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor by Judge Weston in the Newton court last Friday. He was given a suspended jail sentence of 14 days. A drunkenness charge against him was placed on file. In court the same day Caspar Wooldredge of 40 Kelveden rd., Waban, was fined $50 for a similar offense.

Lief Gerstad of Roslindale was arrested about midnight last Friday after the car he was driving hit a car on Hammond st., Chestnut Hill. Unlike many arrested for drunken driving, who deny their guilt and try to escape legal punishment, Gerstad pleaded guilty in court on Saturday and asked that the case be tried at once, without the usual continuance of a week. He was fined $100 for drunken driving and $10 for drunkenness.

Resignation of Supt. John Lund Is Accepted

Will Enter Field of Teacher Training

The Newton School Committee announced today the resignation of John Lund as superintendent of the Newton Schools. The statement from the committee is as follows:

"The committee wishes to announce that Mr. John Lund has tendered his resignation as Superintendent of the Newton Schools to the Committee, requesting that it take effect as of August 31, 1934. Mr. Lund has announced to us that he is resigning in order to put into effect plans which have been formulating in his mind for some time to retire from public school administration and devote his time and talents in the field of teacher training. He informs us that he is not now in a position to announce definitely his immediate plans, since negotiations now under way are not fully matured; but, he wishes to give the Committee ample time to name his successor. The Committee has, therefore, accepted his resignation, to take effect August 31, 1934."

In referring to his resignation Mr. Lund said that he has spent sixteen years in administering public schools in several cities and prior to that taught in schools for five years. His interests have always been in educational aspects and for the past few years he has been advising with friends in his profession relative to work in teachers' colleges or in educational training. Recently possibilities opened up and he decided to make the change. While these possibilities have not fully matured, they have sufficiently advanced so that he determined to inform the School Committee of his plans and give it an opportunity to select his successor.

Mr. Lund said: "I want it understood that my decision in no way reflects any dissatisfaction with my experience here in Newton. I found my work here most interesting, stimulating and satisfying. I had the finest sort of co-operation from the teaching staff, School Committee and the community."

Mr. Lund received his appointment as Superintendent of Newton's schools in February 1932, and started in this position on August 31, 1932. He was educated in the Worcester schools, receiving his A.B. from Clark University and his M.A. from Columbia University. After teaching in private and public schools he became superintendent of schools at Derby, Conn. in 1918. Subsequently he served as superintendent of schools at Winsted, Wallingford and Norwalk, Conn. He has been prominent in the activities of teachers' organizations in Connecticut and in the National Education Association.

Fumes From Auto Nearly Kill Man at Newton Centre

Richard Sanders, 47, of 208 Parker street, Newton Centre was nearly asphyxiated Sunday morning by fumes from the exhaust of his car. Sanders went into his garage about 8:30 to prepare the car for a trip to Connecticut. When he did not return to his residence at 9, his wife went out to the garage and found him unconscious on the garage floor, although the doors of the garage were open. She telephoned the police and Dr. F. E. Jones of Brookline. The latter started to resuscitate Sanders who was later taken to the Newton Hospital where oxygen treatment was given him, and where he was revived.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

ALUMNI OFFER BIG CUP FOR QUADRANGULAR TRACK MEET WINNER

Alumni associations of the four schools entered in the first quadrangular track meet to be held next week Friday afternoon at the Newton High School track have offered the team winner a beautiful silver trophy standing about eighteen inches in height to be inscribed with the name of the winning team. During the winter Coach Donald Enoch of the Newton track team and Faculty manager Dr. Oscar Martin arranged a meet between track teams from Newton, Medford, Everett and Lynn English High Schools. The meet should provide plenty of thrilling competition with the outcome greatly in doubt until the final event has been completed.

Newton will be fairly strong in the middle and long distance races with such runners as Allan Freeman and Tommy Fitzgerald. Unless the experience of the Newton athletes gained during the winter has borne considerable fruit Newton will be weak in the field events. In the sprints and hurdles the orange and black should be able to hold its own with the runners from the other schools.

SPORT NOTES

Johnson Second in Jump

Stanley Johnson, former Newton High track star, placed second in the broad jump at the Greater Boston intercollegiate track meet last Saturday. Johnson, now at M. I. T., leaped 21 ft. 11 7/8 in. to finish behind Hasler of Harvard by four inches. Johnson also placed fourth in the finals of the 200-meter low hurdles. Francis Tuscher, former State schoolboy 440-yard champion at Newton and now at Northeastern University, placed fourth in the finals of the 200-meter dash.

Harvard Grads Lose

Boston College defeated the Harvard Grads baseball nine, 7 to 2, last Saturday. Tom Gilligan was at first base and caught part of the game for the Grads.

Gallagher Upsets Jinx

Herbert Gallagher, Newton youth and star athlete at Northeastern, upset the jinx which has followed Husky baseball teams in their games with Tufts last Saturday by twirling a 9 to 4 victory. It was the first time in nine years that Northeastern has won from the Jumbos. Gallagher was touched for only five hits. He fanned five and passed five. After a bad first inning in which Tufts scored three runs he settled down and was nearly invincible. His single in the eighth figured in a six-run rally and he crossed the plate in that frame with the winning tally. It was Tufts' first defeat in five games.

Fourth Graders Undeclared

The undefeated fourth grade team of the Our Lady Parochial School defeated the fourth grade team of St. Mary's School of Cambridge Wednesday afternoon at Boyd Park. The Our Lady line-up included J. Callahan, rf; B. Burke, lb; P. King, ss; E. Keegan, 2b; R. Keough, c; M. Marino, p; N. Drew, lf; R. O'Connell, cf; R. Tedesco, 3b; J. Walsh, rf.

NEWTON STAGES RALLY IN NINTH INNING TO TOP CANTABS 2 TO 1

Last Saturday afternoon Coach Jeff Jones' 1934 Newton High School baseball team staged a two-run ninth inning rally at Russell Field, North Cambridge to top a favored Cambridge Latin nine, 2 to 1 in one of two opening Suburban League games. At Tech field in Brookline the Rindge Tech nine staged a four-run ninth inning rally to nip Brookline 6 to 5 in the other league encounter. Both games had been postponed from Friday because of the rain on that day. This afternoon Newton goes full Cambridge again for its first game with Rindge Tech and the league lead will be at stake.

Last Saturday's affair with the Cantabs was a nip and tuck contest packed with thrills until the final man was out. Both pitchers, Joe Greene of Newton and Bill Anderson of Cambridge were in great form with Greene having a slight edge. He allowed the home team but four hits while Anderson was touched for five.

In the fourth inning John Sparta-chino, Cantab centerfielder, poled the ball to deep right center for a home run to give his team the edge. As the game progressed the one run looked bigger and bigger as Anderson was handing out a row of goose-eggs. The long blow did not upset the Newton twirler, however, and he permitted but three other scattered singles throughout the game.

In the ninth the tide turned. Bill Spillman, Newton second-sacker, led off in the ninth with a ringing single and Waters followed with a short single. Spillman holding second. On a short passed ball both runners moved up and neither scored as Mascia went out. Flagg rapped to Anderson and Spillman was tagged out on the base-line with Waters reaching third. Morrison drew a walk to the bases. "Bullet" Byrne came through with a pretty single over short and Waters and Flagg counted to give Newton its 2 to 1 margin. The last of the ninth was a hair-raising inning for Newton as the Cantabs got two men on but Flagg took care of pinch-hitter Connors infield rap, tossing him out at first and ending the threatening rally.

Newton Trounces Framingham

The orange and black nine hung up its third straight victory Wednesday afternoon with a 13 to 9 win over Framingham High. The locals scored all their runs in two sessions with a 6-run cluster in the third and seven more in the sixth. Framingham took a one-run lead in the first frame on two passes, an error and a hit. Leo Bergen was on the mound for Newton and held the visitors at bay for three innings. Bernard Ryan then went to the mound and set them back for four more innings. In the eighth Coach Jones brought Bosworth in from the outfield and sent Ryan to Bosworth's garden post. Two hits, a walk, a hit batsman, and an error gave Framingham three runs. Johnny Waters, who has played practically every position on the Newton nine previously, went to the mound in the ninth. Framingham threw a scare into the Newton camp. With a man on base Plantedosi erred at second, the next batter popped to Waters but two passes forced in a run. Two singles, a walk, and a double by Hamm brought the Framingham run total for the inning up to five and for the game to nine. Ryan came to the mound again and with four pitched balls set Carey down on strike for the third out, ending the rally.

Newton's runs in the third and sixth were largely the result of a floundering. In the third Byrne drew a pass to open the last of the inning. Allie Dickinson, Jr., playing right field, drew a walk. Ryan was tossed out at first with the two runners moving up. Bosworth singled to score the two base-runners. Spillman popped out but successive home runs by Waters and Charlie Mascia brought the count up to five. Three singles in a row by Flagg, Morrison and Byrne, the latter being up for the second time in the inning, brought in the sixth run. McDermott grounded to short for the third out.

In the sixth Bosworth, Plantedosi, and Waters started Newton off again with three successive singles. Mascia brought home two runs with a double to left and Shea left the mound with Bagstrom coming in for Framingham. After Flagg grounded out the Newton attack again began to function. Singles by Byrne, McDermott, Ryan and Bosworth produced a plentitude of runs and the game was tucked away.

Rotary Club

"Distance is no longer the Master of man," said John F. Wheelock, Traffic Manager of the American Airways in discussing modern air transportation before the Newton Rotary Club at the Brae Burn Club House.

Regular air service is maintained between 65 major cities covering more than 10,000 miles. Mr. Wheelock stated that the airplane, due to the extreme care in management, with full consideration for the weather conditions, is not only on time but ahead of time relatively.

The club was tremendously impressed with the growth in air transportation from 2651 passengers in 1926 to nearly a quarter of a million in 1933.

The talk was illustrated with motion pictures of the service for Man, Mail and Merchandise.

"Scandals" Coming To Paramount Theatre

Rudy Vallee is preparing an autobiography. But it will never be published.

The male star of the first motion picture version of George White's "Scandals," coming Sunday to the Paramount Theatre, Newton, is doing his autobiography in motion pictures. So far as Vallee knows, this is the first time this has been attempted.

The famed crooner and radio star makes photography his hobby and out of this hobby has developed the practice of keeping a day by day record of his life on 16 millimeter film, the size used in home cameras. Starting with a still camera, his penchant for photographing his surroundings and his associates was expanded to an elaborate scale when he graduated to a motion picture camera. He has complete records of his vacation trips to his lodge at Kezar Lake in the Maine Woods. Eight hundred feet of this is in color taken in Autumn.

He has a record of his first appearance in the stage "Scandals" in which he has starred for George White. It shows in faithful detail all the processes of preparing the "Scandals" for public showing except that part involving his own activities, which he burlesques.

Nash Owners To Get New Car as Prize

Somewhere in this country, possibly in Newton, there is a Nash owner who is eligible to have free the 1,000,000 car—a 1934 Twin Ignition Big Six Nash Sedan—which rolled off the assembly line—here today. It will be awarded to the owner through a national contest to be conducted by Nash-LaFayette dealers everywhere. This memorable event in the life of Charles W. Nash was signalized at the factory this morning.

This interesting campaign which, in addition to discovering the actual length of Nash service, has as its object the demonstrating of new Nash and LaFayette cars to 1,000,000 people within 30 days, revolves around the symbol "1,000,000." To most Americans 1,000,000 stands for a sign of success, financial goal, life's ambition. To the Nash organization it is a mark of distinguished achievement and the starting point in the march toward a thousand thousand more satisfied owners.

To an old Nash owner somewhere in the country, however, it will have a more personal meaning, for it will bring him a brand new 1934 Twin Ignition Nash Big Six as a badge of honor for the car which has served him so faithfully through many long years. Mr. Nash, in a message to all factory and field representatives, stated he welcomed the occasion to give credit to factory men, distributors, dealers, sales and service men for the good will built up for Nash cars through satisfactory motoring enjoyed by owners, that has made them loyal to the product, and appreciative of the efforts of the entire Nash organization.

President E. H. McCarthy stated that his greatest gratification came from realizing that completion of the 1,000,000 car represented more than 20,000,000 miles of satisfactory motor car service. To him it represented gathering together all Nash owners and their families—numbering more than the total population of some States—and listening to their experiences. Many have toured more than 200,000 miles, while 50,000 and 100,000 are common, he added. Vice President C. H. Bliss urged all Nash owners to get in touch with local dealers at once and enter their cars in this contest. The Nash dealer in Newton is August Osterlund, Inc., 724 Beacon st., Newton Centre.

Parish Players to Stage American Premier of Play

Newton playgoers will be treated to the American premier of an English play when the Parish Players of Newton Highlands present "Spring on Wyn Hill," by F. Sladen Smith in the Parish House, Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 7th and 8th. This play of fantastic nature brings to the theatre an entirely new idea in play-writing acting and staging and it is with pardonable pride that the players present it to American audiences for the first time. The cast for this play is headed by Ernest Braithwaite and Rev. C. O. Farrar. Others include Dorothy Goddard, Dorothy French, Dorothy Shute-Brown, Ruth Yeager, Isabelle Williams, Catherine Carlick, Florence Forte, Howard Whitmore, Jr., Kemp Lambert, Ben Evans, Emery Leonard and E. Alan Small. This cast has been under the professional direction of Mrs. Winnifred Douglas.

On the same bill a one-act drama, "Thread O' Scarlet," directed by Robert Allingham will be presented with a cast including William Newby, Jack Purple, Edwin Drowns, John Allen, William Coan and Lloyd Yeager, all favorites with local audiences.

To Present Eighteenth Annual Benefit Performance Here

Making their eighteenth annual appearance in Newton, children of North Bennet Street Industrial School will present "Marenka," a musical folk play, at the Women's Club Hall in Newton Centre Saturday morning, May 19th, at 10:45 o'clock. More than forty children will appear in the cast of the production.

The oft-repeated question, "Where can one find amusement suitable for children?" will be capably answered by the North End production. "Marenka" is the delightful story of a boy and a girl in a Czechoslovak village, and through the miraculous processes of a dream, folk dances in welcome of Spring from Ireland, Spain, Russia, Czechoslovak, and Italy are performed. Needless to say, all of the misfortunes are righted and the difficulties disappear.

The production has been arranged and directed by Miss Clara D. Gornes, with Miss Irene A. Hamel directing the dance interludes. Miss Frances Vantil is pianist. Proceeds of the performance are devoted to sending children from the North End's crowded, narrow streets to Boxford Mothers' and Children's Camp, which is operated by North Bennet Street Industrial School.

Newton Centre Men's Club Holds Annual Meeting

The Men's Club of the First Church in Newton held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening in the parlors of the church in Newton Centre. The lecture was illustrated with some fifty slides. Officers elected for the coming year were Harold E. Kenney, president; Harry E. Moore, vice-president; and Herbert N. French, secretary. Alfred H. Whitney was reelected treasurer.

Other members of the cast will be Newton Douglas, Miss Peggy Robbins, Mrs. H. A. Pike, Leonard Rowley, Russell Loesch, Robert Polhemus, John Metz and Mrs. Charles Buttrick. There will be music and dancing following the play.

Mrs. Stearns of Waban Heads Musical Club

More Safety Assured For Drivers on New G-3 Tire

Increased safety for drivers of modern high-performance automobiles is assured by a new tire known as the "G-3," according to Phillip Bram, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"The tire got its name," says Mr. Bram, "from the symbol that was used to identify it in the laboratory and on the Goodyear test fleet during the years of its development to perfection. The G-3 All-Weather proved in all the rigorous tests to which it was subjected that it would average 43 per cent more non-skid mileage.

"Good tires are more important to automobiles today than ever before for several reasons. The modern automobile is faster than its predecessors, has smaller wheels, will start and stop more quickly, and needs tire traction to show its best performance. "With G-3 tires, an automobile will have the advantage of non-skid safety for 43 per cent more miles than with any tire ever offered previously by the Goodyear company.

"The difference between the new 'G-3' All-Weather and any previous tire may readily be detected by the naked eye. The 'G-3' has a wider and flatter tread, which is the primary fundamental of its increased non-skid life. The tire, in any given size, has more of its tread in contact with the road.

"This distributes the load and wear over a greater surface of the tire and at the same time increases the traction efficiency factor."

India's Fight for Freedom Told at Woman's Meeting

Anup Singh Dhillon spoke on "India's Fight for Freedom" at the afternoon meeting of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church on Wednesday. He is studying for the degree of Ph.D. in political science at Harvard having studied at the University of California when he first came to America.

He is also an alumnus of the University of Kansas. He believes that India's problem belongs in the world events of today. Great Britain has failed to keep her promise made when she entered the World War that of India's chance to become a separate dominion. Gandhi is fighting for this freedom but failing in this he works for better social, religious and humanitarian conditions for his people.

Mr. Dhillon feels that India is worse off than she was when Great Britain took possession 200 years ago. Then she was prosperous while poverty is everywhere now. Little is spent on education. About seven per cent of the men are literate and one per cent of the women. A large share of the budget is spent on the army. High officials are paid large salaries, the chief executive receiving $80,000 a year. When these officials retire they go to England to live giving no compensation to India.

The next meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Nellie Cooney, 61 West Pine st., Auburndale, on Monday, May 7, at 7:45 p. m. The subject will be "Faith." The leader will be Miss N. Louise Rand.

The fourth of a series of musicales by Mrs. Carolyn King Hunt, pianist, was given on Sunday afternoon, April 29th, at the home of Mrs. Joseph U. Wells of Otis st., Newtonville. Assisting artists were Josephine Clark, soprano, of Boston; and Dorothy Baker, cellist, and Marie Bartlett, dramatic reader, both of Newtonville. Mrs. Hunt is well-known in Boston and Worcester as a pianist. A buffet supper was served after the program.

WARD LINE CHANGES

Proposed changes in the Ward lines of the city are arousing considerable interest among citizens. The proposal to hold hearings in various sections of the city which was the subject of an editorial in this column a few months ago meets with general approval.

As we see the situation there are two general courses which may be followed. A new ward may be formed and most of the present ward lines permitted to exist in approximately their present locations or a re-division of the city may be made with seven wards as at present. What do each of these courses offer?

The formation of a new ward means an increase in the number of members of the Board of Aldermen or a change in representation from each ward so that there will be no more than the twenty-one members as at present. With eight wards it might be possible to elect two Ward-Aldermen from each ward and five Aldermen-at-large. This proposal has some merit. It also has obvious imperfections from the standpoint of representation in each ward from the sections of the city that in the membership of the Board of Aldermen is desirable.

The re-division of the city into seven wards of approximately equal voting strength has certain objections. One objection is that it destroys village identity. This is true to some extent and yet with three aldermen from each ward there should be representation in each ward from the sections of the city that go to make up that ward. The arbitrary designation of imaginary lines will not change the character of the city which for years has been made up of a number of practically separate communities.

There is much that may be said upon the subject and in the course of the next few months suggestions may be made at public hearings that will help to solve the difficulties of the situation.

NEW TEACHERS APPOINTED

The school committee this week announces the appointment of eight new teachers to the faculty staffs of various Newton schools. The most pleasing part of the announcement is that five of the eight appointees are Newton residents. We have always believed in the appointment of local people to local offices whenever possible and practical. The past few years have been difficult ones for recent graduates of training schools to find positions for which they have trained themselves—often at great expense and despite many handicaps. The Newton school system has long been noted for its high standards. The new appointees are well acquainted with the system and all that it aims to do. Superintendent Lund and the School Committee have shown the right attitude in recognizing the ability of local candidates for teaching positions.

SUPERINTENDENT LUND RESIGNS

About two years ago John Lund, superintendent of schools at Norwalk, Connecticut, was chosen to occupy a similar position in the Newton School department when that office was vacated in September 1932 by Ulysses G. Wheeler. At the last meeting of the Newton school committee Mr. Lund's resignation, to take effect the last of August, was accepted. In the nearly two years that John Lund has headed the Newton schools he has made many friends. The opportunity to realize a long cherished ambition, that of entering the field of teacher training, has presented itself and will be accepted. He will take with him to his new field of endeavor the best wishes of those who know him.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

Representative Sheridan of Maynard has been endeavoring to obtain legislation which will provide for the improving of Route 117—the State Highway from Waltham through Weston and Lincoln to Concord. This is the highway which Newton motorists usually take when they travel to Concord, Harvard, Groton, Fitchburg, the Mohawk Trail and other points North and Northwest. He did not meet with success. His bill was referred to next year's Legislature. In this endeavor Mr. Sheridan should receive the support of Newton's representatives in the Legislature. Route 117 carries a large amount of traffic. It is narrow and replete with curves. It was criticized many years ago by such an authority on traffic as Henry Ford. It should have been improved before the State constructed some of the new highways which have been, or are being built in this section of the Commonwealth.

The City of Newton recently refused to take over an 18 hole golf course; the former Albemarle Golf Club at West Newton. Some persons were quite disappointed at the failure of the city to acquire these 18 holes. Perhaps they were not aware that the city made a lot of holes last year, 2200 of them, and of this large number only 300 have been used for the purpose for which they were dug. As one of the CWA projects in Newton men were employed in digging the 2200 holes along streets in this city for the purpose of having shade trees planted in them. City Forester George Rogers asked $15,000 to purchase young trees to place in the holes. In his budget recommendation Mayor Weeks reduced this amount to $1000. So, only 300 trees could be bought to be planted along our streets; and 1900 holes remain treeless. These holes were filled with nice, rich loam after they had been dug. Grass seed has been planted on top of some of these holes. If grass grows on these spots it will be unusual. For little grass is able to grow along the edges of Newton streets. Traffic conditions make such growth difficult.

The action of Supt. of Schools John Lund and the Newton School Committee in electing five Newton young women as new teachers for the Newton Schools, out of eight appointments, is, in our opinion to be highly commended. Newton has long taken pride in its school system. The graduates of our schools are at least equal in ability, we believe, to those of schools in other cities and towns. Heretofore, the school department and school committees of this city would not appoint anyone a teacher unless that person had at least one year's experience in teaching. This practice precluded the appointment of any Newton girl following her graduation from college. She had to first obtain a position in some other city or town to gain the year's experience. Since the depression started in 1929 it has been increasingly difficult for Newton girls to obtain positions as teachers in other places because of the restriction of appointments in a large percentage of communities to local residents. Recognizing this condition, during the past few years a number of local girls were appointed as building assistants. This year the majority of new appointments were given to Newton residents.

In the past the School Department and School Committees of Newton have insisted on a high standard of ability in appointees to teachers positions and in keeping Newton schools free from politics. We hope and believe these policies will be continued. We believe they can be by appointing as teachers in our schools Newton residents whose scholastic records show that they are above the average.

ONE THING... AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

After studying the map of Newton and listening to various opinions it seems certain that even the "brain trust" at Washington could not re-establish our ward lines to the satisfaction of everybody.

Oddments

The pursuit of mystery continues. Here's one at our very doors. When they repainted the walls of the main building of the Newton Free Library they took down the large oil paintings. This had to be done to give the painters access to the walls and provided opportunity for refreshing the paintings and frames. Of course the frames had to be dusted and wiped which was a thorough process. One of the men thus engaged made an unusual discovery. Lodged in a crevice in the back of one of the frames was the skeleton of a sparrow. The mystery is, "How long had it been there?" The pictures have been cleaned within a comparatively short time and if the little creature was trapped before that time it was in luck. It's true, providing, of course, that there is a radio equipment. One day last week I found a friend of mine sitting in a parked car and apparently greatly excited. I knew it was not his car and I wondered what he was doing there without hat or coat. He beckoned me to join him which really was unnecessary for I was going to make an investigation anyway. "Berger just made a home run!" he exclaimed as I approached. Then I learned that he was listening to a baseball game over the air. Furthermore, that parked cars are frequently "borrowed" for such purpose by "fans" unable to get to the game itself.

Among Those Present

Frankly, I didn't get as much as I expected from my inspection of the streamlined train, the Burlington Zephyr, at the South Station last week. What it did to me was simple enough and not especially thrilling. Made me think I'd like to take a pleasant railroad journey, even in the old-style train and also gave me the feeling that I was standing in line at the box office of a theatre. Having done neither for a long time and possessing no hope of doing so in the immediate future I came away slightly depressed.

Gazing upon super-luxury accommodations or in anything else makes me feel small. "Those things belong only to the well-favored and the great," I counseled myself. "They are not for you." At the streamlined "preview" things happened to sort of rub it in. In the first place there were hundreds and hundreds ahead of me. Sheep-like they were falling into line and shuffling their way along through the restricted area and then doubling on themselves and boarding the train. Anybody who went through the regular routine will tell you that they weren't allowed to see the operating cab of the Diesel engine but were given a chance to walk through one of the passenger coaches and half of another. Just when your footsteps would ordinarily lead you to the magnificent observation compartment you found yourself making an exit and with only a glimpse of this palatial part of the train and that through the windows.

My reaction to the whole thing convinced me there was too much "on the outside looking in" and that doing the lock-step in a long line of men and women isn't much of a way to inspect a streamlined or any other kind of a train. They didn't allow you to stand still, let alone sit down. And I was eager for a rest after the long wait and parade. Of course nobody asked me to go through the ordeal so really I haven't any right to complain.

Ups and Down of Thirst

It might be called one of the benefits of repeal but a lot of folks have yet to be convinced that repeal has produced any benefits. Therefore, we vere cold of the past winter. Newton will be less beautiful this spring and summer with a large percentage of its hedges gone. If we have more winters like the last one, persons in this climate will have to abandon privet hedges for the more hardy barberry hedges. The latter cost more than privet, grow more slowly and are less ornate. But they are tough shrubs. And poorly trained kids don't abuse and destroy barberry hedges as they do privet. Barberry bushes are kind of thorny and can discourage mean youngsters from running through them.

By order of Mayor Weeks the flags on public buildings in Newton have been at half-mast the past three days as a tribute to the late Thomas J. Lyons. This mark of respect was well deserved by "Tom" Lyons. A native and life-long resident of this city, he was always an enthusiastic booster for Newton. He gave freely of his time and talents in the service of Newton. He was an Alderman for three years and for over twenty years he had been a member of the Playground Commission. He did favors for hundreds of residents of Newton and was popular with all classes. Among his most loyal friends were the colored people of West Newton and they have given sincere evidence of their grief at his passing. Mr. Lyons' active interest in civic and political affairs in Newton can well be emulated by more of our citizens.

Guidance in the Junior High School

In our interpretation of guidance as expressed in the section entitled "The General Aims of Guidance," the guidance processes which have had their beginning in the elementary school, with those changes in emphasis that are consonant with the changes that have taken place in the human material with which we are dealing. It holds that guidance given in the junior high school can be adequate and effective only if it evolves from that planned study of individual growth and adjustment which has taken place since the child has entered school.

In addition, therefore, to the continuance of the processes which already have been begun in the elementary grades, guidance as we interpret it at this educational level assists the incoming pupils in orienting themselves in a new educational environment. It gives to the pupils a broad perspective of the educational organization, so that they may see their own programs in relation to the purpose of education as a whole. It provides pupils with those experiences that will enable them to have a clearer understanding of their interests, attitudes, and capacities, in order that they may make intelligent decisions. It enables them to acquire a background of information and experiences concerning educational opportunities and of occupational information, so that they make intelligent educational and vocational plans. It serves as a means of assisting them in the further acquisition of efficient study habits, thereby increasing personal effectiveness.

Because of adolescent changes, the problems of social and emotional adjustments of junior high school pupils are of increasing importance. Guidance in problems of this sort will assist the individual to become better adjusted to the school as a social community, as well as enable him later to become a socially and emotionally well-adjusted member of adult society. Through an ever-widening circle of group relationships, efforts are to be made to develop a proper understanding of human relationship and civic consciousness. Guidance in the development of interests, skills, and appreciation that will assist pupils in making worthy use of leisure gains significance at this level.

Guidance in the High School

Guidance in the senior high school continues the planning and adjustment already in process. In addition to the recurrent problems met at earlier levels, the problems of growing personalities, developing social needs, awakening idealism and the emerging capacity for leadership on the part of the young people require wise and sympathetic counsel. Guidance at this level also places emphasis upon the development of the abilities of pupils to judge and evaluate, so that the manifold activities for which there is freedom of choice may be intelligently selected.

Continuing opportunities must be provided for providing further information and experiences that will enable pupils to make intelligent life plans or to revise those existing life plans in the light of further developments. The adjustment of the pupil and the curriculum must enable him to make the most of his opportunities within the school and adequate preparation for those without. Guidance in the choice of a life plan must aim to prepare for the best ultimate adjustment of the pupil to that part of the vocational world where he will accomplish most, both for himself and for society.

It must aid in promoting those pupil relationships that will assist them in learning to live together harmoniously and co-operatively, and must be concerned with developing intelligent followship as well as potential leadership. It must aim to assist in cultivating habits of action for social good in a period when shifting standards made intelligent moral decision difficult. It must assist pupils in replacing unhealthy personality traits and undesirable emotional habits with more favorable ones, and guide toward the choice of better and finer modes of self expression, and the development of leisure-time attitudes, skills and appreciations.

Finally, there must be established those provisions for rendering counseling service to those who have left the Newton schools until such time as they are satisfactorily adjusting themselves in the occupational world or in the furtherance of their educational plans.

will sidestep all controversy and get down to impartial impressions. The "it" referred to is the mammoth thermometer used to advertise a certain beverage which was not supposed to be consumed during the prohibition era. Available now to all who have the price and are of legal age, its high qualities, the adjective is not mine, are described on a billboard attached either to the roof of a fairly low building or set up on a vacant lot of real estate.

On the assumption that whatever the temperature at that moment may be a drink is not only desirable but the better part of wisdom, you are invited to quaff the sparkling brew. It would be rash for me in my complete ignorance to indorse the idea and I have no intention of so doing even by implication. Neither would I urge any friend to make such an experiment. Personally I have never had any desire to adopt the suggestion. I do, however, consult these thermometers to inform myself as to the status of the mercury. I assure you. Having ascertained, more or less accurately the meteorological conditions I have stopped there. Never have I been overcome with a desire to thereupon dash into a tavern, tap-room, cafe, restaurant, lunch room, dining room or club.

On the contrary I have followed a life-long habit—that of wondering whether I was too cold or too hot or what. I may find it frigid and but on up my coat or I may find it warm and start to shed something. To pour myself a libation or have it poured for me has never entered my mind. The reason is not as noble as you may think. I cannot become thirsty looking at a thermometer any more than I can by consulting a clock.

Runaway Horse at West Newton Hits Baby Carriage

A horse drawing the junk wagon of Joseph Micman of 125 Pine St., West Newton, became frightened by a train at the Chestnut street bridge in that village on Wednesday morning. The horse ran down Chestnut st. and as it turned onto Washington st. galloped along the sidewalk towards Highland st. Mrs. Margaret Castoldi of 55 A. Burdette ave., West Newton, was wheeling her child, Evelyn, 2 1/2 years old in a carriage. The woman saw the frightened horse approaching and endeavored to push the carriage up the steps in front of the West Newton Savings Bank. She did not succeed. Part of the junk wagon hit the baby carriage and hurled the child out. The little girl received cuts on her face but escaped serious injuries. The horse continued along to Putnam st. and losing its pep as it climbed the steep grade, halted.

Committee that it be rejected. Rep. Baker in charge of the committee's report stated that if any effort was made to reduce the hours of labor it should apply to all classes of employees and not to any particular group. He further stated that the reduction of the hours of labor for this group would necessitate the employment of nearly 2000 additional employees thus adding to the payroll of the state nearly two million dollars. It would take another three million dollars to provide dormitories to house these new employees. Rep. Luitwieler and Brimblecom "were recorded against the bill on the roll-call. This bill will also go to the Senate next week where it should find difficulty in passing.

On a roll-call vote on Tuesday the House ordered to a third reading a bill providing for regulation of public utility companies. The bill was substituted last week for an adverse report of the Committee on Power and Light. Arguments of those defending the committee's report were that the bill in question did not regulate the holding companies—that with practically all such companies here engaged in interstate commerce the matter was one for Federal regulation.

Weeks Junior H. S.

For the past week everything has been bustling in preparation for the annual concert and operetta, "Alphabet City," which will be given in the school auditorium at eight fifteen tonight. More than two hundred students are taking part in the performance and the entertainment, judging from the rehearsals, will be the biggest and best of its kind in the three year history of the J. W. Weeks Junior High School.

The ninth grade again displayed its versatility when several members of III E presented three scenes from Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" at the assembly of April 25. James Gridley as Shylock, Malcolm Hardy as Bassanio, Julia Mather in the role of Portia, and Harvey Isham as the bankrupt Venetian merchant, were outstanding. They were ably supported by Fred Nichols, Louis Young, Arnold Gay, Everett Daniels, and Barbara Bartlett. Rodman Finchback and Charles Golay costumed as Elizabethan stage hands changed the scenes before the audience's eyes and added much to the humor and atmosphere of the performance.

The opening games of the baseball season were not too auspicious for the Weeks' Varsity and Junior Varsity Teams. On April 26 the Varsity was defeated by the Day first team to the tune of 10-1. On the same afternoon the Day Junior Varsity defeated the Weeks' second team by a score of 17-13.

Approximately three hundred students have signed up for tennis for the next few weeks. The official Varsity Tennis season begins on May 9 when the Weeks' team will meet the Bigelow boys on our home courts. Mr. Hayden Pearson as the Weeks' coach.

Annual Meeting of Newton Federation

The Newton Centre Woman's Club again has offered its hospitality to the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the Annual Meeting to be held on Monday, May 7th. The day's program will begin with a luncheon at one p. m., to be served under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, chairman of the Federation Social committee, who will be assisted by representatives from the Social committees of the different clubs. The past presidents of the Federation will be seated at the head table, and it is hoped that Mrs. George G. Phipps, the founder and first president (1895), will be able to attend. After the luncheon with its attendant pleasures, there will be a reception until 2:30 o'clock when the business meeting will be in order. The delegates from the clubs and associate organizations are requested to make an effort to be present to hear the important reports (as listed in this column last week) and to participate in the voting, which is restricted to members of the Executive Board, past presidents, and delegates. The financial reports will be read by Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, treasurer, and Mrs. Harry E. Moore, Finance chairman. The Nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Francis H. Williams, will submit the ballot.

The Program committee, through the chairman, Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, has arranged for Mr. John Lund, Superintendent of the Newton Schools, to make a short address, to be followed by music. The Annual Meeting is always an occasion for particularly fine music, and this year, Mrs. Ratzburg is greatly pleased to have secured Edmond Boucher, Baritone, who will be accompanied by Edwin Biltcliffe. Mr. Boucher combines with his magnificent voice a rare gift of interpretation giving to his songs both beauty and interest. He has been featured as soloist with the Peoples' Symphony Orchestra of Boston, also with La Touraine Coffee Hour Orchestra over the radio, as well as having been heard in concert in many cities here and in Canada. Mr. Biltcliffe has an enviable reputation as an accompanist and is frequently heard on programs of women's clubs. Please be in store for those who hear this musical program. The Annual Meeting is the last of the three open Federation meetings for the season and all club members are cordially invited to attend it.

COMING EVENTS

Newtonville Woman's Club

A post-season event which is being anticipated with considerable pleasure by the members and friends of the Newtonville Woman's Club will take place at the Club House on Washington park from May 7th to 12th inclusive. The Art committee, consisting of Mrs. Carl G. Cutler, chairman; Mrs. Orin E. Skinner, Mrs. Charles J. Connick, and Mrs. Francis G. Ingraham, will hold an Exhibition at the Gallery each day from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., of water-colors by contemporary Boston artists. This is an unusual and showing, the exhibitors being artists of established reputation for their fine work. There will be no charge for admission, and the public is invited most cordially to visit the Gallery, where tea will be poured each afternoon by a guest president of a neighboring club, assisted by members of the Newtonville Club's Executive Board and Art committee, who will be hostesses. The Gallery entrance is at the side door of the Club House.

Community Club To Hold Rummage Sale at Newton

The Newton Community Club will give a RUMMAGE SALE on Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, in the store formerly occupied by the Kane Furniture Co., at the corner of Centre and Jefferson sts., Newton, the doors being open at 9:30 a. m. each day. Any one who has articles to contribute is asked to leave them at the store on Wednesday or Thursday when Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, who is in charge of the sale, will be at the store to receive them after 11 o'clock on Wednesday and all day Thursday.

Edwin P. Crawe, to offer the prayer. The tables were decorated with yellow candles and lavender sweet peas with jonquils, the members who served carrying out the color scheme in their aprons and frilled headbands. It was necessary to use the stage and the directors' room opening from the social hall to accommodate all those who attended the luncheon, after which the members gathered in the main auditorium for the regular meeting and entertainment.

Letters and messages were read from the charter members who were unable to be present, also congratulations and greetings from the Newton Federation and other clubs. Mrs. Percy E. Woodward asked the co-operation of the clubwomen in the matter of supporting the showing of better films at the Newton Paramount Theatre, and the president announced the Art Week to be observed from May 7th to 12th in the Club House Gallery. Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, recording secretary, combined the reports of the several chairmen into a most interesting general report which showed the enthusiasm displayed alike by the officers and members to advance the Club along the lines planned for it by its founders, namely, to promote charitable, social, and intellectual activities.

The award of the regular $200 scholarship was announced to a Newtonville young lady who is a member of the National Honor Society.

Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney, the Club treasurer, read her report, showing, among other items, that the gifts and philanthropies amounted to $531.70. There have been many improvements made in the Club's home during the season just passed, as recommended by the Maintenance committee, and under the capable supervision of Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, House chairman. Three proposed amendments to the by-laws were adopted, the first in regard to the length of the term of office of the treasurer. In the matter of revising this by-law, the Board in suggesting this change pays tribute to the unflinching endeavor and the efficient capabilities of Mrs. Whitney in handling the affairs of her office, particularly throughout the period of transition following the purchase of the Club House. The ballot was read by Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, chairman of the Nominating committee, and the vote was unanimous for the election of the officers (as given in the Woman's Club column last week). Mrs. Crowe continuing as president.

Mrs. Herbert F. Blair moved a vote of thanks to the Executive Board, which was followed by the president's expression of appreciation of the board's co-operation throughout the year. Silent tribute was paid to the memories of Mrs. Frank F. Carr, and Miss Grace Allen, a charter member. At the close of the business, two interesting and most welcome speakers were Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, president from 1906 to 1910, and Mrs. John W. Byers, chairman of the charitable work from 1900 to 1904 and treasurer from 1910 to 1919. They recalled incidents and events in the life of the Club, and with Mrs. Soden and Mrs. Bridgman, made a delightful group, linking the present to the past.

The Glee Club, which has established the precedent of furnishing the music for the Annual Meeting, was heard in the cantata "Lady of Shalott," by Bendell, directed and accompanied by William Ellis Weston. The soloists were Mrs. William F. Madden, Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, and Mrs. L. Ivan Pettys. The closing number was a skit, "Suzanna Skids," by Carolyn Barr, characters being taken by Mary Cox, Estella Grammer, Eva Williams, Charlotte Steitz, Edith Thomas, Olive Rice, Marian Prescott, Naomi Kuebler, Marguerite Woodward, Abbie Thornton, and Marion Wheeler.

Plans are being formed for next season's activities, with a Bazaar as a fall feature. The meeting of the new Board will be held on May 9th at 10 a. m.

Five Newton Girls Elected by Simmons College Students

Results of the Simmons College elections held recently were announced last week by the college weekly paper, the News. Among the students elected to hold offices in the various student organizations next year, were five Newton girls: Mary Louise Imrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Imrie, 314 Otis street, West Newton; Evelyn Margaret Olen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Olen, 14 Eden avenue, West Newton; Janet Ethel Tuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart S. Tuller, 19 Ranso road, Newton Centre; Eleanor Bolster, daughter of Mrs. Fred R. Bolster, 222 Lowell avenue, Newtonville; and Clara Mary Cummings, daughter of Rev. J. E. Cummings, 49 Pelham st., Newton Centre. All five girls are graduates of Newton High School.

Miss Imrie has been chosen as one of the two Student Government Representatives of the class of 1936. To be chosen for this office is one of the highest honors a class can give one of its members, for the position carries a high degree of responsibility. Miss Imrie will also act next year as chairman of the Christian Science Club and as one of the assistant editors of the Weekly News. Although only in her sophomore year at present, she has been active in many college organizations, being a member of the Glee Club, the Y. W. C. A., the Dramatic Club, the Athletic Association, and an assistant correspondent from Simmons to the Boston Transcript.

Miss Olen, who is also a member of the class of 1936, has been elected as the English School representative to the class executive board. Simmons is made up of nine different schools, and a member of each school is chosen to represent it in the class councils. Miss Olen is also a member of the Glee Club and of the Y. W. C. A.

Another member of the English School, Janet Tuller, will act next year as secretary of the English Club, which was formed last fall, and which is already a strong literary organization in the college. Miss Tuller, who belongs to the Glee Club and the Y. W. C. A., was also chosen as Assistant News Editor of the college paper. She is in the same class as Miss Imrie and Miss Olen.

Eleanor Bolster has been elected as Chairman of Activities for the Dramatic Club. She has been on the staff of the college year book, Microcosm, and during her sophomore year was a member of the committee that had charge of the Sophomore Luncheon, at which Simmons girls for the first time wear their class rings officially. Clara Cummings will act next year as Librarian of the Musical Association, of which she is a member. This is her first year at Simmons. She was in the class of 1933 at Newton High School.

Newton Students Prominent In Tufts Activities

Among the Newton High School students, who are now at Tufts College and are prominent in extra-curricular activities, are Mr. Leroy J. Benoit, a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, and a Sophomore, who is news editor of the Tufts College Weekly and is on the Editorial Staff of the Tuftonian, the Tufts College literary magazine, as well as being a member of the French Club; and Mr. Adam Haug, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Haug, 68 Walden st., also a member of the sophomore class and of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity; is active in dramatics at Tufts College.

Mr. Leighton G. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gorham Harris, 185 Highland ave., who was recently initiated into the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, played on the freshman basketball squad.

Mr. Henry J. Vachon, son of Mr. Edward Vachon, 35 Jasset st., a member of the freshman class, wrestled on the freshman team in the 145 pound class.

Melvyn E. Ehrlich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Ehrlich, 25 Lancaster rd., a freshman, played on the freshman soccer team, is a member of the German Club, the Minora Club, and is on the staff of the Tufts Weekly.

Garden Club to Hold Flower Show at Newton

The Newton Garden Club will hold a Flower Show in the parlors of the Channing Unitarian Church, Newton, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 22nd and 23rd. All Newton residents are invited to plan exhibits for which no entry charge will be made. Eight classes will be prepared.

Mrs. J. H. Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer, and Mrs. Emery are chairmen of the committee for Class 1, Garden Flowers grown by exhibitors; Mrs. Robert Howard and Mrs. N. P. Cutler are chairmen for Class 2, Pairs of vases; Mrs. R. W. Gallagher Fails In Effort to Keep Lunchroom Closed

Aldermen Hold Up Licenses—Then Vote to Renew Them

The action of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night in granting renewals of common victualler licenses to three lunch rooms in this city, after the Board had held up these renewals for a couple of weeks, and the lunch rooms affected had been compelled to close for a week following May 1, was the cause of criticism on the part of Alderman Gallagher. When the Aldermen at the meeting on April 16 voted to renew the licenses and permits which must be renewed annually in certain lines of business, several out of the large number of common victualler licenses were renewed because of complaints which had been made regarding the manner in which these places had been conducted. Three of the lunch rooms so affected were those of George Caris (George's) at 291 Centre st., Newton Corner; John (formerly Leon) Aharonian, 1223 Chestnut st., Upper Falls; and Vartan Kosroffian, 1205 Chestnut st., Upper Falls.

The Licenses Committee, which deals with the granting of licenses, held a meeting on Wednesday, May 2, and voted to change its attitude on these three places by recommending that their common victualler licenses be renewed. At the meeting of the Board on Monday night this recommendation of the Licenses Committee was accepted without any discussion. This action was taken early in the meeting, when Alderman Gallagher was not present. Later, when he arrived, he asked if this matter had been voted upon and he was informed that it had. The Ward 1 Alderman then remarked that he would have to do some explaining to people at Newton Corner because of the renewal of the license at George's Lunch.

President Collins suggested to Gallagher that he could move for a reconsideration of the vote. The Ward 1 Alderman answered that inasmuch as he had not voted on this matter, he could not (according to parliamentary procedure) move for reconsideration. Collins ruled that he could, and he did. Alderman Grebenstein seconded the motion. Alderman Floyd then threw a monkey-wrench in the works by stating that Gallagher had signed the license slips for the renewals of the licenses of the lunch rooms in question. Gallagher said he had done so inadvertently, the slips being among the large number which were passed out to the Aldermen for their signatures. Alderman Temperley then offered to make the motion for reconsideration if there was any question as to Alderman Gallagher not having the right to do so.

The vote for reconsideration was then taken and not carried. Those who voted in favor were Aldermen Chandler, Gallagher, Grebenstein, Gordon, Holden and Temperley. Those voting against reconsideration were—Bowen, Cordingley, Cronin, Farrell, Floyd, Goddard, Hill, Mansfield, Hutchinson, Jamieson, McKay, Melcher, Sprout. No reasons were given for the granting of these licenses after they had been withheld and no reasons were given when these licenses were not renewed as to why they were not renewed.

Kiwanians Hear Of Impressions By Englishman

Pre-Visit Impressions Were Caricature of Real American

Impressions of an Englishman during his first stay in America were expressed by Noel G. Cottrell in an address before the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday. Mr. Cottrell, of the Waverley Road Secondary School of Birmingham, England, is exchanging visits with Mr. Roy C. Rinker of the Newton School Department. His address proved to be one of the most interesting delivered before the Newton Kiwanians this year. Mr. Cottrell, at the very beginning of his talk, told of the impressions he held regarding Americans before he came to this country. His impressions were gained from motion pictures, from unpleasant tourists of United States and from the novels of Sinclair Lewis. All three sources seemed to be typically American, yet the picture they present is by no means flattering. Mr. Cottrell declared, after living for nearly a year among Americans, he is of the opinion that the picture is a caricature and not that of the real American.

On his first day in Newton High School as exchange teacher, he was, he believes, a big disappointment to the students. He didn't wear a monocle; he did not arrive at school on horseback behind a pack of hounds; he didn't smoke a pipe and he didn't carry a stick. Moreover, he smiled occasionally and in general he was a disappointment to the Newton boys and girls who had a preconceived picture of what a typical Englishman would be like.

In brief, he said that Englishmen and Americans have false ideas about each other which can be corrected only by more frequent contact and closer observation. Some things which amused Mr. Cottrell were corn on the cob and the method of eating it. Drinking ice water and eating hot muffins, also typically American habits, were new experiences he enjoyed.

Students in his classes "horsed" him a bit at first by asking him to spell words like seize and buzzer, so when he urged him to spell Zeider Zee he appealed to associates on the teaching staff and found that the loud guffaws which followed his spelling were stimulated by the "zed" which he, like all Englishmen, pronounced for every letter Z. In the months he has been a teacher at Newton High School, however, he has become extremely popular with the students.

The Kiwanis speaker next week will be Charles B. Floyd of Auburn, Maine, who will talk on the subject "The Royal Sport of Bird Banding."

Aldermen Argue Over Filling Sta. At Upper Falls

Eighteen Foot Strip of Land Near Worcester Pike

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the granting of a permit for a building in conjunction with a gasoline filling station at 1295 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls caused considerable discussion. This locus is a narrow strip of land on Boylston street at the northwest corner of Chestnut street. Some years ago a permit was granted for a filling station on the lot of land at this corner. This station changed ownership a couple of times. When the State widened Boylston street recently for the construction of the Worcester turnpike, an overpass was built to carry the pike above Chestnut street, and a viaduct was built as part of this overpass. On either side, and below the overpass is a narrow service road. In this work it was necessary to take most of the lot where the filling station was located. For the taking of this property the State awarded $33,000 to the owner of filling station site. Notwithstanding that such a large amount was paid, instead of taking the whole lot, the

Second Annual Newton Charity Horse Show Is Outstanding Event; Will Surpass That of Last Year

Eighty Boxes Practically Sold Out as Show Committee Expects Large Attendance at Walworth Estate Tomorrow—Many Prizes and Trophies—Over One Hundred Entries in Twenty-Eight Classes

All that is needed to make the second annual Newton Charity Horse Show to be held tomorrow a success is good weather. From progress reported by the various committees at the final meeting of the Show Committee it is indicated that this year's event will surpass that of 1933 in every detail. It is easily the outstanding sportsman's event in Newton for many years. Profiting by the experience of last year's committee those in charge of the coming affair have organized extensively and are functioning efficiently. The beautiful grounds of the Walworth estate at the corner of Centre and Mill sts., Newton Centre, are in readiness to accommodate the large number of entries and the large number of spectators interested in the program of events. The Mayor's Relief Committee and the Y. W. C. A., in whose benefit the show is being held, are selling tickets and it is estimated that more than one thousand tickets have already been sold. Pleasant weather tomorrow will insure the attendance of hundreds of others.

Hugh Nawn, co-chairman of the program committee with William J. Dan-idson, reported that his committee has met with remarkable co-operation. The advertising in the show program is expected to be nearly double that of the 1933 program.

The report of the trophy committee of which Mrs. William H. Danforth is chairman with Mrs. Oliver A. Johnson assisting, also amazed the show committee. Cash and trophies on hand and promised indicate that the show will be a banner affair for the exhibitors who are fortunate enough to score victories. The per-

Percy R. Ziegler is chairman of the grounds committee. Other officers of the show include William H. Rice, treasurer; Miss Barbara Ziegler, secretary; Ralph N. Milliken, chairman of concessions; E. Clifford Potter, chairman of reception; and Arthur C. Walworth, Jr., chairman of publicity. Also working for the show as members of the committee with William J. Dan-idson, reported that his committee has met with remarkable co-operation.

The fund, administered by a Board of three trustees, provides financial aid to small property owners, and the amount of its work has so increased during the past year that office space is necessary to properly handle the work.

Arthur C. Dunmore of West Newton, is chairman of the Board; Albert T. Stuart of Newton Centre is secretary, and Harry W. Fitts of Newton is the third member. After the Trustees have established their quarters they will announce regular office hours, during which time applicants for assistance under the Cousens Fund regulations will be interviewed.

Cousens Trustees to Have City Hall Hqs

Object To Permit For Filling Station

Residents of the section in the vicinity of Woodward and Boylston streets, Newton Highlands came to the meeting of the Aldermen at City Hall on Monday night to protest against the petition of Walter E. Jewell for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 1007-1009 Boylston street.

Ten Years of Boys' Work Feature at Rotary Club

Scholarships and Loans Aided Through College Course

Ten years of service through annual scholarships and loans to 32 young men of Newton was the key note of the tenth anniversary of the Boys' Work Committee of the Newton Rotary Club at their regular meeting. These young men are graduates of our schools and have through this aid been able to continue in higher institutions of learning.

Some of the boys who were recipients of the benefactions of the club were guests of the club and spoke briefly of their work in college. Those who spoke were: Thomas Mariner, Boston University, Robert Cotton, Bowdoin College, Asa Fiske, Princeton College, Michael Altieri, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Albert Pitt, Boston University, Charles Lindsay, Vesper George School of Art.

This service of the local club has been through loans to men in college and scholarships to graduates of our Newton High School.

The loan service started within a year after the club was founded in 1923 and was reviewed by Horace Orr who has had charge of this department. During these ten years $5517 was lent to promising graduates of the Newton High School who had made notable records in college.

The scholarship awards over the ten year period were briefly outlined by Paul E. Ellicker. The awards by years were:

1924—Lawrence Peakes, Colby.
1925—Michael Altieri, M. I. T.
1926—Harold Carver, Brown; Herbert Holmstrand, Boston University.
1927—Paul E. Bang, M. I. T.
1928—Edwin F. McLaughlin, M. I. T.
1929—Norman Payne, Dartmouth.
1930—Blakeslee Wright, Bowdoin.
1931—Thomas Mariner, Boston University.

1932—Stanley T. Johnson, M. I. T.
1933—Robert Cotton, Bowdoin; Robert Ohler, University of Maine.

Many of these boys made outstanding records in college, two being awarded Phi Beta Kappa, six winning more scholarships in college, one being awarded the Buck Scholarship at B. U., a scholarship that is highly valued, covered all expenses for college and graduate schools for six years or more.

Alderman Objects To Gravel Pit In Oak Hill Section

Gallagher Against Renewing Wilbur Permit on Wiswall Road

Gravel pits in Newton were severely scored at the meeting of the Newton Aldermen on Monday night. The discussion started just as President Collins was about to adjourn the meeting. A petition had been received from George S. Wilbur for a renewal of the permit for the sand hoppers and other structures and machinery used at the Highland Sand & Gravel pit near Wiswall rd. and Dedham st., Oak Hill. Just as the meeting was about to adjourn, Alderman Grebenstein asked that a hearing be assigned on this petition at the next meeting of the Board on May 21 in order to have this matter passed on before the present permit expires.

Alderman McKay then referred to the abandoned pit off Beethoven ave. between Newton Highlands and Waban. This pit was operated by the Garden City Sand & Gravel Company on land owned by G. Howard Frost. Mr. McKay said that the operators of this pit had promised time and time again when they applied for renewals (Continued on Page 2)

Annual Musical Field Day Of Newton Bands

The annual musical field day of the five bands and four drum, bugle and fife corps of the several schools of the city will be held next Tuesday afternoon. As usual the event will take place on Claffin field, Newtonville in front of the Dickinson Stadium. A parade will precede the program of music to be offered. In the event of inclement weather the Field Day will be postponed until Thursday, May 17th.

The parade will form at the High School and will march at 2:45 p. m. The route to be followed is Elm road to Lowell avenue, to Highland avenue, to Walnut street, to Washington Park, to Park place, to Cabot street, to Walnut street and thence to the stadium. The program on the field will start at 3:30. School and city officials will be among the invited guests. No admission charge is made and the attendance of 5000 persons at the 1933 Field Day is expected to be exceeded.

While the outstanding feature of an hour's program is that of the entire bands playing together several additional numbers will be outstanding. Charles R. Spaulding, director of the band and orchestra at the High School has arranged for several striking numbers. Among these are the playing of 75 drummers, another of 75 trumpeters accompanied by band music. A third outstanding feature will be the twirling of batons by some thirty or forty drum majors.

During the afternoon Hull street will be closed to automobile traffic and spectators are asked to use the Hull street entrances to the stadium.

Playground Dept. Makes Annual Plea

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that our playgrounds rank among the finest in the country, but many of us may not know that our children have the reputation for making excellent handicraft from discarded materials.

Every year a plea is made asking housewives to save odds and ends gathered during the year, empty spoons, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, Xmas cards, envelope linings, embroidery material, felt, wool or articles suitable for prizes. The answer to this plea is always generous and the materials aid in keeping five hundred young children busy and happy during the summer season. If you have a donation, the playground truck will call for it at your house if you will call Centre Newton 4700, the Playground Department.

Alderman Opposes Gravel Pit in Oak Hill Section of the permit to use this pit, that they would follow the grades specified by the City Engineer and that the pit would not be excavated below certain levels. He stated the pit has been abandoned and is a bad eyesore. He commented that fortunately the deep pit which was dug at Newton Lower Falls on Washington st., opposite Beacon st., has been largely filled in and this nuisance ended, but the outlook at the Beethoven st. pit is not bright. President Collins of the Board said that City Engineer Morse had told him that all the requirements specified had been met by the owners of the Beethoven st. pit. Alderman Gallagher said that the City Engineer could not give him this information when he had asked for it earlier in the meeting. Gallagher asserted that the Beethoven ave. pit is a disgrace to the city and we are up against the same thing at Oak Hill. He said these gravel pits in Newton are a sad commentary on our time. He remarked: "Each time I voted for renewing the permits for the operation of these pits I went down a notch in my self-respect. The pit at Lower Falls is, I believe, being filled in by the bank which now owns this property." The Ward 1 Alderman stated that he does not think Mr. Wilbur has kept his promises regarding the filling-in at the Oak Hill pit.

Alderman Grebenstein arose to the defense of Wilbur, and said the latter had kept the grades he promised to keep. Grebenstein said the place where Wilbur has excavated at the Highland Sand & Gravel Company at Oak Hill is not really a pit. He stated that Wilbur has much more equipment at Oak Hill than was at the Lower Falls pit and can fill the pit there to grade in one month's time, if necessary. He commented: "We all know Wilbur is an upright man." Alderman Jamieson also defended Wilbur and said that when the permit for the Oak Hill pit was renewed two years ago, City Engineer Morse stated that Wilbur had filled every condition. Alderman Gordon said the change of ownership of the pit at Lower Falls is responsible for the filling in of the big hole which was there. He said the new owners are filling the place because they expect a highway to go through this property, and by filling this pit they can sell the area for building lots and recover some of the money loaned on it.

Alderman Holden said that after he has been fighting against gravel pits for four years he is glad that other Aldermen are seeing the light. Alderman Temperley said that if those Aldermen who favor the renewal of the permit for the operation of the pit at Oak Hill would go over and view it, and get the opinions of Oak Hill residents regarding it, they might change their attitude.

NEWTON PLACES FOURTH IN WORCESTER TRACK MEET--FITZ LOSES

Newton High's track team scored eighteen points in the annual Worcester Polytechnic Institute Intercollegiate meet last Saturday at Worcester to take fourth place. Lawrence High won first place honors handsily with 35½ points. Brockton followed with 25½, and Everett with 19 finished third just ahead of the orange and black.

The most spectacular race of the day was the mile run in which Tom Fitzgerald of Newton was defending the title he has held for the past two years. Fitz stepped out at the gun and lead the pack for three of the four laps. Little Ray Small of Sutton High clung right to Fitz all the way. Going into the gun lap the little fellow passed the lanky Newton boy and continued to draw away. With about a hundred yards to go Fitz cut down the Sutton lad's lead a little but he had enough reserve left to keep him out in front by fifteen yards at the tape. Fitz placed second ahead of Paulding of Everett.

Not a single first place was won by a Newton youth but it took a judge's decision in the low hurdles to shut out Wittens. The final was a nip and tuck affair between the Newton youth and Underwood of Everett. The latter hit two of the barriers and staggered across the finish line off balance. Whittons caught the Everett lad at the last hurdle and in the opinion of many spectators broke the tape first. The judges gave Underwood first and Whittons second.

Roger Liscomb of Newton took a third in the high hurdles and Quigley a third in the 100-yard dash to add to Newton's points. Allan Freeman scored in the quarter and half-mile. In the first event he placed second behind Lyman Gillis, Brockton star. After a short rest he ran in the first heat of three against time in the 880. He won this heat in 2 min 7 3/5 sec., but his time was good enough for only a third place in the point division.

The discus throw was the only field event in which a Newton entered. Bertram Fonberg heaved the plate 104 ft. 5½ inches for a second place in this event.

SPORT NOTES

Candidates for Track
Colin O'Brien and Howard Cole of Newton are candidates for places on the track team at Hebron Academy.

Receive Sargent Award
Mary Greene of Newton received an old English "S" as an athletic award at the Sargent School recently.

Johnson Sets New Mark
Stanley Johnson set a new M. I. T. broad jump mark last Saturday in a dual meet with the Army at West Point. The former Newton star leaped 23 ft. 7½ in. to win the event. He not only set a new mark for a M. I. T. athlete but exceeded the Military Academy record. He also won the low hurdles and took a third place in the high hurdles.

NEWTON DROPS TO SECOND PLACE AS RINDGE WINS 11-5

Newton High tumbled to second place in the Suburban league baseball standing as a result of a victory 11-5 by Rindge Tech on Tuesday afternoon. The game was scheduled to be played last Friday at Russell Field, North Cambridge, but rain postponed the affair.

Coach Jeff Jones sent Joe Greene to the mound in an effort to annex the existing first place tie between Newton and Rindge and have given Newton the lead. Things turned out just opposite when Rindge tallied five runs in an eighth inning rally.

Newton got off in the lead with a three-run spurge in the first inning and annexed one in the fourth and another in the sixth to score its five runs. A double and a triple by Greene played a large part in the scoring. Bosworth also collected for a double and a single in five trips while John Waters had three singles in four times at bat. The Newton nine made thirteen hits off the deliveries of Paratore, the Rindge pitcher and had a one-hit edge on the Rindge team.

Although Greene permitted but one extra base blow, a double by Britt, the eleven Rindge singles were bunched fairly well. These hits along with three errors by Flagg at third and two by Waters at short stop proved the Newton team's undoing.

Newton Trounces Latin

The Newton nine came back strong on Wednesday to trounce the Boston Latin team 15 to 3. The orange and black pounded Buddy McLaughlin for twelve runs in the seventh and eighth innings. Coach Jones, forced to discipline Catcher Pete Morrison changed his line-up and took off the jinx of the previous day. Byrne went in to catch and Waters took over Byrne's duties at first base. Flagg returned to shortstop and Billy McDermott went back to third base where he started the season. Leo Bergen started on the mound but gave way to Bernard Ryan, Newton's leading twirler, midway of the game.

The first Newton tally came in the first inning when Flagg, leadoff man, scored on a hit by Byrne. In the third frame Flagg again got on and crossed the plate ahead of Spilman when the latter poled a home run into deep left field. Solid consecutive hitting with a pass in between piled up four more runs in the seventh after Latin had tied the score with a three-run rally in the sixth which drove Bergen off the mound.

The blow-up came in the eighth inning as Latin tried in vain to get the locals out. The feature of the inning was Bosworth's home run with the bases loaded. Following this clean-up blow Newton again filled the sacks and counted four times more before the side was retired.

Play Brookline Today

This afternoon the Newton nine goes over to Brookline for its final game of the season away from home. The remainder of the scheduled contests will be played at Clafin Field where the team should play its best rather than on strange fields.

Brookline has still to play off its first game with Cambridge Latin which was scheduled for last Friday and thus has played one less game than Newton.

The Wealthy Towners will endeavor to haul Newton farther back in the race and also win their first league contest having lost to Rindge 5-6.

OUR LADY HIGH WINS AND LOSES IN CATHOLIC LEAGUE

In its two games in the Catholic High School league the Our Lady High nine of Newton won and lost. Last Saturday the locals won a 15 to 13 decision over St. Clement's High at Cabot Park to stay on the heels of the pace-setting St. Charles team of Waltham. On Wednesday St. Charles and Our Lady crossed bats at Newton and the Waltham team won an 11 to 8 decision.

In topping St. Clement's the game was anybody's affair until the last inning. St. Clement's started with a four run rally but the Newton team came back to score six and take the lead before the inning was over. In the second frame St. Clement's added two more tallies to tie the score. In Our Lady's half of the second four more runs trickled over the plate and put the home team out in front again. They were never caught after that. In the third one run came in and in the fourth three while a single tally in the seventh brought the total to 15. The visitors made things interesting all the way, however, never giving up. Two in the fifth, two more in the sixth and three in the eighth put them right on Our Lady High's heels with 13 runs.

Seventeen hits were made by Our Lady High and twelve by St. Clement's with four two-baggers and the rest singles. Passes proved the visitors' undoing as Waltham walked ten local batters. He fanned six McCarthy and Fitzgerald were on the mound for Newton and together they passed six and fanned seven.

In losing to St. Charles on Wednesday the locals were set back in their quest for 1934 honors. Four hits and two errors gave the Waltham nine their big chance in the seventh inning. Our Lady High was leading 3 to 2 at the time. Six runs for the visitors put the skids under the Newton team although they came back with four of their own to stay in the game. Two tallies in the eighth and one in the ninth gave St. Charles its winning margin. Home run honors were even with Morris hitting one for Our Lady's and Devlin one for St. Charles.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE DIRECTORS TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Newton Twilight League at the Newton Centre Recreation Building, Wednesday, May 16, at 7:30 p. m.

Seven of the groups which played in the League last year have applied for admission this year. Applications have been received from two new organizations.

All teams wishing to be represented in the Newton Twilight League this season should have a manager or another person present Wednesday evening in order that the assignment of home grounds and home nights can be more easily made.

About 125 formerly in the League will be given prior consideration for admittance in the League.

Dartmouth defeated Yale 4 to 1 last Saturday in an intercollegiate league game at Hanover. Frank Spain and Bob Bennett figured prominently in the victory although neither made a hit. Spain stole four bases. In the big eighth in which Dartmouth scored three runs Spain forced a runner and then stole second. After a pass to the batter the two runners engineered a double steal and when the catcher's throw went into left field Spain scored the run which actually won the game for the Green. Spain tagged out two Yale runners trying to steal while Bob Bennett's four assists on throws to the bases halted threatening scores by the Blue. Spain is the leading base stealer in the league.

Win Yale Awards

Yale awarded 283 athletic insignia in ten various sports recently. Among the awards were major Y's to Captain Joe Gilligan and Warren Colby in hockey. Gilligan is a Newtonville youth and Colby resides in Newton Highlands.

State allowed the owner to retain that part of the lot which was not needed for the overpass and the narrow service road. This strip of land is only 18 feet wide at one end and 20 feet at the other. It contains about 2000 square feet of land.

A permit for a filling station was granted in September, 1923, to Herbert M. Bridey who then owned the property. It contained 11,242 square feet; had a frontage of 123 feet on Chestnut street and 99 feet on Boylston street. The property was subsequently transferred to Helen Bridey and on February 4, 1929 she sold it to Mary T. Ryan of Somerville. It was transferred on July 19, 1929 to Patrick J. Keefe of Boston and on March 22, 1930 the title was transferred to Michael and Doris Hynes of Boston. A second transfer of the title was made on this same day from Hynes to Francis E. Brown of Boston. The property was taken by the Commonwealth from Brown on October 24, 1932.

Last September, despite the fact that the remains of the lot had only a frontage of 20 feet or less on Chestnut st., is located on a 7½ grade, is under a high overpass where absolutely blind corners exist, and it will be necessary for any automobile entering the station to back out if it is driven onto Chestnut st. again, the Aldermen granted a permit for another filling station on the abbreviated lot. In conjunction with this permit, it was provided that a steel building would be erected on the narrow lot.

At the meeting on Monday night Alderman Temperley called attention to the favorable report of the Licenses Committee on the petition of Francis E. Brown for a permit to erect a brick and concrete building at 1295 Boylston st. He reminded the Board that last year a petition had been entered asking that the adjoining lot of land on Chestnut st. (owned by Louis Dardano) be changed from residence to business zone so that it could be added to the narrow strip of lot corner lot and both used as a filling station locus. After having been held in the Claims and Rules Committee for six months, and after the Mayor had taken a hand in this matter, Temperley said this petition was given leave to withdraw. Then a permit was given to Brown to erect a filling station on the little lot with its width of 18 feet. He said that he opposed the erection at that time of a cheap steel structure on this site, with its 7½ grade, and he is just as much opposed now, because by granting a filling station permit on such a narrow, dangerously located lot, a serious precedent would be established.

Alderman Hill said that Brown was given a permit to build the little steel building last year and could erect it tomorrow. Temperley replied that the permit was granted eight months ago and had not been exercised within three months as required by law. Alderman Holden said the permit had not been exercised as specified by law, the use of a very dangerous, the owner of the property was given a very fine price, $33,000, by the State, and the Aldermen should not grant a permit for another building on the narrow lot.

Alderman Grebenstein said both Temperley and Holden were beating around the bush because Brown has a year in which to put up the building for which a permit was granted last September. Grebenstein asked City Solicitor Bartlett for a ruling and the latter, while admitting that he was not positive of the law regarding this matter, believed that Brown would be within his rights in putting the steel building up if he so desires. Grebenstein said it is merely a question as to whether a steel structure or a more attractive brick building will be erected on the lot. Alderman McKay said he would vote for the permit because it would mean that a better looking building would be erected on the site.

President Collins said that inasmuch as a written protest had been entered against the petition of Brown, a two-thirds vote of the Board would be necessary to grant the petition. A roll-call vote was taken. Those voting against allowing the erection of the building for a filling station on the very narrow lot were—Aldermen Cordingley, Holden, Mansfield and Temperley. Those who voted in favor of the permit were Aldermen Bowen, Chandler, Cronin, Farrell, Floyd, Gallagher, Gordon, Goddard, Grebenstein, Hill, Hutchinson, Jamieson, McKay, McCher, Sprout and President Collins.

On Tuesday a motion was entered by Alderman Hill which gave notice that he will move for reconsideration of the vote at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Riverside Club of Auburndale Meets

The members of the Riverside Club of Auburndale held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, May 7th, at the home of the president, Mrs. Wm. Pike on Islington rd.

The object of the Club which was organized some ten years ago, was to be both social and to aid in welfare work by giving friendly assistance whenever possible to those in need of a little temporary help and encouragement. Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets have been contributed with other gifts as far as consistent with the Club's financial resources.

It was voted at the business session on Monday evening to instruct the treasurer to send a "Mother's Day" gift to Mrs. Ida Delano at the "Old Ladies' Home" in Concord, Mass.

It was also decided to hold the Annual Outing on June 18th at Mattapoisett, Mass. After the business session a collation was served by the hostess.

tha and Miss Elizabeth Wight, Miss Cornelia Wing, Miss Elizabeth Follett, Miss Josephine Tyler, Mrs. Worthing West, Mrs. Matt Jones, Jr., and Miss Peggy Boynton.

Among those to entertain at luncheon are Mrs. Charles J. Paine of Weston, who will entertain several guests at her home, and Mrs. William H. Danforth, whose party at the Commonwealth Country Club will include, among others, Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burkhardt, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Place, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Delano, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McGoldrick, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. James, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tolman. The Tolman children will ride horses from the Danforth stables in the jumping classes.

About 125 horses will compete. Manager Lovesey recently announced that Class 5, for ponies 12.2 hands and under will be divided. One division will be for Shetland Welsh ponies. Such a division means that about thirty sets of ribbons will be distributed with twenty-eight classes making up the prize list.

One of the features of the show will be the saddle rivalry, with the three outstanding saddle horses of the year entered. Peerless Princess, winner of the saddle sweepstakes at Melrose last Saturday, will be entered by Mrs. Harold R. Sawyer of Waban. Mrs. William K. Irving will show Sportsman, winner of the open saddle horse stake class at Worcester. Helen Danforth's entry, Chestnut Charm, will complete the trio. The Danforth entry won the sweepstakes at the Cavalry show.

Several of the horses from the stable of Albert Pickens of Newton have just been entered, including his sensational new five-gaited horse, Easter Parade, one of the stars of the Worcester Horse Show last month. In the hunter division the debut of William J. Davidson's new team is awaited with much anticipation. Two members of the team are familiar. They are Watch Me and Newry. The third horse is the new bay gelding, Rock Edge, five years old. Davidson has also entered Buck Jones, winner of the Newton handy hunter class a year ago. Lillian Davidson who will ride tomorrow starred last year with a victory in the riding competition for children between fifteen and nineteen years of age.

Ralph N. Miliken's hunters, Golden Brew, Shandygaff, and Champagne and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin B. Farnsworth's string from Sterling will be in the thick of the competition for hunter prizes. Jane and Billie Callahan of Waban will return to competition. Jane was the winner of the horsemanship class for children under ten last year. Billie was second to Helen Davison in riding, twelve to fifteen years. Helen Balfour of Chatham, who won the riding competition, ten to twelve years in 1933 will show her jumper Silver Jean and her saddle pony, Cape Lady. Top Sergeant, blue ribbon road horse last year, will not appear as Chairman Wilson is not exhibiting any horses in the Newton show this year. Many other horses will be entered and the show is assured of keen competition in all classes.

Renovating of Basley Lumber Company Attracts Attention

Several months ago Roy S. Edwards, who had been in the employ of the Basley Lumber Company in various capacities for more than ten years, purchased the interests of the late Fred R. Basley. Following the reorganization of the company many changes were made in methods of merchandising. The frontage of over four hundred feet on Crafts street has been changed from just an ordinary lumber yard to one which is outstanding as well as attractive. Outside fence displays, lighted windows and various signs in a color combination largely of red and white have contributed much to the effectiveness of the display. The entire office and that part of the yard adjoining the street have been entirely renovated. The Basley Lumber Company, by far the oldest lumber company in this section of Newton was established at its present location about twenty years ago. It is fast being recognized by other progressive lumber dealers throughout the state as one which pictures the trend of the retail lumber business for the new business era. Mr. Edwards has been invited on many occasions to explain his ideas and methods to lumber organizations throughout the country.

Mr. Edwards is a director of the Mass. Lumbermen's Association, vice-president of the Lumber Trade Club of Greater Boston, and a member of the official Lumber Code committee of this section of the state. He was the first president of the Newton Round Table Club, a director of the Newton Corner Business Association, a past president of the Canadian Club of Boston and a member of the Newton Rotary Club. He was in war service for five years, retiring with the rank of captain and held the office of State Commander of Canadian War Veterans for five years.

New Buick Line At Lower Prices

A new line of Buick automobiles, engineered and designed as companion cars of the present 50, 60 and 90 series Buicks but to sell in a lower price bracket is announced by the Buick Motor Company.

The new car, a Buick thoroughbred from every standpoint, has been designated the series 40 Buick. It includes an initial production range of five body models on a 117-inch wheelbase chassis of characteristic Buick design and construction. The new car is powered by a 93-horsepower, valve-in-head straight eight engine and is capable of smooth, easy speeds up to 85 miles per hour.

Unusual performance and economy are outstanding features, the Buick 40 having been designed to meet these requirements of the lower price field. At the same time, its designers have maintained all the engineering traditions of Buick, built up over a period of more than 30 years.

The combination of high power and streamline design, with a favorable power weight ratio of 36.4 pounds per horsepower, enables the new Buick 40 to attain an effortless 85 miles an hour and provides unusual power flexibility throughout the driving range. The car has a second speed up to 55 miles an hour and can accelerate from 10 to 60 miles an hour in 21 seconds.

The bodies of the new Buicks are sealed against heat, noise and cold. The 18-degree sloping windshield is set in rubber, rubber windlace is placed around the doors and the control pedals are fitted tightly with rubber and felt collars where they pass through the toe and floor boards. The dash is completely covered with a mat insulated with heavy felt, while under the front and rear compartment floor coverings is a heavy felt insulation.

Levi F. Warren School Pop Concert

It was cherry blossom time in the gymnasium of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School in West Newton last Friday evening when the pupils of the school gave a pop concert. The room, under the direction of Miss Marion Gray of the faculty, had been transformed into a spring garden, a riot of pink and green. The program committee with Miss Pearl Muerling also of the faculty as chairman, selected its personnel from volunteers who demonstrated throughout the evening that they had chosen their parts well.

The solo dance numbers were a buck and wing tap dance by Doris Cormay, a military toe dance by Betty Ferguson, a ballet dance by Dorothy Gardner, a dance "Moods," by Nancy Lund, rhythm tap by Kenneth Whelan and a waltz, "Pink Lady," by Mary Ann Sullivan. Marjorie Hawley and Kenneth Whelan gave an eccentric dance in which their costumes fitted their grotesque movements admirably. A tap dance by a group of 15 ninth grade girls in sailor costumes was delightfully picturesque. Patsy and Edith O'Toole did some good work in a toe dance number while Betty Ferguson, Ruth Goode and Alice Provencher were grace itself in a high step kick. Ned Goode did a clever rope twirling act.

The musical numbers were piano solos by Dorothy Kovitz, vocal solos by Phyllis Mansfield and William Harris, and xylophone selections by Kenneth Grinnell whose rendering of "The Old Spinning Wheel" deserves special mention. This same song was also well played by the Harmony Boys on their harmonicas. The Ukulele Troubadours, five girls in blue overalls, white shirts and large straw hats, were most fascinating while they gave a group of four numbers among them, "In the Valley of the Moon" being especially pleasing. David Estes although suffering from an injured left hand, was able to play his accordion with skill and his offering of "The Sidewalks of New York" would certainly have been pleasing to Al Smith. Joseph Larsson and Taylor Smith exhibited their musical talent in a number of trumpet selections.

Lillian Railsback showed an unusual talent in her interpretation of human nature in a group of three monologues. The program had for its opening and closing numbers selections by the DeMolay band with Jean Budding of the ninth grade doing some clever twirling acts. The gymnasium proved inadequate to accommodate the guests and a large number were turned away. Mr. C. Francis Tower of the science department acted the role of master of ceremonies throughout the evening. Refreshments were served with Miss Lue Holman in charge. The proceeds from the evening's entertainment will go to the school fund.

Lecture on New England At Meeting in Centre

The meeting will be held in the Weeks Junior High School at 8 o'clock. Mr. A. A. Shelton is the lecturer and he will show many natural color slides. These slides are not colored by hand but are natural color photographs. Mrs. Albert Carpenter, soprano soloist, will render several selections. Vice-President Edward O. Proctor will speak briefly on the aims and objects of the association. The public is invited to this open meeting for which no admission charge will be made.

National Hospital Day at Newton

Saturday, May 12, the Newton Hospital will recognize National Hospital Day. In the afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4:30 o'clock the Superintendent and her Staff will be pleased to welcome all those who are interested in hospitals.

Guides will be provided for the departments. Those competent to do so will demonstrate various equipment such as the Respirator, Oxygen Tent, Cardiograph and Physiotherapy lamps. There will also be exhibits of the work of the Student Nurses.

In 1933 the Newton Hospital not only gave bedside care to a daily average of 152.44 patients but also conducted an Out Patient Department to which 14,595 visits were made by those unable to afford a private physician.

The Laboratory Staff made 34,091 tests and in the X-ray Department 3,585 patients were treated.

The Dietary Department provided meals for 385 three times a day or a total of 601,575. The Special Diet Kitchen prepared an average of 19 special diets totalling 20,895.

A million and a half pieces of linen were laundered by the Hospital laundry.

The Power plant with the aid of over 3000 tons of coal provided heat and light for the twenty buildings.

The School of Nursing graduated twenty-four young women from a three years' course. In the school year September, 1932, to June 15, 1933, 1520 class hours of instruction were given by instructors and doctors.

An Added Meaning For Mother's Day

The Coming Mother Is Entitled To Every Possible Care

Sunday is Mother's Day. One day each year, one Sunday in fifty-two, is dedicated to motherhood. Privileged sons and daughters throughout the land will pause to say a word of affection to their mothers for all that they have meant to them during the year and they will joyously wear the red flower as an open expression of their great privilege. To those whose mothers are no longer with them, the day is a time of deep emotion and the white flower will symbolize the memories they cherish so dearly.

Since there is a grave danger of this beautiful custom becoming perfunctory, if the reason for its being depends entirely upon its emotional appeal, could we not make it a day of deeper significance if we dedicated it to a service which will ensure a much greater degree of safety to all future mothers?

It is sad to learn that our country, where Mother's Day originated, has now, and has had for many years, one of the highest maternity death-rates in the civilized world. Between now and the next Mother's Day it is estimated that ten thousand mothers will needlessly sacrifice their lives on the altar of motherhood. This is not a rhetorical exaggeration; it is all too cold fact. But even the loss of life is only a part of the story. For every mother who dies needlessly, many more are just as needlessly deprived of health and vigor, some temporarily and too many permanently.

Let us then on this Mother's Day ask these questions:

Just how many mothers in our community will be the victims of a needless sacrifice within the next year? And, what can we do about it?

Since leading national authorities say that adequate maternity care saves mothers' lives, we should seriously consider what sort of facilities we have provided for our mothers, and what is being done to teach the mothers to demand and obtain the kind of care they need.

The fact that mothers' lives can be saved when given adequate maternity care, has been demonstrated where a thorough trial has been made. Two-thirds of the women who would otherwise have died in childbirth have been saved in a demonstration made among almost 5,000 mothers. This demonstration covered a period of over eight years, and was conducted by the Maternity Health Center Association in a certain section of New York City. A very real service was rendered these women, the value of the service increasing with the length of the period they were under observation, with the results that the mortality among these mothers was only 2.2 per thousand live births, whereas in the same section of the city, with mothers living next door, perhaps, to many of them, but not receiving this care, the rate was 6.2 or nearly three times as high.

Perhaps the most difficult part of the program is that of teaching the mother to demand adequate and proper care.

The responsibility is widespread. It lies with the medical profession as a whole. It lies with the individual members of the medical profession. It lies with society as it is represented in the numerous organizations for the improvement of health conditions. It lies with the woman herself.

Let us then dedicate Mother's Day to the thought that knowledge can assure every woman safer maternity experience and every child a better chance of having a well and happy mother.

I give my heartiest endorsement to the effort being made by the Newton District Nursing Association to utilize Mother's Day, May 13th, as an occasion to emphasize the need for better maternity care.

Without widespread knowledge on the part of parents as to what constitutes adequate maternity care, we cannot expect them to seek and obtain it. Wherever the best possible care has been given mothers, in demonstrations conducted under proper medical and nursing supervision, the death-rate has been reduced to one-third what it is among mothers generally.

The facilities of the Health Department are available for such a constructive campaign as this in any way that they can be used.

FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS, M.D., Health Officer.

Final Event of State Federation Interesting Affair

The goal of all clubwomen as the year draws to a close is Swampscott and the New Ocean House! The Annual Meeting of the State Federation opens on Monday, May 14th, at 10 a. m. when Kenneth Ullman, chairman of Swampscott selectmen, will greet the delegates. The keynote of the meeting will be "Youth, Our Responsibility and Inspiration." At 12:30 on Monday there is the Presidents' Luncheon, where the following speakers will be presented: Mrs. I. Penno Elliot, Hyannis Woman's Club; Mrs. Benjamin P. Poor, Townsend Woman's Club; Mrs. James A. Seamon, Springfield Woman's Club; Mrs. Bait L. Spain, North Shore Club of Lynn; and Mrs. I. John Schipper, Middlesex Club of Lowell. The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock with music by the Hyams Wood Wind Ensemble, and then the presentation of two new clubs, the Cambridge Club and the Rochester Woman's Club. The address of the day will be given by Dr. Carl J. Friedrich, Professor of Government at Harvard University. The Parade of the Directors and Juniors is the feature Monday evening, preceded by the Junior Dinner on the Lower Deck at 6 o'clock. Dorothy Burchard Mulroney will be at the piano.

The Tuesday morning meeting opens with the invocation by Rev. James Dirickson Cummins, rector of the Church of the Holy Name, of Swampscott. Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, chairman of the division of Handicapped, presents Charles Little, blind violinist. In the afternoon there will be music by the Theodorowicz Trio and Francis Bures, Baritone, with Carl Lamson at the piano. General Federation

COUNCIL MEETING. Whether the largest organization of women in the world will throw its force behind the passage of the Copeland Pure Food and Drugs Bill (S. 2800) will be decided when the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in Council Meeting at Hot Springs, Arkansas, from May 21st to 26th, votes on a resolution to endorse the general principle and purpose of this pending legislation. Study of the Bill in its form before being amended (S. 2000) was recommended by the Federation's Board of Directors at its annual meeting last January, and it has been discussed at many State Federation conventions and club meetings since then.

The outcome of the vote next month is of particular interest in view of the fact that clubwomen are generally conceded to have been a major influence in putting across the present Pure Food and Drugs Act, authored by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, in 1906. Mrs. Wiley, the president of the District of Columbia Federation, as president of the American Pure Food League, is a tireless worker for the Bill. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole is honorary vice-president of this organization, and Miss Alice Lakey, chairman of Insurance in the General Federation, is secretary.

The resolution to be presented at Hot Springs reads as follows:

WHEREAS, the Federal Food and Drugs Act, adopted June 30, 1906, has resulted in improvements in the purity of foods and drugs sold in the United States, but experience has shown that there are still products on sale constituting a menace to public health which are not subject to the provisions of the present act, and, furthermore, that the truthful labeling of many foods and drugs is nullified by fraudulent advertising not subject to the present law; and
WHEREAS, a bill now pending in Congress known as Senate Bill 2800 is designed to preserve all the worthwhile features of the present law, such as the prevention of adulteration and misbranding of foods and drugs, and will extend the scope of the law so as to include cosmetics, and also contains provisions designed to insure the truthful advertising of foods, drugs, and cosmetics.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at its Council Meeting in May, 1934, at Hot Springs, Arkansas, endorse the general principle and purpose of Senate Bill 2800, introduced by Senator Copeland in the Senate of the United States, which will be under consideration by Congress during the year 1934, and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the members of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of the United States.

Presented by the Home Makers Forum, Inc., of New York, N. Y., Mrs. Otto Hahn, president, endorsed by the department of Public Welfare, Miss Julia K. Jaffray, chairman; division of Industry, Mrs. Clarence Fram, chairman; and division of Public Health, Mrs. Carl W. Illig, Jr., chairman.

The raising of a $2,000,000 Foundation Fund by the General Federation, to be divided equally between the states and the national organization, will be given further impetus at the Council meeting in Hot Springs, when the Grace Morrison Poole Birthday Fund, which has been accumulated during the past several months by clubs and clubwomen, will be turned in to swell the Foundation Fund. The birthday party will be held the morning of May 24th, Mrs. Poole's birthday.

The General Federation's share in this gigantic sinking fund, now totals $121,563.00. Massachusetts, Mrs. Poole's home state, heads the list with a contribution of $35,950.00.

Other features of national interest to be offered at Hot Springs will include an address by the Honorable Joseph B. Keenan, United States Assistant-Attorney-General, who will speak on "Crime Control and Prevention." The brilliant work recently done by the Department of Justice under Mr. Keenan's direction, in apprehending criminals, and the General Federation's active interest in the crime problem, make his speech of particular timeliness. Dr. Theodore H. Aschman, of Kansas City, Missouri, has consented to uphold the negative side of the discussion on Birth Control legislation which will be presented in the affirmative by Mrs. Margaret Sanger. Other speakers recently announced are: Mrs. Virgil Loeb, of St. Louis, representing the National League of Women Voters, in opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment, with Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, Washington, D. C., attorney, representing the proponents; Mrs. Irene Sylvester Chubb, of Webster Grove, Missouri, upholding the affirmative of both the Old Age Pensions and Compulsory Unemployment Insurance questions, and Mrs. Noel Sargent, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers, presenting the opposition on these subjects.

Radio will play a more conspicuous part in the Council Meeting than ever before. Through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company, the final hour on the Tuesday morning program will be broadcast from coast to coast. During this time Mrs. Poole will deliver her annual address, the nine department chairmen will speak briefly, and there will be a musical number. In addition, Mrs. W. F. Lake, chairman of the Local Council Board, has arranged through the courtesy of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce, a series of five broadcasts to be given each evening, independent of the program, over KTHS. These periods have been assigned to the officers. On Monday evening, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, first vice-president of the General Federation and Contact chairman for the Council, will speak at 9:30; on the following evening, Dr. Josephine L. Peirce, second vice-president, will speak at the same hour. On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Poole will speak at 8:45. On Thursday evening, Mrs. Sallie Orr Dunbar, recording secretary, will speak at 9:30; and on Friday evening, Mrs. Edward Hammett, treasurer, will speak at 8 o'clock.

An array of social events will begin with a tea on Sunday, the 20th of May, preceding the sessions of the Council, given at Council Headquarters at the Arlington Hotel, by Mrs. Lake, Mrs. Edwin Bevens of Helena, Arkansas, and Mrs. Vaughan W. Root of Little Rock, assisted by the Local Council Board, honoring the General Federation Board, members and guests, to which all Federated clubwomen will be welcome. Breakfast, luncheon, and dinner conferences are announced by the various departments, divisions, and committees for the several days of the Council.

"Play Day," on Saturday, May 26th, will mark the happy finale of the Council when all Arkansas will join hands with Hot Springs to give visiting clubwomen a good time. A lakeside breakfast on the waters of the Hamilton will be followed by a drive over pineclad mountains and vales to Bauxite to see the only mine in the United States containing ore for making aluminum, where they will be received by Benton and Bauxite clubwomen, and then the journey back into the Memorial Highway to Little Rock where the Little Rock City Federation, assisted by their Junior section, has arranged a drive over the Capital City, followed by a lawn party on the historic Old State House grounds.

ART LECTURES. "The Goodwins' 100 Years of Picture Collecting in America" is the subject for the Art lecture to be given tomorrow evening, May 12th, over Station WBZ, at 8 o'clock, in the series of talks on Art in America, sponsored by the American Federation of Arts, and initiated by the Art department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. "Art and the Public" will be the topic for the final lecture on the evening of Saturday, May 19th, at the same hour, over the same station. No further announcement of this lecture will appear in this column.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday, April 27th, at 2 p. m., the last regular business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was followed by a dramatic program. A one-act play, "One of These Days," was given, the parts being well cast from members of the Club, as follows: Mrs. Archer, Mary Cobb; Vangie, Mrs. McRae's colored maid, Ruth Welch; Connie McRae, wife of Gordon McRae, (district manager for the Archer Co.), Marion Waterman; Jane Baird, Beulah Francis; the Pope, Marion Merrill; Natalie Cox, Jessie Hardy; Muriel Gordon, Constance Brown; and Sallie Wakefield, Edith Keller.

The play was directed by Mr. Harry Tomlinson. Properties were in charge of Mrs. Leroy H. Schall, and Mrs. Arklay S. Richards; Costumes of Mrs. Annie Eastman and Mrs. Robert Elder; and Make-up in charge of Mrs. James Mitchell, who is the Dramatics chairman of the Club.

The story revolves around the scotch-trained mistake of Mrs. McRae in sending the wrong letter to the wife of her husband's employer, Mrs. Archer, a letter written by her sister Jane's fiancée, Tony, to her husband that for indiscretion would ruin his business prospects with Mr. Archer. The situation is saved by Vangie, the (Continued on page 9)

A MILLION DEMONSTRATIONS in 30 days

Nash dealers are out to show a million motorists—in 30 days—what there is that's so different in a 1934 Nash or its companion car, the new LaFayette.

Within 30 days, all America will have a better idea of modern motoring at its very best.

Nash already has built and the public has bought a million Nash cars—evidence as strong as evidence can be that Nash cars are out of the ordinary.

You are invited to ride in a Nash or a LaFayette, or both, to see for yourself how Twin Ignition steps up motor performance—how the LaFayette "jeweled movement" engineering lifts the performance of this new Nash-built car clear out of its price class. We want you to know all about the many engineering bests that belong exclusively to these two great cars.

Call us for your "One in a Million" ride. We'll expose you to no high pressure salesmanship except that which you'll discover in the performance of the car.

for Jewell. He said the locus is next to the Jenney Filling Station at the corner of Boylston and Woodward streets and is in a business zone. He argued that because Boylston street has been evolved into the Worcester turnpike that the best use which can be made of Jewell's property is to convert it into a filling station, and that inasmuch as the next lot is occupied by a filling station, this indicates no danger to traffic will be created by the locating of another station there. According to Mr. Boyd more than 100 automobiles travel along the turnpike each hour and because of the construction of the turnpike, Boylston street should become a business street. He stated that there are only two filling stations on the north side of the pike from the Fenway to the proposed station. He referred to the "new deal" and gave it as a reason why Jewell should receive the permit for the filling station.

Malcolm Green of 33 Woodward street said his property runs to Boylston street. He said that five tanks with 5000 gallons of gasoline, as asked for by Jewell, will be a menace to the neighborhood. He replied to Mr. Boyd's reference to the "New Deal" by saying that this new deal is just the reverse of what Jewell asks for. The "New Deal" stands for community interest and not for rugged individualism. Mr. Green said that the site of the proposed station is on a sharp down grade and with the terrific speed at which cars travel on the turnpike, the station would be a menace. He referred to the petition made a year ago by Jewell when he obtained a permit for an eight car garage and repair shop on the property, and characterized getting such a permit and then coming in for a filling station permit as "a weasel method." Mr. Green contradicted Mr. Boyd's statement that there are but two filling stations on the north side of the turnpike between the Fenway and the proposed station. He said there are already two stations on that side in the immediate vicinity—the Jenney station and one which has been for years at 991 Boylston street. Another station is across the street.

Thomas Y. Morrison of 22 Woodward street said there is no need of the proposed station with three already at the intersection of the pike with Elliot and Woodward streets. He said to make Jewell's lot level it would be necessary to erect a 20 foot wall at the rear of his property. Morrison told that last year Jewell pleaded with him not to oppose his petition for the repair shop and garage as he wanted a chance to make a living. He asserted that owners of residences in the neighborhood should not be penalized just to benefit Jewell. William Whitney of 28 Woodward street said a gasoline station on Jewell's lot would ruin the value of a large lot of land owned by him and would depreciate the value of all residential properties in the neighborhood as there would be nothing to shield it. Taking issue with Attorney Boyd's contention that the new turnpike should be made a business street, Mr. Whitney protested against the spoliation of the beautiful new highway by perverting it to business purposes.

Kenneth May of 200 Lincoln street said the proposed station would increase the already great traffic danger at this section of the turnpike. He told of an accident which occurred last Saturday night when a car which had come out of the Jenney station was hit while trying to cross over on the turnpike. Others who objected included Mrs. Edward Swift of Dickerman road, and Leo Hamburger of Dickerman road. President Collins asked for a show of hands. Two persons favored the granting of the permit; ten objected to it.

Terraplane and Hudson engines develop more per cubic inch of displacement than any production automobile engines in America. They are exceeded in this respect only by racing and super-charged motors.

Hope St. Residents Disagree on Sewer

A hearing held before the Aldermen at City Hall last Monday night on petitions to have Hope and Day sts., Auburndale, improved and to have sewers placed in these streets, brought a number of residents to the meeting to argue for and against the petitions. Noble S. Butt of 26 Hope st. was the first proponent for the improvements and told of the unsanitary condition of the neighborhood caused by the lack of sewers. Emmanuel Stamatello of 14 Hope st. said the cesspools in that section continually overflow and the sewage even seeps onto the street. He said he had not been able to use his car a number of days the past winter because Hope street being unaccepting was not plowed out until after accepted streets had been cleared. Charles Donnellan of 34 Day st. favored the improvements to stop the nuisance of dust blowing from the streets onto lawns and into houses.

Francis Blackwell of 1744 Washington st., speaking for his mother, objected to the improvements on Hope st. He contended they are not needed and said his mother would have to pay much of the cost because her property has a long frontage on Hope st. Later he asked what the cost to her would be and was informed by Alderman Murray that it would total $80 for the sewer and this amount would be extended in payments over a period of 10 years.

Leslie Felton of 35 Hope st. objected to the improvements. He said the depression makes it difficult for persons to hold houses in which they have equities and he doesn't want a further burden imposed on him. He asked that the acceptance of the sewer and the laying of the sewer be put off for another year. He was informed by Alderman Murray that the first payment for these improvements would not have to be made until well into 1935. Elmer Kelly took the same stand as Felton and both of these men stated that the condition of the cesspools does not warrant the construction of a sewer. Mr. Stamatello replied that smell and sleep near the overflowing cesspools know too well that a sewer is much needed.

"Arctic Circle" Meets At Oak Square Monday May 14

"The Arctic Circle," an organization composed of friends of Mother Mary of the Ursuline Mission of St. Mary's at Akulurak, Alaska, will hold its annual get-together at the Presentation Club House, 93 Tremont street, Oak Square, Brighton on Monday night, May 14 at 7:45. Mother Mary was Miss Mary Hagedon of West Newton, daughter of the late Milo Hagedon, first president of the Newton Catholic Club. She was a former Sunday School teacher at St. Bernard's Church and it is expected that many of her former pupils will attend the party. She has been stationed in Alaska for twelve years. Her mission feeds, clothes and educates orphan Eskimo and half-breed children.

At the get-together on May 14 talks will be given by Rev. Richard Cushing of the Propagation of the Faith Society and by Rev. Cormac Shanahan who has just returned from China. An excellent program of music and readings has been arranged. Refreshments will be served and souvenirs from Alaska distributed. The public is invited.

"Christina" at Paramount — Approved by Council

A new innovation which is being tested at The Newton Paramount Theatre is Family Night—Monday evenings have been set aside as that night. On this evening the main feature will open the evening show just after the Paramount News. In this way the entire family can come and bring the children and be home around nine thirty.

The feature picture for the first half of the coming week will be Greta Garbo in "Queen Christina" co-featured with John Gilbert. This is a very high type of entertainment and has been approved by the Newton Better Movies Committee.

"Queen Christina" is remarkable in that it is a role chosen by Miss Garbo herself. The character of this brilliant, independent and eccentric regent of the middle seventeenth century is one that has always attracted the enigmatic actress, as much because she was of the same race as because her intelligence and passion for freedom were wholly modern in their quality.

Few choices for the composer of dialogue could have been so fortunate as that of the brilliant S. N. Behrman. This distinguished playwright has been responsible for some of the wittiest comedies produced in the New York theatre for the last seven or eight years. And the incisive, penetrating statements characteristic of Christina could scarcely have been penned by a more skillful hand.

And Mamoulian as the director of "Queen Christina" was really the final touch. His effort was of the kind he had made with all his stage productions: a reduction to essence and to general style instead of a literal reproduction of the architecture and costume of the period. Thus, all of the gowns worn and all of the backgrounds and all of the human movements are true to the era in spirit much more than they are in precise detail.

Of unusual interest are the love scenes between Miss Garbo and John Gilbert, who is reunited with the star in this picture, and whose scenes with her are reminiscent of the tender episodes of such of their past successes as "Flesh and the Devil" and "Woman of Affairs."

Ian Keith, Lewis Stone and Elizabeth Young also play important roles in the drama and the large supporting cast includes C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Owen, Georges Renevent, David Torrence, Gustav Von Seyffertitz and Ferdinand Munier.

On the same program will be Richard Arlen in "Come On Marines." For the last half of the week Barbara Stanwyck will be seen in "Gambling Lady" and Dorothy Dell in "Wharf Angel."

THE NEW SUPERINTENDENT

Two years ago when the School Committee was seeking to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of Supt. U. G. Wheeler many were carefully considered for the position. John Lund was accepted. He has offered his resignation and the School Committee has elected Julius Warren of Lakewood, Ohio, to the office. Mr. Warren and Mr. Lund, we believe, were the two outstanding choices of two years ago. All that we know of Mr. Warren is through the information that has been given the press. However it seems fortunate that Newton found it possible to fill the position with a man who was one of the leading choices two years ago. We wish Mr. Warren every success in his new position.

SECOND ANNUAL CHARITY HORSE SHOW

Much effort has been made towards the success of the second annual Newton Charity Horse Show. It deserves every success. The Mayor's Relief Committee for the Unemployed and the Y. W. C. A. are the organizations which will benefit from the proceeds derived tomorrow. All that is needed is good weather, and the interest of local sportsmen and horse lovers. The committee in charge promises an interesting show with keen competition in many classes. It is worth your while—remember—your bit will go to charity.

ONE THING... AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Anybody can start something but it takes a wise person to know when to stop.

Encouragement to Travel

In our country a notary public is an official, appointed by the Governor, who takes acknowledgment of or attests or certifies deeds, affidavits and depositions. On the other side of the water he is even more important and usually the "big shot" of that section. Much depends, of course, on the country. It may be that he is the chief political officer. At any rate you must appreciate his prominence to get this story. A friend of mine, a notary public living in a town near Newton, carried his commission with him on a European trip for purposes of identification and to help him at the borders. In one small kingdom he got the shock of his life. The local magistrate insisted that as "notary" he should visit the royal palace. For a few minutes my friend thought he was the victim of a joke. However, he accepted and went to his surprise and elation he had the time of his life. Met all the great folks, too. He now believes a notary public is a "great fellow"—at least "over there."

Outdoor Eats

O, flowers bright and blossoms rare, Sweet symbols, thou, of Spring, You're not alone among the things Of which my heart would sing. With eagerest I yearn to sit And, with companions, munch The height of culinary skill— The footsore picnic lunch.

I know the charms the woods possess, The lure of shady dell, The river's bank and mountain top Which nothing can excel. And yet these do not seem complete, According to my lunch, unless provision has been made To serve a picnic lunch.

The tinkle of the cowbells sounds The knell of worldly care, The twittering birds make joyous notes.

There's welcome in the air, With happy friends I share these joys— We make a merry bunch, Providing, as I said before, There's one well basket lunch.

Letting George Do It

Many of us find our troubles, imaginary or otherwise, sufficiently absorbing. It is seldom we seek to learn of the trials and tribulations of others. Of course there are people who find a melancholy pleasure in gleaning stories of hard luck and retelling them. I am not, I protest, one of the latter group, although I am about to disclose a brief account of what my friends of the Massachusetts Legislature are compelled to endure. I must say that they seldom complain but if they did there would be, you'll agree, sufficient cause.

Apart from their duties as committee members, which are far more exacting than appear from casual newspaper reports, they must attend daily sessions which are not always a source of entertainment but frequently dull. What most impresses me, however, is the fact that a legislator is written to, telephoned to and otherwise appealed to at all times of day and night, Sundays included, and must listen patiently to persons eager to secure the passage or defeat of this or that bill. To me the small amount of salary paid in no way compensates for this. However, as I said, no one of them has really uttered a word of criticism. Rather than accept it all with commendable patience.

All this leads to what occurred recently in connection with the attempt of many citizens to convince the members of the Great and General Court that a drastic bill for unification of police activities should be put through without delay. A certain member, not one of the Newton delegation—received a telephone call from a woman who unhesitatingly demanded that the bill should go through. "Have you read the bill, madam?" inquired the solon.

"Oh, no," she replied, "that's your job."

Keeping Fish Happy

Our reference two weeks ago to the mysteries that lie in the vast and billowy ocean has inspired a reader to communicate thus:

"You wrote about salt water and the strange things that go on in it and done with it. Did you know that the London Zoo Aquarium goes to no end of trouble to make the fish there happy? You will find in the report of the director, one E. G. Boulenger, that there is enormous expense involved. This is shown by the fact that 120,000 gallons of Bay of Biscay sea-water are in constant use. The water is brought in the ballast tanks of large vessels to the London docks. There it is transferred to barges, which take it via the Regent's Canal to the Zoo.

"The water is kept in constant circulation and is pumped from an enormous underground reservoir to smaller reservoirs in the peaks of the Mappin Terrace mountains. From these high storage tanks the water falls by gravity into the show tanks, the overflow passing through a series of sand filters before returning underground."

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS FOR 1934

Marks and Report Cards

One of the procedures which soon revealed itself as having a close relationship to the aim and concept of guidance was the traditional marking and report card system. Early in 1933, before the division of research and guidance was set up, the question of the adequacy and validity of the marking system was raised by many teachers. A series of staff conferences last spring, especially in the junior high schools, gave careful study to the whole problem. We can summarize their findings as follows:

Because of the inadequacy of these devices for the purposes expressed; because marks have, at best, been glaringly inadequate indices of real accomplishment and pupil growth; because they have tended to emphasize false educational values; because they have challenged many children to "beat the game," to conform rather than to grow, to "get by" rather than to excel; because they have too often been mistaken as ends in themselves and have raised havoc with mental attitudes and mental health; because report cards have given parents little important knowledge concerning the child and his problems and difficulties; because they have been purely laudatory or condemnatory rather than diagnostic and constructively helpful and suggestive; for these and many other reasons too numerous to mention in detail, the teachers in the elementary and junior high schools of Newton have determined to face the problem squarely and are attempting to work out constructively helpful procedures which, by their very nature, can never be anything but means to the only justifiable end in educational endeavor—the fullest possible development of the individual child's latent powers and potentialities.

Marks and the whole administrative set-up of end-examinations, points, credits, awards, et cetera, represent, as a whole, the tools devised when education went, as it were, into mass production. If education were indeed an industry dealing with raw materials of fixed or measurable quality, subjecting its materials to routine processes, these tools of measurement would probably be acceptable and adequate on the whole. But education is not an industry. It is a highly complicated process. The "stuff" with which it deals is precious human material, infinitely diverse and complex. Human personality and growth and character cannot be expressed by an equation or a symbol. Sooner or later all this will become a matter of common knowledge and understanding, and then perhaps someone will get an injunction restraining school people from carrying on the pretense that they can evaluate and rate pupils by mathematical formulae or alphabetical symbols.

So, since September 1933, no child in the Newton elementary or junior high schools has received a "mark" in any subject. At some time during late January or February each child carried home a friendly note from the teacher addressed to the parents. The contents of each note had been, in most cases, previously discussed by the teacher with the child. Enclosed with each note was a printed letter prepared by a committee of teachers. Here is the text of this letter:

"The sympathetic and co-operative attitude of parents generally has been of great help to us in working out what we feel is a more human and valuable system of reporting individual pupil progress.

"There is enclosed herewith a letter from the teacher of your child which has been written to provide you with a report of his progress to date. We feel that you want most to know what use your child is making of his abilities and how he is overcoming his limitations. We believe that each of mind and body, ability to live and work successfully with others, work habits and attitudes, all have an important effect upon achievement as well as being of great importance in themselves.

"The letter of necessity is merely a summary statement. We shall be pleased to have you discuss with the teacher any matter concerning your child in greater detail."

MRS. ELISABETH M. DWINNELL

Mrs. Elisabeth (Marshall) Dwinnell of 12 Valentine street, West Newton, widow of Clifton H. Dwinnell, died on May 5th at Pasadena, California. She was born in Germantown, Pennsylvania 60 years ago and had resided in West Newton for 19 years. She is survived by three daughters—Mrs. William E. Crosby, Jr. of Dover, and the Misses Elisabeth and Nancy T. Dwinnell of West Newton; and two sons, Clifton H. Dwinnell of West Newton and Marshall Dwinnell of Wellesley Hills. Her funeral service will be held next Sunday afternoon at 3 in the Second Congregational Church, West Newton; Rev. Boynton Merrill will officiate. Interment will be in Walnut Hills Cemetery, Brookline.

BERTRAM H. CURRIER

Bertram H. Currier of 199 Bellevue st., Newton, died on May 9. He was born in Munich, Bavaria, 59 years ago and came to this country with his family when a boy, residing in Roxbury. He became proficient as a violin and cello player and was a member of the Boston Opera Company orchestra and theater orchestras in Boston. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Olga Currier; three sons and two daughters; and a brother. His funeral service will be held at his late home this afternoon at 2:30.

Under The Gilded Dome

Last week Friday the so-called police unification bill was read in the Senate and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means of that branch. The bill was reported by the Joint Committee on Judiciary. The act does not provide for all phases of the matter sought in original bills and in short can readily be termed a conservative step in what may later prove to mean more drastic changes. In brief the act provides for the appointment of an unpaid State advisory council of police, consisting of the Commissioner of Public Safety and four police officers with a rank of not less than captain, one representing the Boston Police Department and the other three chosen from departments of other cities and towns to be appointed by the Governor. Their term of office after the original appointment, which is staggered, will be for four years. The advisory council shall establish and conduct a police school. This school will be held in various parts of the State at different times and will not be an established permanent place of education and training. Police officers will be under Civil Service and no applicant passing the Civil Service will be appointed until he has passed the courses to be offered. The council will also recommend the coordination and regulation of teletype, radio and other forms of communication. The detective bureau of the State is increased to at least 30 instead of the present 18. A toxicologist or pathologist may be appointed to the Public Safety department. The bill presented by the committee is expected to encounter many attempts to amend its provisions but it is believed it has a better chance of passing both branches than a measure containing more drastic steps.

There were several lively minutes in the Senate this week when Senator Langone of Boston severely criticized Mayor Mansfield. He also reflected on several of his colleagues and started a debate which roused many members of the upper branch. Trouble started on the bill fixing the Boston tax limit for municipal purposes at $17 and Senator Langone moved to postpone action until next Monday. After the debate the motion to postpone was refused 30 to 1.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 13.

The Golden Text is: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (I Corinthians 15:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: ... Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken. So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life" (Genesis 3:22,23,24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth guards the gateway to harmony. Error tills its own barren soil and buries itself in the ground, since ground and dust stand for nothingness" (p. 537).

A. Since then camps have been established in every state in the union under the auspices of character building or private agencies until there are more than 5000 organized camps with a million or more young people in attendance. Dr. Charles W. Elliott, former President of Harvard University said: "The organized summer camp is America's most significant contribution to the educational system of the world."

Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary of the Newton "Y," said that the Association was fortunate in having a camp like Camp Frank A. Day which is now in its 19th season and has enrolled since it was established more than 2000 boys. A letter was read from Mr. William MacPherson who was the leader of the first group of boys to be at Camp Frank A. Day. Communications were also received from Mr. Anson T. Leary, Mr. F. At the end of the sixth inning the score stood 6 to 2 against the "Y," but timely hitting in the succeeding innings put the "Y" ahead in the last of the ninth. In the sixth inning Watkins reached first on an error and was later brought home by a triple by White. In the seventh after singles by Gray and White, Gallagher hit a two-base hit which brought both men in. In the ninth inning with the "Y" on the short end of a 7 to 5 score, Gray hit a single and was later brought in by a hit by Watkins. White reached first on an intended sacrifice which was badly handled. WOMEN'S CLUBS

colored maid, even more scatter-brained on account of the romantic attentions of the doorman at the Archer's hotel, who has a position of "great authority" in directing automobiles. To add to the hilarity there are the helpful—and otherwise—suggestions and remarks of Mrs. McRae's friends, one of whom is cynical, and another desires to see vibrations of good thoughts bring the muddle to a pleasing ending. Ruth Welch as the lovelorn maid caused many a chuckle; her negro dialect being excellent. Marion Merrill as the "vibrating" Ethel played her part so well that all looked askance upon her for sanity;

and Constance Brown's skepticism (as Muriel), of Mrs. Archer's every sentence and her dire prophecies of woe upon Tony and the McKees as a consequence of Connie's blunder were so realistic and so cynically modern that she was most natural. Each gave to her part an ability that should satisfy the coach and the Dramatics chairman.

Some very delightful musical numbers were furnished by Club members. Muriel Carpenter and Gertrude Cumner sang a duet and two songs each, accompanied by Mrs. Marie P. Mather. Mrs. Cumner's warm contralto voice was especially lovely in the Old English Flower Song which gave a very real picture of the streets of London town. A very entertaining reading "The Floral Shop," was given by Leila Newdick.

Tea was served with Mrs. Nina M.

Carpenter and Mrs. Walter T. Dowling as hostesses and Mrs. Walter Webster and Mrs. George Owen pouring. Miss Emma D. Coolidge was the guest of the afternoon.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on Friday, April 27th, at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton. A delicious luncheon was served at 12:30 p. m. The dining room was very attractively decorated with many bouquets of beautiful spring flowers. Among those seated at the head table with the president and the other officers of the Club and the past presidents, were Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, incoming president of the State Federation, and Miss Priscilla Hay, president of the Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president, opened the meeting, and introduced Mrs. Walker, the guest of honor. She expressed her high regard for the Club and complimented the president and the members upon their excellent programs and upon their many splendid accomplishments of the year. Miss Hay, as president of the Juniors, expressed her appreciation of the "Senior" Club in a very delightful manner.

Mrs. George H. Jackson, chairman, then introduced Miss Rita Shaw, a talented young reader from the Leland Powers School, who gave a series of entertaining and amusing monologues and pianologues.

A number of exceptionally fine reports covering the year's program were read by the following officers of the Club: Mrs. D. Webster Anders, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent, Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, Mrs. David O. Warner, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, Mrs. Carl Thomas, Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, Mrs. G. Howard Frost, Mrs. William D. Keefe, Mrs. Malcolm A. Howard Frost; recording secretary, Mrs. D. Webster Anders; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte; treasurer, Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent; auditor, Mrs. Henry D. The Annual Meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Marston, Dudley rd., Newton Centre, on Friday, April 27th, at 11 in the morning.

After the reports were given, Miss Fowler, superintendent of the Florence Crittenton Home, gave an interesting picture of the life of the women in the Home, of the work done, and the wonderful benefits received by each one from her sojourn there.

Following Miss Fowler, Miss Cook, superintendent of Welcome House, told of the help given to the many girls who come under her care.

The officers of the Newton Circle elected for the year 1934-1935 are: President, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., of Newton; vice-presidents, Mrs. Edwin R. Brown, Mrs. Elias B. Bishop, Mrs. Charles L. Harrison, and Mrs. William B. Emery; treasurer, Miss Ethel W. Todd; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Clinton C. Brown; recording secretary, Mrs. George C. Ewing; corresponding secretary, Miss Kate Potter; social chairman, Mrs. Howard Norton; directors, Mrs. John T. Lodge and Mrs. William F. Newton Federation

The thirty-ninth year of the activities of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs came to a close with the Annual Meeting held at the home of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on May 7th. At one o'clock about one hundred clubwomen gathered for a delicious luncheon, prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, chairman of the Social committee. During Mrs. Lippincott's term the Federation has enjoyed several exceptional luncheons at moderate cost, and high praise is due this chairman for her untiring efforts and achievements.

After asking the blessing, the Federation president, Mrs. Charles C. Willson, expressed regret for the absence through illness of Mrs. George G. Phipps, founder and first president of the Federation, to whom flowers were sent as a token of love and esteem. Seated at the head table were nine past presidents, Mrs. Willson, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Club Editor of the Newton Graphic, the three vice presidents, retiring directors, and the hostess president. Mrs. Willson read the list of those members of the Board who are retiring at this time: Directors, Mrs. George F. Reinhardt and Mrs. Ethel P. Leach; and chairmen, Mrs. Harry E. Moore, Finance; Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Education; Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, Social; Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, Motion Pictures; Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, Public Health; and Mrs. Robert S. Bowen, Press and Publicity. These ladies were presented with corsage bouquets, as was also Miss Coolidge, a special guest and Mrs. Alden H. Spear, the retiring president of the Hostess Club.

A surprise at the close of the luncheon was provided by Mrs. J. Earle Parker who had requested Mrs. Irving O. Palmer to act as toastmistress in introducing several of the past presidents. Mrs. Palmer's entertaining fulfillment of this role, together with the responses of those upon whom she called, brought to mind many of the highlights in the history of the organization, as well as added much merriment to the hour. Mrs. Palmer called first upon Mrs. C. G. Weatherbee who recalled, in rhyme, that during her term of office (1904-06) the Federation was instrumental in having the steps of the electric cars lowered, and in securing the car waiting station at Newtonville Square; also the Club interested itself in having the food served at the High School lunch room more suitable to the needs of the students. Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor (1906-09) recalled a four-day bazaar held at "Old Elms," the Clafin Estate in Newtonville, which was most successful; also the publication of "The Mirror of Newton, Past and Present."

Mrs. Palmer, president from 1914-19, next gave reminiscences of her own term, during the war years, when much was done for local philanthropies and when real contact was made with the foreign-born in the city, including a party at the Armory and another at Temple Hall furthering this desire of each to understand the other. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane (1919-20) felt that her administration was marked by the Thrift Exposition and by a tremendous rummage sale, the credit for which she disclaimed; however, Mrs. Lane's record in the Federation work belies her self description of "lame and lazy". Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell (1920-22) was unable to be at the luncheon, her presence being needed at another event. In 1922-24, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry's term, the agitation of the Junior High School plan gained prominence. Mrs. Henry recalled also, many interesting developments along the civic, educational, and legislative lines; and Mrs. Ernest Cobb (1924-25), the last to be called upon, reckoned one of the achievements of her term the Federation's part in the placing of a visiting teacher in the High School. As the time for the business meeting drew near, Mrs. Palmer regretted that there was no opportunity to hear from the presidents since 1925. Many clubwomen, however, can recall the progress of the Federation during the past decade, and know the more recent leaders. It was, therefore, a privilege to hear from those who worked hard and faithfully in the earlier years to make the firm foundation and the fine record of the organization which functions now successfully in the city.

Camp Frank A. Day Enters Seventeenth Year of Service to the Youth of Newton

Founded in 1916, Camp Has Contributed to Well-Being of Hundreds of Boys—Allows Latitude in Choice of Projects And Provides Wholesome Outdoor Life

The long vacation is a real problem to a good many parents. For the last seventeen years that problem has been solved for them by Camp Frank A. Day. There is a natural instinct for play in the life of every boy. His vacation should give him an opportunity to satisfy that desire, with the greatest amount of happiness, still attaining a goal in health development.

Camp Frank A. Day is not an experiment. Founded in 1916 it has had a steady growth and has contributed to the well being of hundreds of boys. It has been pervaded by a sense of serenity which is based upon a feeling of good will and confidence among the staff, campers, and parents.

The camp has a program which does not urge the campers to make showy and costly articles, excel their comrades, make records, or defeat other camps. Each day the boys have the freedom of the open and they are allowed to select their own activities without explaining the why or the reason for doing so. They are encouraged to execute their own projects.

Situated in the very heart of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the camp is located in the midst of a splendid grove and occupies a charming point of land. It is literally covered with hundreds of oak, pine, and hemlock trees, many of which are of virgin growth.

It is situated on Lake Quacumquasset (which means the home of the great white goose) in the town of Brookfield, Massachusetts, just half way between Worcester and Springfield. This lake is a remarkably beautiful sheet of water and is the head waters of a group of four lakes. It is spring fed and is entirely surrounded by dense forests and picturesque hills.

Through a careful process of development the Camp Committee has carried on a purposeful building program. Each year new improvements are made and building added. In all respects the physical equipment is both modern and attractive.

This year the camp is having a new modern and sanitary kitchen erected. In every detail it will be the very latest thing in camp kitchens.

The strictest supervision known in the realms of camping is employed at all times and precautions of every kind are taken for the boys' safety. Each boy who cannot swim is required to enroll as a beginner. As he becomes a swimmer and passes his tests he may become more proficient by joining many of the advanced groups in stroke practice, life-saving, and diving.

A graduate physician is in attendance at all times. Upon a boy's arrival at camp he is given a complete physical and medical examination. Temperatures are taken periodically during the first two weeks of camp. A chart is made of his weight, posture, and condition; exercises are given where necessary and sunbaths are made a part of his program.

The hospital, situated in a quiet spot, is modern in every detail. It consists of two rooms, one a dispensary for minor ills and cuts, and the other a four bed ward for the camper who might be indisposed for a short time.

Camp Frank A. Day has a wide reputation for its meals and food. "Timmy" is the chef and he has had over thirty years experience cooking for boys. He has been with the camp eight years and will return again this year to supervise this department.

Meat, butter, and general supplies come from the Boston Market twice a week; from nearby farms come fresh vegetables and an abundance of fruit in season. Milk is obtained from a modern certified dairy. It is of Jersey Grade A quality and pasteurized. The water is examined by the State Board of Health and is reported as excellent in quality.

The aim of Camp Frank A. Day is the development of Christian Character. The management recognizes the great truth that "Character is caught, not taught."

They have been proud of the leadership for a good many years. Great care is taken in selecting men for campers. Only men of experience in camping and of Christian character who have shown their ability to lead boys, are chosen. A counselor and seven boys comprise a tent family.

The Director is Clyde G. Hess, who has had seventeen years' experience in camping and twelve years of active Directorship. In college he made special study in camping and has continued this study for years. Associated with him is Mr. C. Evan Johnson. Mr. Johnson has been identified with Camp Day for five years. A graduate of Colby, he has spent a great deal of time in studying the physical activities of growing boys. He is a teacher-coach in the Walpole High School. Mr. Morton G. Wiggins, a graduate of Bates and Harvard Universities, gives his entire time during the summer to the Nature and Campcraft program. Many years of experience with camping fits him for this important position in camp.

Registration

Tuition at Camp Frank A. Day is eleven dollars a week and the camp season is nine weeks. Camp opens on June 27th and closes August 29th. A boy may enroll for three, six, or nine weeks. Applications have been heavy for this time of the year as there have been nearly one hundred places applied for at camp. The boys from the Newtons who attended last year and so far this year are:

Annual Reception and Sale At Stone Institute

If anyone has a lingering doubt as to the possibility of making a real home of an institution, it will be dispelled by a visit to the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People. The matron, Miss Clara Frost, cordially welcomes callers any day in the year, but on Saturday afternoon May 19, the annual reception and sale is to be held from 2 to 5 p. m., when the ladies especially enjoy welcoming their friends and those who wish to see this attractive home-like place. The Stone Institute is located in Newton Upper Falls at 277 Elliot st.

The proceeds of the articles for sale, most of which have been made in the home, provide a little extra pin-money for the ladies. It will be open house to everyone, so come and bring your friends.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Those present at the luncheon adjourned to the main auditorium, to join the members who came to the afternoon session. Mrs. Willson called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Alden H. Spence welcomed those present in the name of her club.

The report of the Mid-Year meeting held at Newton Highlands was read by Mrs. George J. Murphy, who also read a comprehensive report of the chairmen of committees. There have been three special meetings sponsored by committees in the Federation this year: the Legislative meeting for the Twelfth District, held at Newtonville; the Program meeting at Newton Centre; and the Home Visiting Day undertaken by the American Home committee. Two new committees have been formed during the past year: the Motion Pictures committee and the committee on International Relations. A special meeting of thirty dollars to a student was reported. The result reported of the Christmas Health Seal campaign was $5,133.94.

Mr. John Lund, who resigns this summer as superintendent of schools, and who is to engage in a different form of educational work, addressed the meeting. His hopes and ideas in regard to the education and development of the young people, that they may be fitted to take their places later, were most interesting and stimulating. He sees the necessity for revising curricula material, and for guiding to release creative ability, both leading to the preparation for citizenship for the future in a changing world.

The report of Mrs. Robert Bonner, Community Service chairman, and that of Mrs. J. Porter Russell, chairman of International Relations, were read in their complete form, as these two departments could not well be combined with the others. Mrs. Bonner's report will appear in full at a later date in this column. Mrs. Russell's new committee has been exceedingly busy in the study of its topic and in trying to provide means to facilitate the study of others in this increasingly important subject.

The business meeting was interrupted at this time for a most delightful interlude of music. Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, and her Program committee, provided two artists of deep appeal to the audience. Mrs. Edmond Jackson, Baritone, and Edwin Blitcliffe, Accompanist. The first group of three French songs beautifully displayed the excellent quality and depth of the singer's voice so well complemented by Mr. Blitcliffe's understanding accompaniment.

Business was resumed with the reading of her report by Mrs. George H. Jackson, who was followed by Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, treasurer; and Mrs. George G. Wolkins, auditor. The twelve component clubs were accounted for by Mrs. J. Earle Parker. Outstanding programs and activities were mentioned, and among some of the expenditures of the clubs: $1,275.00 was given for scholarships; outside philanthropies totalled $374.00; and local philanthropies amounted to $4,950.07. Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs combined the reports of the associate organizations into an interesting and enlightening resume, and at this time the announcement of the resignation of Miss Ruth Chapin, secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, was heard with much regret.

The election of the ballot was announced by Mrs. Francis H. Williams, chairman of the Nominating committee, as follows:

President, Mrs. Charles C. Willson, Auburndale Woman's Club; first vice-president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Waban Woman's Club; second vice-president, Mrs. Edwin H. Gibbs, Woman's Club of Newton Highlands; third vice-president, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, Newtonville Woman's Club; recording secretary, Mrs. George J. Murphy, Newton Centre Woman's Club; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George H. Jackson, West Newton Woman's Club; Treasurer, Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, West Newton Community Service Club; Auditor, Mrs. George G. Wolkins, Newton Highlands Woman's Club; Directors, 1934-1937, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, Auburndale; and Mrs. Wilson Case, West Newton; and Nominating committee for 1934-1935, Mrs. E. Payson, Waban, chairman; Mrs. Carlos Pierce, Newton; Mrs. F. A. Rugg, Newton Highlands; Mrs. George Edmonds, Newtonville; Mrs. Solomon Townsend, Waban; Mrs. Edgar Jay, West Newton; Mrs. Robert Whitehill, West Newton; Mrs. Clarence Smith, Newton; and Mrs. Francis Williams, Newton Centre.

Mr. Boucher and Mrs. Blitcliffe again gave great pleasure with a group of three English songs, noticeable for unusually clear diction and dramatic characterization.

The carefully arranged program of the events of the day, including this most enjoyable song recital, brought to a close the activities of an interesting and busy club season.

Garden Club

The Newton Centre Garden Club has held two interesting events this week. On Tuesday morning members of the club took a walk through the extensive daffodil planting at the Waltham Field Station of the Massachusetts Agricultural College. This morning the Annual Morning Coffee was held at the Newton Centre Library to view the library's garden, which the club maintains. An early Bulb Show of Daffodils and Tulips grown by members was included in this meeting.

Wednesday, May 23rd, has been selected as the date for the Spring Flower Show of the Newton Centre Garden Club. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, 129 Monandok rd., Chestnut Hill, from 1 to 5 p. m. All members are urged to make entries and everyone is invited to attend.

Points About The Enforcement of The Retail Code

Local Code Authority to Supply Information on Enforcement

A retail dealer in one of the Newtons called the office of the Local Retail Code Authority the other day, said he had received his notice of assessment and wanted to know what it was all about. As many others may feel the same way as this merchant, the LRCA desires to say that the several retail codes were set up under the NRA for the benefit of the retail merchants of the country. There is a National Retail Code Authority located in Washington and Local Retail Code Authorities in all cities of the country of 25,000 and over. The Local Retail Code Authority of Newton was properly organized and is now operating under authority from the NRCA.

All merchants are assessed alike for the maintenance of the authority, namely, $1 a year for each proprietor or owner, and each employee. Of this amount 25 cents of each dollar goes to the NRCA at Washington, the balance is retained for the necessary expenses of the Local Authority. Briefly this is the set up of the organization. It gives to the retail merchants and dealers of Newton local self-government of their affairs under their code. No dealer wants to knowingly violate his code any more than he wants to break any other law. On the other hand a merchant has not the time or opportunity to study his code and know just what or what he should not do.

One of the jobs of the Local Authority is to interpret the codes for the merchants, and to keep them informed of changes as they are made. Many dealers have an aversion to talking with another dealer in the same line of business, in fact the surprising statement was made by a Newton Corner merchant at a meeting recently that he did not know the dealers in his same line of business in Newton Centre. Such a condition can and will be overcome by the LRCA as all retailers are in the same organization and every part of the Newtons is represented by membership on the Board of Directors as well as a Vice Chairman from each trading area. When men in the same line do not know one another they accept as the truth charges against the practices of a merchant, that if they knew him personally they would call absurd. Through the LRCA these things will change as dealers come to know one another, but everyone must be patient as abuses and unfair trade practices built up over the years cannot be cured in a week or a month.

Retail merchants deserve credit for their ready acceptance of the President's Reemployment Agreement and later their own codes. The codes will work to the advantage of the merchants who endeavor to not only live up to all its requirements, but who is honestly striving to carry and offer to the consumer the best of merchandise at fair prices.

On the other hand the code is going to operate against the dealer who is always trying to get ahead of his competitors and who is offering merchandise that is not just what he says it is. In the past it has been very difficult, in fact impossible, for the honest merchant to combat this kind of competition. It is not going to be eliminated all at once, but the more the merchants work together and the better they know one another the sooner will the fellow who just doesn't want to play fair will be forced to do so or go elsewhere. And that is where the consumer comes in. If anyone knows of a dealer in any line in Newton who is not playing fair, that is working his employees more than the required hours, or paying less than the minimum wages, or is advertising goods below cost, or doing any-

Barbecue For Annual Meeting

Ladies Invited to May 23rd Affair in Appreciation of Their Assistance

Four hundred and fifty men as active members of Norumbega Council, as leaders of Cub Packs, Scout Troops, Seascouts groups and a Rover Crew, Merit Badge Counsellors, Committeemen. Quite a group of men in Newton and Wellesley, serving about 1000 Cubs, Scouts, Seascouts and Rovers!

They get the thrill and fun of the Scouting game in all its phases and the average tenure of the men in the game indicates that there is a thrill, and fun, as well as a sense of satisfaction in doing a job for someone else.

For some time, Norumbega Council has had a keen sense of appreciation of the great share which the women play in making Scouting successful. So often they must stay at home, while the man is out training, giving tests, attending committee meetings, or spending the week-end at the Nobscot Reservation with a patrol on an overnight hike.

This year the Council has had the inspiration of bringing the ladies in to the picture by inviting them to the Annual Meeting of the Council. It is the first venture of its kind in New England and will be a barbecue dinner.

The meeting starts with the dinner, in the Lowell Avenue Playground, in Newtonville, at 6:30. Troop 5, Centre, Scoutmaster Ralph B. Emery is planning the dinner and will do the cooking and serving. Following the dinner, there will be a demonstration of rope-spinning and whip-snapping by Scouts of Troops 4A and 4B, Highlands and 15, Auburndale. Other Scouts, the winning Patrol of the Camporee, will have a model patrol overnight camp, set up in one section of the area and will cook dinner over an open fire there.

Following the cowboy demonstration, a Patrol from Troop 6, Newtonville, Scoutmaster W. B. Gove, II, will give a demonstration and playlet on the Scout badge, where its parts are taken from and for what they stand. The brief business meeting will include a report of the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., and the election of officers and Executive Board members for the ensuing year. Mr. Lowell D. MacNutt, a Field Commissioner of the Council, and Chairman of the Nominating Committee, whose members are Mr. A. F. Noble and Dr. William Hayes Hoyt of Wellesley, will submit the slate for action by the Council.

The program will close with a play, "The Worth of a Boy," in charge of Commodore William V. M. Fawcett, Commodore of the Seascout Division of the Council.

One of the many unfair practices of trade, it is their duty as a citizen to report the same to the LRCA. Every such report is looked up very carefully, and every effort is made to induce him to play fair before any decided action is taken. This is all the work of the LRCA and it is educational and for the dealer's benefit.

The one outstanding thing about the Retail Code is this, that it is a great help to the honest merchant and a very real obstacle to the chiseler. It cannot be made too emphatic that efficiency is rewarded and inefficiency penalized.

The retail merchant during the past few years has certainly had to take it on the chin both from the wholesaler from where he buys on the one hand, and the public on many times unreasonable on the other hand. That is simply a condition that has come about because what is everybody's business is nobody's business. The retail dealer has not had the time or the money to properly tell his story to the public with the result that his hours of work become longer and his profit less and no one benefited.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Trend Of Business

McGill Says There Is No Substitute for Survival of Fittest

Business conditions and business trends under the new deal were discussed by Herbert N. McGill, President of the McGill Commodities Service, at the Newton Rotary Club at their regular noonday meeting.

Mr. McGill said that forty-two agencies were operating under the new deal, and that as a result the volume of business had increased 25 per cent. He was somewhat skeptical as to the real appraisal of business conditions due to the large amount of artificial conditions and promoted stimulation. No group of men can ever substitute a solution for the age long law of the survival of the best and the human equation inherent in men for gain and profit, he believes.

The new deal has been concerned chiefly with expenditure, labor, and monetary systems.

Regarding the first the NRA has alleviated debts, increased purchasing power of agricultural groups, increased employment, and promoted public works. One of the unforeseen failures was the very little and lasting beneficial effect on employment, as evidenced by the 10,000,000 unemployed today.

A false sense of value has ensued with many labor troubles. With daily clashes between government, labor unions, and managements, about 500 labor controversies reach Washington every week. Mr. McGill predicted more in the future under our present economic order.

The government cannot continue to finance industry indefinitely and private capital must assume responsibility. We, the speaker thought, are entering a test period and in the next six months the germ of monetary inflation will spread or be eradicated. He advised against inflation as unethical and unprincipled.

Mayor Issues Proclamation For Bundle Day

Asks Citizens to Contribute to Near East Relief

An appeal to the citizens of Newton to contribute clothing for the Near East Relief on Bundle Days—May 21st, 22nd, and May 23rd, was issued today by Mayor Sinclair Weeks, as follows:

To the Citizens of Newton:

The Near East Relief, an organization chartered under an Act of Congress for the purpose of aiding and clothing the destitute orphans and adult refugees in the Near East, has appealed to us for co-operation in the furtherance of this most worthy cause.

Monday, May 21st, Tuesday, May 22nd, and Wednesday, May 23rd, 1934, have been designated as Near East Bundle Days, and I sincerely hope all citizens will be as generous as possible in donating clothing.

I realize that during the past year the demands upon our citizens for the relief of our people at home have been very heavy, but I hope it will be possible to spare a little for the needy in the Near East.

Fire and Police Stations throughout the community are offered as depositories for bundles for the Near East Relief.

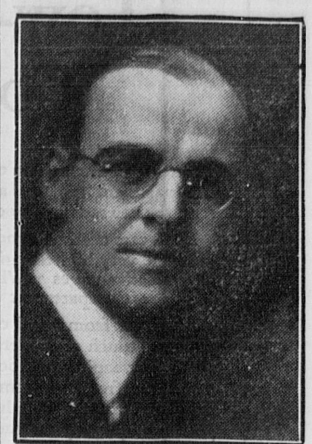

(Signed) SINCLAIR WEEKS, Mayor of Newton

Glee Club Wins Annual New Eng. Prize Contest

Competes With Twelve Other Clubs at Hartford

In competition with 12 other clubs, the Highland Glee Club, with 65 active singing members, piled up the largest number of points in the Tenth Annual Contest by the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs. This was the annual prize contest, held this year at Hartford, Connecticut, in the Bulkeley High School and followed in the evening by an impressive concert in beautiful Bushnell Memorial Hall given by the combined glee clubs, composed of 800 male voices.

By winning 171 1/2 points out of a possible 200, the Highland singers not only topped the contest but stood first in its own group, comprised of four clubs numbering more than 50 members each.

The prize song was "Feasting I Watch" sung by each club in the contest, while the choice song which received special mention at the award of prizes was "Media Vitae," a difficult selection to render, in six parts, but impressively tuned and virile.

The Highland Glee Club deserves the greatest credit for the successful outcome of its spring season and Director D. Ralph MacLean and President George Wright are receiving heartfelt congratulations from the many friends of the club which has achieved such a signal victory in competition with singing clubs of outstanding ability.

Much Interest In Production of "Little Women"

To Be Staged at Newton Centre On May 26th

A great deal of interest has been aroused in the announcement that the Dramaraders will present on Saturday evening, May 26, in the Newton Centre Women's Club House, Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women" adapted to the stage by Marion DeForest. The production, under the direction of Mr. C. Ralph MacLean, will be in costume and will play by candlelight.

The Dramaraders is an organization of young people seriously interested in the study and production of the best literature in the field of drama and therefore have chosen Miss Louisa M. Alcott's best beloved story for their first production. Many have recently seen the motion picture production of this story and will welcome the opportunity to compare the stage production with the film.

The cast is as follows: Jo, Dorothy Webster; Meg, Phyllis Eaton; Beth, Marion Chandler; Amy, Barbara White; Hannah, Mrs. Charles F. Buttrick; Mrs. March, Mrs. H. A. Pike; John Brooke, Robert Polhemus; Laurie, Newton Douglas; Mrs. Laurence, Russell Loesch; Aunt March, Margaret Robbins; Mr. March, Mr. George A. Holmer; Professor Bhaer, Mr. John Metz, Sr.

The Costume Committee includes: Miss Cornelia M. Holmes, Doris Langley, Ruth Lowrey, Priscilla Schirmer and Justina Crosby. The Property Committee is Mrs. E. M. E. Shaw, Peggy Bradley, Priscilla Adams, Edwin Robbins and Bill Squier. John Greeley is Business Manager and Publicity, and Leonard Rowley, and Bill Bradley head the Ticket Committee. Dancing with music by Packard's Imperial Troubadours will follow the production.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Birds

Banding, Migrating, and Other Details Discussed by Mr. Floyd

Polygamous blue birds, long distance travelers of the feathery tribe, and the interesting art of feeding by regurgitation, were described in a talk "The Royal Sport of Bird Banding," delivered yesterday by Charles E. Floyd, at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club at the Charles River Country Club. Mr. Floyd's lecture was illustrated by stereopticon views.

Under the direction of the Biological Survey at Washington, more than 500 bird banders in the United States are, year in and year out, placing aluminum bands around the legs of young birds which they capture, and through these bands, Mr. Floyd declared, a great deal of knowledge about the habits, home life, food, and wanderings of birds is being gathered. For instance, it is a known fact that the blue bird, among others, does not keep the same mate through life, but frequently mates with two or three birds. The migrating of all birds of New England has been closely checked through the banding of the young, and Mr. Floyd illustrated this feature of his hobby by citing the case of a baby tern, which he banded eight years ago. That same bird, his records show, has gone to Brazil each winter and returned to a little island off the coast of Chatham, Mass. each summer.

The Biological Survey in Washington serves as a clearing house and in cooperation with this bureau, Mr. Floyd announced that in the years he has been banding birds, the records show that some of his birds have been found as far east as England, as far west as Minnesota, as far north as Newfoundland, and as far south as the lower part of the Argentine.

Greater interest than ever before is being taken in bird life, according to Mr. Floyd, because study of this science has shown that the feathered creatures are a great aid to mankind in the continuous fight against insect pests. Without the annual migration of millions of birds to this section, the speaker said, the trees, flowers and shrubbery would be ruined for the birds devour insects by the tens of millions. These insects comprise much of the bird's food.

His description of nest construction, the hatching of birds and the methods used by some birds in breaking out of the shells proved very interesting. He described regurgitation, the method of feeding which many birds use in transferring food to their young. He said the young bird could not prepare its own food for digestion so that the parent thrusts its beak through the fledgling's mouth and partially digested food from its own stomach into that of the young bird.

Mr. Floyd's talk was so interesting that the President of the Kiwanis Club, James Forbes, allotted extra time to the speaker.

Van Rosen, Margaret Watts, Barbara Phinney, Pembroke—Margaret Caswell.

The newest plan, called Plan C, announced last year by five of the women's colleges—Vassar, Smith, Mount Holyoke, Wellesley, and Bryn Mawr, accepted 18 students of our junior class. The school had a 100% record of these candidates and all were accepted by the colleges. They were:

Street Com. Stuart To Resign; Served Dept. for 55 Years

Will Give Up Position August First

The forthcoming resignation of Street Commissioner George E. Stuart is expected to be revealed on Wednesday night at a meeting of the City Employees' Union. At that meeting Mayor Weeks and Street Commissioner Stuart were guests and speakers. Mr. Stuart intimated that it was the last meeting at which he would speak officially as he expected to submit his resignation to take effect as of August first after fifty five years of service in the Street Department of Newton.

He entered the service in 1879 as a foreman and became Assistant Commissioner several years later. For the past twenty years he has been head of the Street Department in his capacity as Commissioner. He has acquired a wide reputation as an expert road builder and has been popular with his subordinates because of the humane treatment accorded them.

Nonantum Boys Drown in Pond At Watertown

Fall Off Raft While Fishing for Lost Golf Balls

Two twelve-year-old Nonantum boys were drowned last Sunday afternoon in a small pond at the rear of the Waltham Country Club near the Waltham-Watertown line. The boys, Fred DelVecchio of 40 Faxon st., and Pasquale Proia of 24 Beech st., were on a small raft raking the bottom of the pond for golf balls. The raft capsized and the boys were unable to swim to safety. John Del Lichei, 10, of 26 Beech st., was on the shore of the pond when his two chums went under. He ran to obtain aid and persons whom he told of the tragedy summoned police from Watertown and Waltham. Metropolitan and State police also responded, the latter accompanied by two lifeguards from Lake Walden.

DelVecchio's body was recovered about an hour after he was drowned by Patrolman Liston of Watertown who was dragging with a grappling iron. Proia's body was not recovered until nearly 10 o'clock Sunday night when it was caught by a grappling iron used by Metropolitan policemen. While the police were searching for the body of young Proia, the boy's father waded into the pond, got beyond his depth, and was rescued by Patrolman Nally of Watertown.

The boys were pupils at the Stearns School in Nonantum. Both had been taking swimming lessons at the Newton Y. M. C. A. and had received qualifying certificates; but, apparently became frightened when the raft capsized and could not save themselves.

Young Proia was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Proia and was one of six children. The DelVecchio boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolò DelVecchio, and by two brothers. A double funeral service for the two boys was held on Wednesday morning at Our Lady's Church.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

LYNN ENGLISH WINS QUADRANGULAR TRACK MEET BY TWO POINTS

Newton Leads Until Final Event of Close Competition

The quadrangular track meet between Lynn English, Medford, Everett and Newton high schools last Friday afternoon on the Newton track was a great success. It is the first of what may prove to be a long series of annual competition between the four schools. The day's honors were carried off by Lynn English after a spirited battle with 34 points. Newton placed a close second with 32, Everett third with 22 and Medford trailing with 11. The versatile Newton team scored points in every event except one to hold a 30 to 29 edge over Lynn English in the final event, the relay. A fast Lynn quartet captured this event to take the Alumni Trophy which had been offered by alumni groups of the four schools. Medford's relay team nosed out Newton for second place in this event to give Newton a third.

Captain Bob Quigley of Newton won first place in the 100-yard dash, nosing out Buffington of Lynn by the narrowest of margins. Quigley's time was 10 1/5 seconds although he was probably aided somewhat by the wind. The 220-yard dash was the only event in which Newton failed to score. Everett and Medford swept the event with Piscione and Underwood of Everett finishing a close first and second.

Warren Whittens of Newton and Underwood had another close race in the 120-yard low hurdles with the Everett runner defeating his Newton rival for the second time this season, the first having been in the Worcester Interscholastics two weeks ago. John Frazier of Newton picked up third place for two valuable points.

John Adams of Lynn was outstanding in the quarter-mile, leading from the start to the finish. Allen Freeman and Louis Miller kept Newton right in the running by taking second and third. Miller turned in a great "kick" on the final stretch to finish ahead of Griffin of Medford.

Freeman came back for the half-mile a while later and led the field

NEWTON WALLOPS THIRD BOSTON TEAM WINNING FROM ENGLISH 8 TO 3

Newton High played its third Boston High School opponent Wednesday on Clavin field and trounced the visiting Boston English High nine, 8 to 3. The local nine pounded Marr, English pitcher, for fourteen safeties including a homer by Johnny Waters and a triple by Charlie Mascia. Ryan limited the English batters to nine scattered hits. He was in deep water several times but with the help of his teammates pulled out of each with little difficulty.

The three runs by the visitors were all scored in singles while Newton's cluster of five tallies in the third clinched the game. A single run in the first put Newton out in front and they were never threatened. Water's home run to left field came in the eighth with no one on base. Mascia's triple was a solid smash to right center with none on but he was thrown out at the plate trying to stretch the blow into a home run. Waters, Spillman, Byrne, and Ryan each connected safely three times. Callahan, a new prospect was given a tryout at third base by Coach Jones and came through in fine style. He fielded his position well and made two singles in five times at bat.

for a greater part of the race. Mascianica of Everett followed him until they started down the back stretch of the final lap. Here the Everett runner stepped out in front. Tommy Fitzgerald of Newton staged a great finish to capture second place ahead of Johnson of Lynn and Paulding of Everett. Freeman faded in the last few yards and failed to place.

Pettipas' first in the broad jump for Lynn with a leap of 20 ft. 7 1/4 in. was offset when Sloane and Whittens took second and third for Don Enoch's Newton outfit. Webb of Lynn took fourth place to give the two leading teams a sweep over the two other contenders.

Ross McLaren added to Newton's chances by tying for first with Bob Laycock in the high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 6 in. Whittens added another two points by taking third.

Three Lynn athletes, Cook, Szumski, and John Genlawicz, younger brother of the well-known Tony, scored one, two and three in the shot put to give their team a decided boost. Melvin Swig's fourth place was another valuable Newton pointer. Cook's toss of 50 ft. 11 in. was the outstanding performance of the day. It broke the previous stadium record by more than five feet.

Thus the meet came down to the relay with Newton having its 30-29 margin to protect while Everett and Medford were out of the running with 8 and 21 points, respectively. Mayberry, Buffington, St. Laurent and Adams were the Lynn quartet with Quigley, Bianchi, Whittens and Miller running for Newton. Mayberry and Buffington provided the third runner with several yards lead which Adams, anchor, built up to a 15-yard margin while the rest of the field were fighting it out for second. Medford's anchor, MacDonald nipped Miller in a driving finish to give Medford second and Newton third.

The assured success of the day's competition and the sportsmanship and friendliness of the competitors encouraged the coaches and faculty managers of the four schools to set May 10 as the date of a similar affair to be held next year.

NEWTON HELPLESS AS BROOKLINE WINS

Newton High was helpless against the twirling of Joe Walsh of Brookline as the Wealthy Towners annexed a 6-4 victory over Newton last Friday at Brookline for their first Suburban league win. The defeat tumbled Newton into a last place tie with Brookline as on Monday the Cambridge Latin in nine won a 3-2 victory from the latter, going into a first place tie with Rindge Tech. Thus the first round of the league race has been completed. In order to stay in the running Newton must make a clean sweep of its three league games at home beginning with the Cantabs this afternoon at Clavin Field. In that event the orange and black would probably find itself in a tie for honors with one of the two Cambridge teams as Rindge Tech or Cambridge Latin seem to have the power to edge Brookline unless Walsh is having one of his good days. The winner of the next Rindge-Cambridge Latin game may prove to be the league champion unless Newton can come through.

With Walsh on the mound and limiting Newton to six scattered bingles while he led a batting attack that netted the Wealthy Towners fourteen bingles the story of the defeat by Brookline is easily told. The Brookline twirler hit three singles and a double in his four trips to the plate. Two tallies in the second, two more in the fifth and single counters in the seven and eighth were made off Bernie Ryan and Joe Greene whom Coach Jeff Jones relied upon to turn the trick for Newton. Meanwhile Newton went runless until the fifth when a single counter trickled across the plate. A three-run rally in the ninth gave Brookline a scare but the rally was halted before any real damage was done.

Garrick Players To Stage Fantasy Outdoors

Next Thursday and Friday evenings, May 24th and 25th, at 8:30 p. m. the Garrick Players will present as their sixth offering of the present season an outdoor production of W. S. Gilbert's fantasy "The Isle of Broken Hearts." It will be presented under the auspices of the Newton Conservatory of Dramatic Arts and will be given at Damon Hall Junior College, 14 Fairmont avenue, Newton. W. S. Gilbert, famed for his work with Arthur Sullivan by writing the operettas "The Mikado," "H. M. S. Pinafore," etc., wrote "Broken Hearts" in 1875 and it was produced in that same year by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kendal at the Royal Court Theatre, London. The scene of the play takes place on the island of broken hearts where six maidens have given up the world to remain in peace on this lonely isle. Into their lives comes a fairy prince who has the power to become invisible at will and woos the maidens in grand fashion. However, his veil of invisibility is stolen by an evil hunchback and the maidens are deceived by this spirit and the play ends tragically.

The beautiful grounds and natural settings of Damon Hall make a gorgeous setting for this unusual presentation. The cast includes: Joan Damon Richards, Dean of Damon Hall; Muriel Pearce, who received her dramatic training under Kate Ryan of the old Castle Square Players; Miriam Catheron, Sybil Vane, Robert C. Currier, and Robert R. Reed. Miriam Catheron, a member of the Miriam Winslow dance group, and Sybil Vane, well known danseuse, will present original dances during the course of the evening. The production is under the direction of Robert C. Currier, scenery by Robert R. Reed, and lighting effects by Willard Richards. Patronesses for this production include: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damon, Miss Miriam Winslow, Mrs. Moses Gulesian, Professor William Northrop Morse, Hon. and Mrs. Frank Deland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pitts, and Mrs. Charles Adams.

(If weather does not permit on Thursday evening the performances will be given Friday and Saturday. If weather does not permit on either nights it will be given Saturday and Monday.)

Woman's Bible Class Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

About 150 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the Woman's Bible Class of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church School last Friday evening, the occasion being the tenth anniversary dinner of the class. A combination of lighting and of decorations of spring flowers carefully done under the direction of Herbert Stevens and Mrs. W. D. Hanly transformed the Assembly Hall into a place of enchantment.

Following an invocation by Mrs. Mary E. Soden the dinner was served by Mrs. Melvin C. Clay and her committee who were assisted by the young women of the church as waitresses. Dr. W. J. Lowstuter, professor of New Testament in the Boston University School of Theology, who is the class teacher, acted the role of toastmaster introducing the first guest of honor, Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Emig; Mrs. Mary E. Soden, the oldest member of the class; Mrs. Charles S. Otto, wife of the District Superintendent for the Boston area of the Methodist Church; Miss Alice Nelson of the Church School; Rev. Harry A. Hanson and Mrs. Hanson, home from India on furlough; and the Rev. Albert Parker, pastor when the class was organized, and Mrs. Parker of Portland, Me.

Mrs. Don M. Leonard gave the class history which dates back to Nov. 16, 1924 when 16 women became charter members with Mrs. Donnie McKay as president. The number grew to 55 by the end of the year. Of this group 25 are still on the class roll of 92 names. Prof. Lowstuter has served as teacher during the decade. Mrs. Louis Bruemmer gave a report of the social and benevolent doings of the class. A get-together party in the fall, a Christmas party with special guests who are unable to get home for the occasion and the annual dinner are the three outstanding social events of the year. The class stands "on call" wherever it is able to help others. Mrs. Hanson who has been a member of the class during her two years' stay in the States, advised every woman to join the class if not already enrolled, having been asked to act as adviser. She also urged the class to continue its spirit of neighborliness both at home and abroad. Mrs. Frank E. Morris to whom had been allotted the task of class confessor was unable to find much in the way of mistakes and misdoings to confess. She on the other hand commended one member for making a little money go a long way when she dropped the collection plate one Sunday morning.

Mrs. Ernest P. Rasbach, president of the Woman's Association, responded to the toast "Our Men" which she did as she said by sticking to her dictionary. Running the gamut of the alphabet from A to Z she selected words which, woven together artistically, produced a tribute pleasing to the wives, mothers and sweethearts among the guests. Dean Carl S. Eli, president of the Claffin Club, in responding to the toast "Our Ladies" said that during the meal he had felt like the lions which were turned into the arena at a gladiatorial spectacle in Rome only to sink away when the slave who was thrown among them had whispered something to each in turn. The message had been "You will be expected to say a few words after the meal." Dean Eli, however, did not sink away but said that even attendance and social contacts were of less importance than love and sacrifice in such an organization as the Woman's Bible Class.

Mrs. W. T. Taylor, the class president, read letters from several former members who have moved away. The class song written by Mrs. Mary E. Soden to the air "Auld Lang Syne" was sung by the guests. The second part of the program was given by Elsie J. Foss, Norwegian concert pianist, who played among other selections Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6 by Liszt; and by Nan Lagerstedt, character impersonator.

Newton DeMolay Exemplifies Initiatory Degree

Sixty-three boys, assembled around an altar to obligate newly elected brothers, is an inspiring sight. Such an event took place in Newtonville when the DeMolay Chapters from Belmont and Lexington joined Newton Chapter in exemplifying the Initiatory Degree on a large class of candidates, before an audience of nearly two hundred and fifty, last Saturday evening. There were three officers at each station, all taking part in the ceremonies. Those who were privileged to witness this work were deeply impressed with the solemnity of the occasion and the seriousness of the participating officers. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, Hon. Edwin O. Childs gave a short address on Mothers' Day, after which everybody adjourned to Temple Hall to enjoy bowling, ping-pong and other games, and last but not least, refreshments.

"Page the Prince" Musical Comedy Has Local Cast

Citizens Club Ready For Performance Next Tuesday

Everything is in readiness for the presentation of the musical comedy "Page the Prince" which the Newton Citizens Club is sponsoring at the Newton High School Auditorium next Tuesday evening, May 22nd. A large cast has been rehearsing daily for the past two weeks under the direction of R. S. Bancroft of the John B. Rogers Producing Company. "Page the Prince" is the same show as was presented so artistically at the Boston Opera House last season and this romantic musical with scenes laid in New York and the mythical Kingdom of Gondolivia will be seen exactly as was in Boston, with a different cast, of course, all composed of local talent.

Lawrence Mazzola heads the cast in the title role of Prince Edward of Gondolivia. Appearing opposite him will be Lucy Lombardi as Betty Brockton an American heiress. In the juvenile leads will be Louise MacInnis as Princess Otille, Edward's sister, and Anthony Lombardi as Bob Benedict, a college friend of the prince. Comedy honors will be shared by Alfonso LaCroix as Al E. Oop, a soldier of fortune; Edward Fahey as William J. Spurns, a comedy detective; Charles Gentle as Heinrich, the proprietor of the night club; Mabel Ruff as Princess Pearl of Balkania. In the large supporting cast will be Mary Amendola as Mrs. Brockton, a social climber; Simon Grinspoon, as Mr. Brockton a millionaire; Lawrence Coletti as Count de Change, prime minister of Gondolivia; John Antonelli, as captain of the Royal Guards; Frank Gregorio, as a bolshevik; Anna Loeber, as the Queen of Gondolivia; James Barisano, as Duke Smixture of Balkania, and Lawrence Perlmutter as his side partner, Sir Loinsteak.

There will be many large singing and dancing groups. The chorus will number fifty people and the latest in dance routines will be seen. There will be several specialty numbers by well known local artists. The book of the show is replete with comedy and the music is tuneful and contains many hits that are bound to send the audience away singing them.

Dance Recital For Charity

Mary Stanley assisted by a large class of pupils gave an unusually successful recital of dancing on Friday evening last, May 11, at Newton High School Auditorium for the benefit of Stearns School Fund, the affair being sponsored by a distinguished list of patrons. A large and enthusiastic audience applauded the many artistically produced solo and group numbers, which in their differing styles illustrated various forms of the dancing art.

Miss Stanley is herself a graceful and accomplished dancer, the product of English, Russian and American schools, and her versatility, sound technique and pantomime were demonstrated in her three solos.

That the recitalist possesses the rare gift of imparting her knowledge was amply demonstrated by the fine showing made by her pupils. Outstanding solos were danced by Betty Banker, Barbara Hastings, Patricia Hoover, while beside their charming solos—Gwendolyn Guile and Olivia Bigelow received an ovation for their amusing comedy-duo.

Among the artistic and colorful group numbers performed may be mentioned "Italy," "The Bubble," "The Toy Closet," "Spanish Quartet" and "Valse de Brahms," accompanied by Mrs. Farrar Cobb at the piano. Edward O. Proctor, vice president, gave a short and instructive talk on the history of the association, its aims and objects.

A short open meeting was held at which members brought forward many pertinent suggestions for the improvement of the village.

The very great majority of all merchants are not only willing, but do carry on their business in a straightforward manner; it is the small minority that cause all the trouble. That is where the LRCA comes in as there are plenty of teeth in the law to make them behave if through education they still refuse to do so.

NEWTON STUDENTS RANK HIGH

Once again the reports of the College Entrance Examinations show that Newton students rank among the highest in the country. Not only has a Newton pupil obtained a country-wide high mark in a particular subject but Newton's record is the best of any school in the country for the size of the city. This is a record of which we may well be proud—it proves that our school system is producing the results for which it aims.

ANOTHER BUGLING CHAMPION

Again the State Girl Scouts Bugling championship comes to Newton—for the sixth successive year. Congratulations to the Girl Scouts on this fine record and to the individual champions.

LEADS NEW ENGLAND

Speaking of champions—we cannot overlook the New England championship won by the Highland Glee Club this past week at Hartford in competition with twelve other similar organizations. The local group of singers have furnished Newton music lovers with exceptional concerts for many years. They deserve support and patronage in their effort to promote interest in good music. Winning the championship of New England is the result of years of constant practice. Let's give credit where credit is due.

Sunday Evening Club Pirate
Dance on May 18th

The Sunday Evening Club of college age young people which meets at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, is planning their largest and most entertaining dance of the season on Friday, May 18th, at 8:30 in the social halls of the church. This final dance will be taken over by pirates bold, and all who come will be garbed in the tatters and remnants of rovers, pirates and freebooters. Each dance number will be excitingly different with many a surprise as the couples mingle on the deck of an old four-masted sailing vessel.

The dance committee is headed by the Misses Dorothy Schipper and Harriet Bergonzoni both of Newtonville. The young ladies have been active in the club affairs during the past year and Miss Schipper being elected Vice President for the coming year.

The HOTEL TOURAINE

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The playgrounds of Newton were acquired and developed at the expense of the taxpayers of this city to provide recreational centers for the children. Do you believe that any playground in this city, especially in one of the most congested districts, should be taken from the children who ordinarily use it and turned over for a week at a time to some private organization for financial gain? Last year was the first time in the history of Newton that such a thing was done. We question the legal or moral right of any city official to divert playgrounds for such use. It is difficult to keep playgrounds in good condition. When a carnival or similar amusement venture has been located on a playground for a week, it is not necessary for one to visit the place to realize the condition in which it is left.

Victory Field, in Nonantum, was the locus of the carnival in this city last year. It is located in a section populated largely by poor people, many of whom are unemployed and recipients of aid. As a result of the precedent established last year, a couple of organizations contemplate using this playground for a period of 5 or 6 days during the next couple of months. Residents of Nonantum are already protesting against such use.

In the GRAPHIC on April 27 was printed the proposed new Ward lines of Newton as devised by the Assessors Department. These lines would cause the villages on the North side of the city to be mixed up hodge-podge as political units. Newton, Newtonville, West Newton would be torn apart and then jumbled together. The lines proposed for Ward 1 would include all the area North of the B. & A. tracks from the Faneuil line to Calvary Cemetery at the Waltham line. The Ward would run from Newton Corner to the East side of Walnut street and then follow Crafts and Waltham streets. We suggested instead that Ward 1 be composed of the Present Precinct 2 and all of the present Ward 7. This would keep Newton Corner in one Ward instead of splitting it into two Wards, one of which would also include Newtonville and part of West Newton, and the other parts of Chestnut Hill and Newton Centre.

We would suggest that Ward 2 be composed of Precinct 1 of Ward 1, Precincts 1, 3 and 5 of the present Ward 2 and part of Precinct 1 of present Ward 3. Precinct 1 of Ward 1 has 1041 voters, Precinct 1 of Ward 2 has 1307, Precinct 3 of Ward 2 has 854, and Precinct 5 of Ward 2 has 837 voters. This gives a total of 4039 voters. The Assessors had included in the proposed Ward 2 a large part of Precinct 1 of Ward 3. It took that part of this Precinct west of Albemarle road, and including the east side of Waltham street. As this would bring Ward 2 into the business section of West Newton and include territory contiguous to the business section, we have not included in our plan that part of Precinct 1 of Ward 3 which is in, or contiguous to, West Newton's business district.

The plan we suggest would include Precinct 1 from Albemarle road and North street westerly to Waltham street, including Taft avenue and the adjacent streets. Thence down the east side of Waltham street to Randall Park, along Randall Park to Watertown street, thence westerly along Watertown street, and including Cross street and down Cross street to Washington street. This would bring Wildwood avenue, Kensington, Parsons and Eddy streets and Warwick road into Ward 2. It would add about 763 voters to the 4039 voters included in the other precincts we had previously included in this proposed Ward, making a total of 4802 voters. The new Ward 2 as proposed by the Assessors would have 4712 voters.

The Ward 2 lines proposed by the Assessors contains Precincts 2, 4 and 5 of the present Ward 2, that part of Precinct 1 of Ward 3 mentioned in the preceding paragraph, and that part of Precinct 4 of Ward 6 between Cedar, Morton and Mill streets and commonwealth avenue. The present Ward 2 contains 5761 voters.

Marks and Report Cards

Teachers are being called upon to think of the pupil as an entity, a many-sided composite, rather than to think of him within the narrow confines of achievement in school subjects. Their letters to parents are taking the form of simple, concise and frank statements. Stereotyped formality is studiously avoided. Whenever indicated parents are called upon for assistance and co-operation.

These letters are to go out semi-annually into the homes of all children in January and June. Parents of individual children are contacted by note of telephone, for conference or to keep them in touch with the situation at any time during the school year as individual needs require. In college preparatory subjects a "passing" or "certificate" grade is registered on the office record for future reference. This rating is given in June only.

In general, the new procedures and techniques being developed by committees of teachers and principals are based on the following principles:

Appraisal of pupil growth and power of achievement in new terms must encourage looking toward the opportunities and needs of the future.

Teacher opinion is to be supplemented by other data while pupils are to be encouraged to have opinions of their own and to appraise their own progress with objective measures.

Cumulative records will give essential characteristics of pupil growth in terms of five general groups of criteria: Physical health, mental health, social adjustment, work habits and attitudes and achievement.

Educational measurement will differentiate between ability, achievement, behaviour and adjustment. Composite grades will no longer be used.

Tests will be more and more co-operative affairs, with data from them used by both pupils and teachers. Many tests will be limited in scope to specific phases of learning. Records of tests will show progress being made toward significant goals.

Parents are to be helped to look upon education as a co-operative project, a part of which has been delegated to the school. They will be kept informed in terms readily understandable and yet reliable, we hope, of the child's growth and development. When problems arise parents will be provided with objective evidence of the child's abilities, his behaviour and his achievements and of what the school has done for the child.

Children are to be helped and challenged to make the most of themselves. We firmly believe that the removal of "bribes" and "threats" in the form of marks will be definitely conducive to healthier mental attitudes.

Understanding the child, respect for his personality, individual attention, natural and proper stimulation and help are the all-important phases of the new emphasis.

This task of devising more human and less arbitrary procedures surely challenges our best efforts. It is not an easy task. To work with a group of teachers devoted to meeting this challenge is an inspiring experience. The response thus far from parents, pupils and teachers gives us all faith that it can be done.

ONE THING...
...AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

It may be useless but in view of the approach of the horse-racing season, political conventions, etc., the warning is herewith repeated—nothing is as uncertain as a "straight tip."

Oddments

A lively pup frequently brings happiness to a home. Sometimes a little worry goes with it. For instance, here is a Newton man who has a canine friend with a habit of roaming. "We used to call him 'Sport', said the man, "but now his name is 'Dillinger'." We never know where to find him.

Daylight-saving opponents are having their say. One well known writer declares it should be sent back to Russia where it originated. Another finds the habits of the young folks, especially the going-to-bed-and-getting-up-again schedule, have been knocked galley-west. The most enthusiastic supporter will "pooh pooh" this and every other objection and tell you of a score or more advantages. These latter are usually familiar. One of which I had never heard came to my notice last week when a friend said, "Well, we're saving on electricity." I thought he was about to repeat one of the well-worn arguments until he added, "My children have wonderful 'forgetteries' and many a night they lock the front door behind them with the light on the piazza burning brightly. Setting the clocks ahead one hour postpones for 60 minutes at least the turning-on of the piazza light. They still forget to turn it off but even if they do we save an hour's juice."

"Mister Chairman"

Who has not aspired to become a dictator for no other purpose than to right a wrong? "If I had my way..." we begin and then proceed to denounce some glaring injustice that has aroused our indignation. At the present moment my pet reform is this: I would insist that everybody be compelled to study parliamentary procedure and then required to pass an examination before he was allowed to attend a business session of any organization.

This has no application to our public school system or colleges. The classes I propose would be made up of those who have forgotten what they learned, or were taught and failed to grasp, years ago, about presiding at formal sessions, speaking from the floor, submitting motions, amendments to motions and such things. I like to see a chairman who knows how to guide and who doesn't let this one and the other interrupt with suggestions and the like without formally addressing the presiding officer.

"No talking from the side-lines" and "No back-seat driving" would be among the rules contained in my own edition of Cushing's Manual. The value of transacting business with dispatch is important, but equally imperative is a knowledge of the recognized form of conduct. I have been privileged, and also forced, to watch many a presiding officer. The one I most admired could repress the most bumptious orator by simply saying, "That has no bearing on your intention and this board will not hear it." He was telling the man "to cut the cackle" and get down to business.

Of course that's one thing that is very much worth while.

If I haven't made clear my case, may I add that I have no quarrel with anybody. I do insist, however, that any business meeting should be conducted in an orderly way and that is "by the book." So, why not make Cushing's Manual a part of our summer reading? Yes, I include myself, for I need instruction along with many others. I do not expect to be called upon to preside but I may have occasion to say, "Mister chairman, I move you—" and I want to be sure of my form.

"How Doth the Busy Moth"

The process of de-mothing used to be called, "Putting things away for the summer where the moths can't get at them." Disposing of it in one word simplifies matters as far as conversation is concerned. It does not, however, lessen the amount of work necessary to guard against the ravages of that arch enemy of winter apparel. We have already entered upon that season where cedar chests, moth balls, flakes of camphor, or whatever they may be, and the like are resorted to in order that next fall we may drag out garments that we hope to use again. Unless I am mistaken, and I frequently find myself in the minority, the task of de-mothing is as tiresome as it is necessary.

The labor involved, when finished, does not always bring an end to the concerns of every household. It is often the men folks who decide, with exasperating suddenness that they would like to wear something that has been duly interred in mothless security. What a fuss they make when informed that neither dinner coat or formal evening clothes are close at hand! Well, it's just another one of those things.

And that's not all. Within the home of the prudent and energetic housekeeper to sport of moth-chasing is on. With a group seated around the living room it is not uncommon for the "lady of the house" to jump from her chair as if Satan himself had entered. The rest of the family become alarmed as the gentle lady runs around slapping the palms of her hands together. "Heavens, what's the matter?" comes the choicest catch that moth catch that moth!" is the excited reply and then, of course, everybody understands.

The 300th anniversary of the first elected General Court of Massachusetts was observed last Monday in the House of Representatives by the adoption of a resolution offered by Rep. George Dale of Watertown. The resolution "commemorates the session of the General Court of the Mass. Bay Colony, begun on May 14, 1634, and lasting three days at which it was ordered that 'it shall be lawful for the freemen of every plantation to choose two or three of each town before every General Court and prepare such public business as by them shall be thought fit to consider of at the next General Court'—full power—making and establishing laws, granting of lands, etc., wherein every freeman is to give his own voice" thus constituting an elected House of Representatives.

On Monday the House of Representatives overrode vetoes of Governor Ely for the first time this session. Two pension measures, relating to the city of Malden, were passed despite the Governor's objections by roll call votes of 163 to 37 and 161 to 36. Newton's three Representatives, Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler, voted to sustain the Governor's action. During the debate Rep. Cahill of Braintree, House floor leader, stated that the policy adopted by the Legislature the past few years was instituted by a resident of Malden, former Gov. Alvan T. Fuller. The personal popularity of the Representatives from Malden played a prominent part in the passage of the bills over the Governor's veto as indicated by the fact that practically all of the votes sustaining the Governor were of Republican Representatives.

The House adjourned Monday afternoon as a mark of respect when Representative Stacy of Haverhill announced the death of Representative Albert L. Bartlett of Haverhill. Rep. Bartlett, a former Mayor of that city, was the oldest member of the House and would have been eighty-two years old early in June. His death came after an illness of several weeks.

Considerable debate was had in the House this week on various amendments to the bill creating a State milk control bill board. The debate was carried over for several days on the various readings and with several motions to reconsider previous action. On Tuesday a rising vote of 97 to 39 amended the bill to permit the State board to fix prices for the resale of milk upon petition of twenty-five percent of the producers in zone areas. Such prices could be established as a last resort in maintaining a fair price to the producer and prohibiting the retailing of milk at a lower price than it cost the retailer. On Wednesday Speaker Saltonstall ruled that a motion to reconsider Tuesday's vote adopting the Akeroyd amendment permitting price-fixing was out of order as the previous question had been moved on the debate at that time.

time. The Speaker then objected when Rep. Aspell, who had attempted to move reconsideration, asked unanimous consent to make a statement. The question on Wednesday came upon passing the bill to be engrossed and at that time was not subject to amendment. Rep. Aspell requested a rollcall which was supported by more than thirty members. By a vote of 115 to 88 the bill was passed to be engrossed. Rep. Baker voted against engrossment and Rep. Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted in the affirmative. Rep. Aspell then gave notice that he would seek reconsideration on a roll-call vote of 111 to 83. Reconsideration was refused and the bill will come up in the Senate next week.

On Monday following the conclusion of hearings held upon a bill which would provide for the establishment of a municipal lighting plant in Boston the Committee on Municipal Finance voted to reject the proposal. The hearings which had been held before that committee were the scene of heated encounters between ex-Councilor Kelly of Boston who introduced the bill and Senator Sam Wragg of Needham, chairman of the committee. Kelly was ordered out of the room and a scuffle ensued with State House guards. The adverse report was read in the Senate on Tuesday and accepted over the motion to substitute by Sen. Pinneag of Dorchester.

On Monday the Senate advanced a bill to permit Mayor Mansfield to consolidate several Boston city departments by a vote of 17 to 16. Senator Hollis of Newton was paired in favor of the bill with Sen. Conroy of Fall River who was absent.

On Tuesday the Senate substituted for an adverse committee report a bill providing for a one-third restoration of salaries of Boston city and Suffolk County employees. The roll-call on the matter was 18 to 16 with Senator Hollis among those opposing the bill.

Day Jr. High School

Ten members of the "Daytonian" staff were delegates to the meeting of the League of Junior High School Publications which was held on May 17th at the Leonard Chandler School in Somerville. Because Meralyn Dalton, who has been the recording secretary of the League this year, was unable to attend the meeting, Nancy Plagg read her report.

A luncheon was given by division IID to the junior high school principals in honor of Mr. Frank Chase who is retiring. The waitresses were Myrtle Litchfield and Isabelle Kemp.

The boys' tennis tournament was won by Ronald Cullen who defeated Charles Feeley in the finals.

On Friday morning at 8:45 the Radio Club will again broadcast from station WBZ. School news will be in charge of Ruth Nally, Marcelia Renard will present a bit of humor and Theodora Klein, the "Did You Know?" A skit, fifth in the series about "Old Ironsides" written by Bernard Erickson, will be given by Bernard Erickson, Henry Hayes, Jerry Allen, and George Hutchings, with Beverly Green as the announcer. Marilyn Fairfax is in charge of the interviewing. Assisted by Ruth Carter, Dean Lewis, Elda Dignati, Isabelle Kemp and Polly Hughes, she will interview Mr. Neal O'Hara, columnist of the Herald-Traveler.

At the May 16th assembly, the E. R. A. band played several selections. Emery St. George introduced Mr. C. R. Spaulding who in turn introduced Mr. Albert Ives, conductor of the band. A special feature of the program was the euphonium solo, played by Mr. Aaron Harris. The last number was a specialty, a modern piece which was played, sung and whistled by the band, after which the entire school joined in the singing of the melody. This piece was conducted by Mr. Spaulding.

Who Owns Oldest Nash In Newton?

They are turning back the pages of history at the August Osterlund, Inc., dealers for Nash-LaFayette cars in Newton. Beginning at once, Mr. Osterlund announced his organization was going on a search for old Nash cars in this territory.

It is all a part of the Nash Motors Company's nation-wide contest in which the Millionth Nashbuilt car, a 1934 Nash Big Six Sedan, will be awarded free to the owner of an old Nash car. Mr. Osterlund announced that the search will continue through May and urged every Nash owner to enter his old car in the contest.

The rules of the "Oldest Nash Contest," together with regular application forms for the Contest may be obtained from August Osterlund, Inc., located at 724 Beacon street, Newton Centre. He points out that all cars entered in the contest must be driven to the Nash-LaFayette show room under their own power.

The "Riptide" of a Woman's Life is Film Theme

One of the most fascinatingly varied functions among the elements is the action of ocean water—and it is this which contributed the title of "Riptide" to Norma Shearer's latest starring vehicle which comes to the Newton Paramount Theatre on Sunday for 4 days.

The dictionary defines a riptide as the condition when water becomes roughened by conflicting tides or currents. What is remarkable about this condition is that there is no resolution of the conflict until one weakness and is diverted to another direction. It is not a question of triumph; it is a question of weakening and disappearance.

The co-feature will be Sally Ellers and Richard Arlen in "She Made Her Bed." This program has been approved by the Newton Motion Picture Council especially for adult patrons.

For the last half of the week—Katharine Hepburn comes to the screen in "Spitfire," a picturization of the Broadway stage success, "Trigger," and those who have seen the picture declare that it offers the scintillating star her most impressive role to date, not excepting her Eya Lovelace of "Morning Glory" or her Jo March of "Little Women."

It is a story of a mountain girl who becomes frantically religious from reading the texts of some cards she has stolen from a Sunday school, and who undertakes miraculous healing powers through her primitive faith in God. Hated by the many who believe her a witch, and loved by but a few of the beneficiaries of her miracles, she becomes an outcast.

On the same program, Randolph

Scott will be seen in "The Last Roundup." This program has been approved in its entirety by the Newton Motion Picture Council. Family Nights will be Monday and Friday when the main feature will be shown first.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Attractive Events For Auburndale Woman's Club

Summer days bring two offerings for members of the Auburndale Woman's Club that are attractive. One is the Outing for May 22nd, when club-women will meet at the Club House at 10 o'clock, weather permitting (if stormy the trip will be postponed until the next day) and motor to Gloucester, to visit the John Hays Hammond Museum. This outing, with the drive through beautiful shore country, and a picnic lunch at the shore, gives the vacation spirit in sociability, with an objective of interest, as well. Sponsored by the Art committee of the Club, Mrs. John D. Hebeck, those desiring to join the group may telephone to her at W. N. 1487.

The second offering is a colorful one, being the Annual Spring Flower Show of the Garden Club of the Auburndale Woman's Club, this being the third such yearly event. Mrs.
Ralph E. Keyes is chairman of the General committee planning the Show, which will be held at the Club House on Wednesday, the 23rd. An unusual Exhibit will be the Louis XIV competition. Among the many classes there will be a group showing a Garden Breakfast Table, Saturday's Market Basket, and Window Boxes; also a special Junior Class for Arrangement of Spring Flowers in which children from 6 to 14 years of age may enter.

Chairmen in charge of the several Classes of Exhibits are Mrs. Victor Morgan, Mrs. Edwin E. Nash, Mrs.
William Edson and Mrs. Mervyn Balley. Members of the General committee, assisting Mrs. Keyes, are Mrs.
Charles S. Grover, Mrs. John F.
Brown, Jr., Mrs. Wilbur D. Gipsatrie, Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, Mrs. Paul A.
Chandler, Mrs. Elbridge A. Minard,
Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Mrs. Thomas
W. Ferguson, Mrs. E. Graham Bates and Miss Florence E. Tower.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The next meeting of the Garden Club of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Monday, May 21st, at 11 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, 54 Oakland avenue, Auburndale, with Mrs. Ernest
A. Dockstader the assisting hostess. Mrs. John R. McLean will talk on "Birds, Their Relation to Gardens."

General Federation

COUNCIL MEETING. Massachusetts clubwomen who are planning to attend the Council Meeting at Hot Springs, Arkansas, leaving Boston today, the 18th, are Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, president of the State Federation for the past two years, just retired; Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, her predecessor in office; Mrs. Carl W. Higg, Jr., national chairman of Public Health; Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, national chairman of Education; Mrs. David A. Westcott, Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, and Miss Martha Post Wight, president of the Newton Centre Juniors.

The Junior of Massachusetts who will be the official delegate to this meeting, chosen at the recent Junior Conference, is Miss Ruth H. Lothrop, of Quincy.

Selecting and sending a delegate to the General Federation conventions is one of the major enterprises of the Massachusetts Juniors, in which all Juniors take a part by contributing five cents toward a permanent Traveling Scholarship, set up by the Junior Membership committee of the State Federation, of which Mrs. I. William Crowell has been chairman the past year. This year the Finance chairman for the Scholarship asked every club to donate five dollars. Those clubs that can pay more than their quota help to make up for the clubs who can not pay this much. Many clubs give benefit performances and parties to raise their share of the funds.

Qualifications on which the delegate is chosen include: age; number of years interested in Junior work; amount of work accomplished, scholastic ability; club offices held; mental, physical and spiritual graces; interest of clubwomen in the candidate; value to club and Federations; social graces and cultural talents. Three prominent clubwomen are chosen by the State Junior committee to act as judges—the General Federation director, the State Federation president or her substitute, and the Junior Adviser.

The Massachusetts Juniors have sent two delegates to the national conventions: Miss Betty Button, of Framingham, to Seattle; and Miss Martha Wight to Richmond. Miss Ruth Luthrop will be the third delegate to attend.

These Junior delegates bring back reports of the convention and this is sent to each Junior Club. Also this report is given at the Fall Meeting of the State Federation, and the Junior often carries the report to Junior Clubs during the winter in a "lecture", perhaps of a more informal sort.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Art committee of the Newton-ville Woman's Club which during the past season has provided several interesting exhibitions of a varied nature, brought its activities to a splendid climax in the week May 7th to 12th, when it assembled for display water-colors painted by the following prominent contemporary Boston artists: Marion Monk Chase, Carl Gordon Cutler, Sam Charles, Harley Perkins, John Wharf, Charles Pepper, El-

lot O'Hara, Charles Aiken, Dorcen Bowen, Polly Nordell, Frank Carson, Charles Hopkinson, Aline Kilham, C.
E. Hiel, and Charles J. Connick. In some instances, the artists exhibited one, and in other instances, several pictures. Tea was served each afternoon, the Art committee, whose members are Mrs. Carl G. Cutler, chairman; Mrs. Charles J. Connick, Mrs.
Francis G. Ingraham, and Mrs. Orin
E. Skinner, being assisted by Mrs.
Benjamin D. Miller, Miss Lucy Ellis
Allen, Miss Amy Sacker, Mrs. Frank Buxton, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. David Beyer, Dal Buell, Mrs. Paul Ellicker and Miss Marguerite M. Ellis, who poured, and by the following who directed the serving: Mrs. Edwin P.
Crave, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, Mrs.
H. Clayton Pearson, and Mrs. Henry
M. Weldner.

Throughout the season, the committee has added great pleasure to Club days by preparing and holding the following exhibitions: November 21st, Old Glass; December 5th, Madonnas in Picture and Sculpture;
January 2nd, Paintings and Objects of Art from China and Tibet; January 16th, Old-fashioned Quilts and Hand-made Spreads; March 6th, Chinese Art; March 20th, Arts and Crafts

The interest displayed, and the number of persons attending these exhibits are most gratifying to the committee; on the Arts and Crafts Day, and during the recent Art Week, both open to the public, the community at large has shown its appreciation of the Club's hospitality by its representative attendance.

ed to serve for the year 1934-1935 at the Annual Meeting of the Presidents' Club of Massachusetts, held Wednesto the many Newton clubwomen who are members or who have many friends among the membership.

Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, of the Reading Woman's Club, a former director of the State Federation, and well-in the State, is to be its president.

According to its Constitution and By-Laws, a president of this Club serves only one year. Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, formerly the clerk of the State Federation, and now the highly-efficient

Mrs. Tirrell is on the ballot of the State Federation as corresponding nesday, the 16th.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Twenty-four members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. gathered for luncheon on the porch of the Peabody Tea Room on Monday, May 14th.
Following lunch, the Annual business Meeting was held, with Mrs. William E. Leonard presiding. Annual reports were read and accepted, and Miss Marian Morse, chairman of the Work committee for the coming year, outlined the proposed program. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Helen Ward; vice-president, Mrs.
Sanford Thompson; secretary, Miss Adelaide R. Webster; assistant secretary, Miss Marian White; and treasurer, Mrs. Edward G. Swift. At the close of the meeting, flowers were presented to the outgoing and in coming presidents.

Community Service of the Newton Federation

As promised last week, a somewhat complete report of the work of Community Service, as undertaken by the committee of this name in the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, assisted wholeheartedly by clubwomen throughout the city, is given herewith, so that all clubwomen may know how worthwhile is this work they have accepted as one of their responsibilities in good citizenship, and how excellently it has functioned.

"In this year 1933-34 your Commu-

Community Service Club Will Give Garden Party

A Garden and Card Party of great interest to people in the Newtons and in surrounding towns is to be held on Tuesday, May 22nd, at 2 p. m., at the homes of Mrs. Frank W. Remick, 34 Exeter street, and Mrs. Stanley M.
Bolster, 29 Exeter street, West Newton, for the benefit of the Community Service Club of West Newton. Mrs.
H. B. Patrick, of 64 Putnam street, is in charge of tickets.

Since the season is bringing the flowers in bloom earlier than this date, ticket-holders have been invited by Mrs. Remick to make sure of seeing her tulips at their best, by visiting her garden during the week before the party.

As this is the first affair given by the Club since the election of the new officers, headed by Mrs. Austin H. Decatur as president, and the last party before the fall season, it promises to be a large and successful one.

To Hold Annual Flower Show at Channing Church

Now are the days of Flower Shows, in which clubwomen are becoming more and more interested each year, featuring this delightful hobby, as the business routine of club work wanes with summer weather approaching.
The Newton Community Club and Social Science Club, through their respective chairmen of conservation and committees, have co-operated each year with the Newton Garden Club, and members of these Clubs have a maternal feeling toward this year's Flower Show, therefore, staged by the Newton Garden Club, of which many of their members are now members.

For the two days, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 22nd and 23rd, Exhibits in eight Classes will be shown at Channing Church. These will include May Garden Flowers, Flowers in Pairs of Vases, White Flowers in White Containers, Luncheon Tables, Wild Flowers, Miniature Bouquets, Window Sill Decoration, with Plants in Earthen Pots, and one Class open to children under 12 years, Flowers for Mother's Desk. Classes are open to all Newton residents.

Miss Jane Hobart is General chairman, and the Exhibit chairmen of Classes are Mrs. J. H. Wright, Mrs.
Robert Howard, Mrs. R. W. Hall, Mrs.
Philip Jamieson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard North, Mrs. H. P. Rolfe, Mrs. F.
P. Scofield, and Mrs. Ralph Angier.

Garden Clubs

The Newton Centre Garden Club will hold its Spring Flower Show Wednesday, May 23 from 10 to 9 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Edward D. Leonard, 129 Monadnock rd., Chestnut Hill. The public is cordially invited.

Among the interesting classes is one of Luncheon tables with flower arrangements to harmonize with place plates. Four neighboring gardens will be open during the Show. The committee in charge includes: Mrs.
Austin Benton, chairman; Mrs. George Hannauer, Mrs. John Cooke, Mrs. Allyn McIntire, Mrs. Walter Dietz, Mrs.
Richard Tefft, Jr.

The Garden Club of Auburndale is holding its third annual Spring Flower Show at the Auburndale Club House on Wednesday, May 23, 1934, from 1 to 9 p. m. Mrs. Charles D. Ansley is chairman of a committee who will serve tea through the afternoon.

ty Service department has been very active. In September your chairman called a conference at City Hall, with delegates from all organizations interested in clothing distribution:
Newton Welfare Bureau, Mayor's Relief Committee, Red Cross, Public Welfare Department, School Nurses, Soldiers' Relief, Newton District Nursing, Representatives from Parochial Schools and the Piper Plan, giving clothing to schools, and members of the Federation. These people exchanged ideas, and made comments and suggestions for the year's work.
The Clothes Room in City Hall now completing its fourth year, gives much relief to those in need of help. Supplementing new and used clothing from our room, is new clothing given by the Red Cross and clothing given in the schools. The sources of supply for the Clothes Room were: the appeal of Club chairmen in the Clubs; through the press by the Newton Welfare Bureau; a city-wide appeal by the Mayor's Relief Committee; and the Boy Scout Drive in response to the suggestion of President Roosevelt.

"Fifty women employed in the C.
W. A. Sewing Project, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, from December 11 to April 18, produced over 14,000 articles, and repaired nearly 300 articles of clothing.
Of the total made, 4,800 pieces of household linen and clothing came to the Clothes Room for distribution. Distributed this clothing to families presented cards from the Newton Welfare Bureau, Mayor's Relief, Public Welfare Department and Soldiers' Relief. The clothing for children was given out at the schools. On March 14, Mrs. Piper, the chairman for this work having resigned, the Stearns School, Nonantum, sent an appeal for help. The Federation took over the work, allotted more days for distribution, put its own workers at the task, and with the most cordial co-operation from the Stearns School Principal, Mr.
Winslow, the school nurses, and the teachers, the work was speeded up, and conditions relieved at once. More than 1,600 garments have been issued in this one school since the Federation took it over six weeks ago. Besides this, many pairs of new shoes have been purchased for these children by Mayor's Relief and the Public Welfare Department.

Last week your chairman called another conference. We reviewed the year just passed and talked together about plans and work for next year. Your Federation chairman and her committee of club chairmen have done much individual work this year in family visiting, and applying extra funds from churches, clubs, and individuals for emergencies, coal, and food. This type of work is done in families whose need is temporary and who do not apply for the services of any of our agencies. I appreciate deeply this particular service. It has great value to the community and it has been done with tact and judgment.

"The spirit of real service has been shown this year in so many ways that do not make a list of figures to submit to you,—friendly deeds, answers to appeals for aid of various kinds, and all of it has been done quietly, efficiently, and without publicity."

"The Federation has had the most cordial co-operation from all the organizations and from the staff in City Hall, where we are the guests of the city. Words are rather inadequate at this point to express appreciation for the interest of your president and her Board. The expressions of thanks from the organizations for which we work, and the gratitude of the people we serve, makes the memory of many hours of hard work fade away, and instead comes a thrill with the joy and privilege of Community Service."

(Signed) AGNES KATHARINE BONNER, (Mrs. Robert Bonner) Community Service chairman, W. C. T. U.

The next meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held on May 21st at 7:45 p. m. at the home of Mrs. May L. Sweet at 10 Jefferson st., Newton. Mrs. Ida Colligan will be the assisting hostess. Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton will be the speaker.

Would Pay Bonus To Newton Police For Target Skill

Mayor Weeks Wants $1000 Appropriated for Prizes

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a recommendation was received from Mayor Weeks asking that $1000 be appropriated to be used as prizes for members of the Newton police who will become expert as revolver shots. This recommendation was presented to explain the proposed plan by which it is hoped to make a large percentage of the local police sharpshooters. The discussion on this matter was conducted in the secrecy of the committee room, and the appropriation was not passed at the meeting. It is understood that at least one member of the Board did not enthusiastically over such an expenditure because of prevailing economic conditions. So action on passing the appropriation was postponed until the next meeting of the Board on June 4.

Since the Needham bank robbery a few months ago, Newton has received considerable publicity over the activity taken by its officials in purchasing up-to-date firearms and armored cars as means of defense against possible banditry in the city. A couple of weeks ago Chief Hughes informed his subordinates that all members of the police department must become proficient in the use of the new revolvers which were recently issued to all of them.

Newton, in common with many other city and town police departments of Massachusetts and other New England States, has had a team competing in the New England Police Revolver League the past couple of years. But, apart from the few members of the department who were members of this team, most of the Newton police has not displayed undue interest in becoming "Dead Eye Dicks." So Chief Hughes intends to make marksmanship compulsory and

Deny Playground For Carnival

Commission Heeds Protests Of Local Clergymen

As a result of protests made by Newton clergymen a conference was held at City Hall last Monday night which resulted in stopping the use of Victory Field playground at Nonantum as the locus for carnivals and similar amusement enterprises. The conference was attended by Mayor Weeks, City Solicitor Bartlett, members of the Playground Commission, Ernst Hermann, Playground Superintendent, Police Chief Hughes, Alderman John Gordon and William Sprout. Also present were Rev. Russell Haley, senior curate of Our Lady's Church, Newton, J. Edward Theriault of Nonantum, representing Rev. Joseph Robichaud of St. Jean Evangeliste Church in that section, and members of organizations which had petitioned for the use of Victory Field. These included William E. Earle, Hugh Boyd and William Parker of Newton Lodge of Elks; George McNamee, Commander of Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W.; and Philip Butler of the V. F. W. Drum Corps.

The Newton Elks had distributed circulars and tickets advertising "Summer Frolics" on Victory Field next month. Mr. Earle explained that his organization had acted in good faith in this matter. Alderman Gordon had consulted Mayor Weeks on this matter and the latter consented to the use of Victory Field. Mr. Hermann and Mr. Earle then went to the playground and a site was selected for the entertainment location. He said no outsiders would have anything to do with the enterprise and only Newton Elks would be in charge of the booths and other features. There would be no merry-go-rounds or the like.

Father Haley protested against the use of the playground for carnivals as a result of one conducted there last year by the V. F. W. He advocated the closing of playground in the city against such uses and the Playground Commission adopted his suggestion. Father Haley was opposed to carnivals on the ground that they attract a crowd which has a bad moral influence on the community.

Memorial Day Parade Will Include Children

The Memorial Day observance in Newton this year will be participated in by many veteran and patriotic organizations and by the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of this city. The latter have been invited to take part by the Veterans' Council, which is in charge of arrangements.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks has been chosen by the Charles Ward Post No. 62, Grand Army of the Republic, as Chief Marshal of the Memorial Day parade on Wednesday, May 30th, and he has appointed Leonard Boyd Adjutant of the Grant Army Post to be Chief of Staff, and Robert L. Cunningham, past Commander of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, to be Adjutant General.

Eighteen patriotic organizations will take part in the parade which will start in Newton at Centre avenue and Washington sts. at two o'clock in the afternoon. Mayor Weeks, the members of the City Government, and a staff of prominent citizens will head the parade, followed by G. Company of the 101st Infantry, the Sons of Union Veterans, the surviving members of Post No. 62 of the Grand Army then other local patriotic organizations.

Among the bands which will play are the West Roxbury Post, American Legion Band, the Newton Post Legion Band, and the Newton High School band. Drum corps of the Newton Legion Auxiliary and of Sergeant Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr. Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Elsie Janis Drum Corps, will also be in line. The High School band will march with the Boy Scout troops, and Newton's new armored cars will parade at the end of the line.

The line of march will be from Newton corner, along Washington st. to Newtonville square, then through Walnut street to Washington Park. There a stop will be made at the Gov. Andrew Home, then through Park pl. to Cabot, to Walnut st. to the Newton Cemetery.

Loud speakers will be used during the services in the Newton Cemetery so that all may hear and so that order may be preserved. At the conclusion of the services in the cemetery, the column will march in the same order through Walnut st. to Commonwealth ave., then entering the City Hall grounds the parade will be reviewed by the Chief Marshal, Sinclair Weeks, in front of the main portico, then continuing to Homer st. to disband.

Delegations of veterans on Memorial Day morning will decorate graves at Newton Cemetery, St. Mary's Cemetery, Lower Falls, and Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. Flowers will be cast onto the Charles River at Newton Lower Falls in memory of the sailor dead. Contributions of flowers are solicited from citizens. They may be left on the afternoon and early evening of May 29th at the following places—Newton, Engine 1 house; West Newton, Engine 2 house; Auburndale, Hose 5 house; Upper Falls, fire station; Lower Falls, residence of Florence Fitzgerald, 671 Grove st.; Newton Highlands, Truck 2, house; Newton Centre, Engine 3 house; Waban, Rhodes Drug Store.

Aldermen Renew Permit for Gravel Pits at Oak Hill

Allow Extension of Pits Despite Strong Opposition

The Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night granted a renewal (for 6 months) of a permit to George S. Wilbur of West Roxbury to operate machinery and equipment at the gravel pits at Oak Hill near Wiswall rd. and Dedham st. For the past several years these pits have aroused much opposition from Oak Hill residents who objected to the noise of trucks travelling to and from the place, and from members of the Aldermen and other citizens who objected to a large area at Oak Hill being reduced to gravel pits.

At the public hearing on the renewal of the permit on Monday night Lewis E. Smith of 325 Brookline st. appeared in opposition. He presented a protest signed by 22 residents of Oak Hill. He said that the noise caused by the operations at the pits spreads over a large area. He commented that the development of Oak Hill as a residential district had, in the past 15 years, been in the direction of the areas which is being used for gravel pits. He asserted that the gravel pits have already stopped desirable homes' development. A few years ago owners of a large tract adjacent to the pit on Dedham st., despairing of selling a Boston contractor who stripped all the loam off the tract and left it a barren eyecore. Mr. Smith said that for the best interests of this city the permit to continue the gravel pit operations should not be extended. He complained that within the past two weeks large trucks have been hauling gravel from the pit both nights and on Sunday. He said the pit was also being operated before 7 mornings, in violation of the terms of its permit.

During a long recess of nearly 2½ hours, the Claims and Rules Committee met and considered the Wilbur petition. When the Board meeting et Jones. The window is a gift to the church by her husband Mr. J. Comer Jones.

High above the main entrance of the church is the Gothic tracery window in which the stained glass has been recently installed. Beauty of color, rich and varied, is the first impression. Clear luminous blue, glowing ruby, warm gold, cool silvery white and touches of sharp green blend in harmony. The erect, vigorous, masculine figure of St. Paul in the centre lancet contrasts with the feminine grace and beauty of Mary and Martha of Bethany. Rhythmically designed smaller figures of angels at the bottom and the top of the window complete the composition.

The theme of the window is Faith, Love and Service. These Christian virtues were outstanding in the character of the one in whose memory the window is erected. Faith is here symbolized by St. Paul who holds the sword. This is in reference to his own words, "I have fought a good

Various emblems have been used throughout the design. Above the head of St. Paul is one which belongs to him — the open book inscribed "Spiritus Gladius," with the sword. Above Mary is the flaming heart, symbol of Divine Love. Above Martha is a basket of bread in reference to her serving the physical needs. She holds in her arms a basket.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON'S POWER IN RUNNING EVENTS TOPS BROOKLINE ON TRACK

The runners on the Newton High School track team had sufficient power to offset the field event strength shown by the Brookline high outfit in the annual dual track meet last week Friday. The meet was held on the Brookline track with Coach Enoch's outfit coming home with the bacon by a score of 42 to 30.

Newton almost swept all of the points in the six running events, piling up a score of 39 points to but seven for the Wealthy Towners. Tod Plotkin's first in the low hurdles, Livingston's third in the 220 and Anderson's third in the 440 were the only Brookline counters. Quigley, Freeman and Moore swept the 100-yd. dash for the orange and black. Quigley and Freeman led Livingston in the 220, Freeman and Miller were one, two in the 440; Fitzgerald, Johnson and Fernald swept the 880, and Whitten and Frazier placed second and third behind Plotkin in the hurdles.

The field events went practically the opposite, with Brookline capturing 23 of the 27 points in the three events. Sloane's third in the broad jump and Swig's third in the shotput were two of Newton's points here while Ross McLean tied Lowenstein for second in the high jump which Plotkin won.

Tomorrow afternoon the team will participate in the annual State meet held in conjunction with the Harvard Interscholastics at the Stadium track.

Against Cambridge Latin last Friday the local nine started right out with a three-run rally in the first inning. McDermott led off with a single, stole second and scored on Mascia's single after Waters had gone out. Bill Spilman connected with one of Anderson's fast balls for a home run to score behind Mascia. Another tally came over in the second on a walk, an outfield error and a fielder's choice while hits by Mascia, Spilman and Byrne brought in another single tally in the third to give Newton a five-run lead.

Meanwhile Joe Green was setting back the Cantabs with goose eggs for three straight frames. The visitors broke the ice in the fourth when Flagg's error, Spartichino's single and McDermott's error at third allowed Galluccio to score. In the sixth the Cantabs again took advantage of Newton misplays to tally twice and cut down the orange and black lead. Spartichino and Borges singled with an error and an infield out were the factors in bringing in the two tallies. In the seventh the Newton margin was reduced to a single tally when the Cantabs scored again. Pitchford singled, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scored when McDermott let catcher Pete Morrison's throw get by him when Morrison tried to catch the runner napping.

Then came the eighth and what an inning. An error, a walk, a sacrifice and three sizzling singles from the bats of Spartichino, Borges and Pitchford changed the score from a 5-4 must be mailed to applicants and that they cannot be given to them at the office. Thus if bathers want to be ready to take a dip on the hot days to come they should make certain that they can do so by applying for their permits beforehand.

SACRED HEART NINE BEATS ST. CHARLES —QUIRK PITCHES WELL

Behind the effective pitching of Larry Quirk the Sacred Heart School nine of Newton Centre defeated St. Charles of Waltham in a Greater Boston Catholic High School league game last Friday at Waltham. Quirk held the Waltham outfit, which is a contender for championship honors, to five hits. One of the five hits was a home run by Capt. Byrd which came in the seventh with two St. Charles runners on base.

Quirk also smashed out a home run with a man on base in the fourth inning for two runs. The Sacred Heart nine tallied all of its runs in four consecutive innings with two tallies each time, from the third through the sixth.

BATHING TICKETS BEING ISSUED BY PLAYGROUND DEPT.

The Playground Department calls attention to the fact that the bathing season is almost here and that bathing tickets can be secured at City Hall. During the last few years there has always been a rush when the hot weather comes and many people have been disappointed that they cannot receive their permits immediately. City ordinance requires that all permits must be mailed to applicants and that they cannot be given to them at the office. Thus if bathers want to be ready to take a dip on the hot days to come they should make certain that they can do so by applying for their permits beforehand.

NEWTON TOPS WALTHAM WHEN WALK IN NINTH FORCES WINNING RUN

Newton High turned in a 4 to 3 victory over Waltham High on the Clafin field baseball diamond Wednesday afternoon when Pitcher Bucky Boccabello of Waltham passed Charley Mascia with the bases full to force in Newton's winning tally in the ninth. The game was a nip and tuck affair with Waltham taking a two-run lead by virtue of two single tallies coming in the third and fifth innings. Newton got one back in the fifth and tied the count with another in the seventh. An eighth inning tally was chalked up to give Newton the lead but Gerolamo, Waltham went to bat as a pinch hitter in Waltham's ninth and slammed out a home run to deep left centre to tie the score. Then Newton staged its winning rally filling the bases and setting the stage for the walk which forced in the run.

Newton outfit the visiting Waltham outfit 15 to 5 with Bosworth making a two-bagger for Newton and the Waltham pinchhitter's home run being the only extra base blows. Mascia led the Newton batters with three singles in four trips to the plate.

Dramatic Club Draws Large Audience in Season Final

"Let Morning Come", a three-act mystery thriller by Marjorie Chalmers Carleton, was presented by The Newton Dramatic Club on Saturday, the 19th of May, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. A large audience not only was most expressive in voicing approval but so thoroughly followed the tense scenes of the play that spontaneous screams of sympathetic fear as the actors unfolded the drama at times stopped the play. Here was a mystery play so well written technically that no possible clue as to the real situation was discernible until the very end. Moreover the cruel tyrant of the first two acts became the kindest and truest of friends in the third act and all previous judgments had to be reversed. Mrs. Hazel Sholley carried through in excellent manner the role of the young wife who suddenly discovers that her husband is not dead but incarcerated. W. C. Grabe who played the leading male part was in every way ideal for the role given to him. Alice Mansfield as the ingenue sister was beautiful in her artlessness then sisterly devotion and, at last, in her great sacrificial act as she knelt beside her dying brother, the blazing revolver in her hand, a spot light playing on her fair hair and her uplifted face glorified with the spirit of great heroism as she cries "Uncle Max, I have grown up at last—I have freed him! I have freed him!" Edgar Swail as the insane brother, Mr. Locke as the Senator, Mrs. Ollis as Marta the housekeeper and Mr. Whittemore as the jailer butler all made a cast of uniformly high merit. Many congratulatory bouquets were passed over the footlights to actors and author and Mrs. Carleton made a delightful speech. The audience enthusiastically applauded and showed their wholehearted approval of her play.

ZONTA CLUB

Newton Zonta Club's regular Meeting on Monday night was held at the home of Calista Roy, 1945 Commonwealth ave., Brighton.

Marion Fuller reported on the conference of District I held in Washington, D. C., the week end of April 14 and 15 which she attended in two capacities, as regional chairman and as delegate from Newton Zonta Club. At this conference an unusual amount of interest was manifested in the International Relations report.

Calista Roy reported on the International meeting held at Salem on May 7. Eight members went from Newton. Mrs. Anna Austill, of Framingham, gave an illuminating talk upon international relations today. She compared the map of the world to a picture puzzle which is messed up, turned over, crooked and close together. She pictured the world as living in an apartment home civilization where there must be international rules by which to abide. She briefly outlined the underlying attitudes of each country at present, likening them to the pieces of the picture puzzle and asking, "Is it possible to put all these pieces together in a happy, peaceful world?" and stating that in order to accomplish this we must do more than have desire for peace—we must have willingness to disarm for that willingness will tell how much we want peace. Mrs. Austill's talk was of special interest to Newton because she has so recently been a resident of Newton Highlands, where her husband was minister of the Methodist Church.

"Newton Twenty Years From Now"

Herbert Kellaway Talks To Newton Kiwanis

"Newton Twenty Years From Now" was the subject of an interesting talk delivered by Herbert J. Kellaway, member of the Newton Planning Board, and noted landscape engineer, at the regular noonday luncheon-meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club in the Charles River Country Club yesterday.

After describing the growth of the city of Newton, based on a fundamental plan of wide arteries of traffic through the city, and tree-shaded streets in a community designed principally for homes, Mr. Kellaway related the efforts made by prominent citizens year after year to preserve the city's private residence features. Strict adherence to a policy of zoning has developed Newton to a point where at present 93 per cent of the city's total area is restricted to single and private residences, he pointed out.

Only one-third of the city of Newton is developed as yet, he showed by the zoning map, and that vast area south of the new turnpike in Boylston st. will be the scene of the next great development. Oak Hill, in his opinion, will be one of the most beautiful sections of all the Newtons because it is restricted to private residences, and its future must conform to the best zoning plans. The great open acres on the south side of the city will be populated within the next 20 years.

Nothing we do today, he said, must hamper the future. He urged all Newton citizens to support every movement for more parks and playgrounds, and open spaces, and to attack with determination every effort to encroach upon residential districts by business and manufacturing. Newton today is noted as a city of homes; Newton 20 years from now will be more beautiful than ever, with more parks, more public playgrounds, and more open spaces. The hundreds of acres now undeveloped will be transformed into beautiful residential districts, where homes will be constructed of fireproof material, because of improved building codes. If we want to continue Newton as a city of homes, we must be on guard, he concluded, for it is what we do today that affects the future.

Church History Enshrined in Bible

A chronological history of the Newtonville New Church Society has been prepared by Mr. E. Donald Robb, and placed in the Bible in the chancel of the church. A brief resume follows: In June 1848, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Howard and family of the New Church faith moved from Boston to Hull's Crossing, now Newtonville. Three years later New Church services were held in private homes and still later in rented halls with lay readers in charge. On October 25, 1857, the Rev. John Worcester became the regular minister and on Dec. 12, 1869, he was installed as the first pastor by his father, the Rev. Thomas Worcester. The Society was legally organized in 1868 and the chapel was dedicated April 11, 1869, when the Bible now in use was placed in the chancel. The original chapel was moved in 1893 to become a part of the Parish House when building on the present edifice was started. It is interesting to note that Mrs. Horace W. Briggs, the wife of the present pastor, is a granddaughter of the Rev. John Worcester.

A TERRAPLANE AT $55 TO $60 LOWER IN PRICE

The Hudson Motor Car Company announces a new Terraplane Six sedan which will deliver at prices from $55 to $60 less than the current Terraplane models. The new car is identical in size and power with the present Terraplane Special Series and is known as the Challenger. These new models are now on display at the Newton Hudson-Essex Company, local Terraplane and Hudson distributor.

Although this is the first public display of these new cars, Roy D. Chapin, president of the Hudson Motor Car Company, reports that as a result of a private preview of this car to distributors at the factory, orders have started to pour in at a rate indicating that this car has filled a real need in the automobile price structure.

The new Terraplane Challenger Series is offered in four body types with a two-passenger coupe at $55; coach, $57.50; sedan, $63.50, and four-passenger coupe, $61.00, all prices at the factory.

The new Terraplane Challenger Series has all the style provided by 1934 streamline design. The coach and sedan models have the inclosed tire-luggage compartments which have been distinctive of Hudson-built cars this year. Powered by an 80 horsepower engine, this new model will actually out-perform the record-breaking Terraplanes of last year. The characteristics of the car itself inspired the name Challenger, because of its surpassing qualities of power, size, streamline style and ruggedness. The fundamental design of the car is based on the principles of unit-engineering of body and chassis which characterize all Hudson-built cars this year. The car is unique in its price field with such equipment as Bendix equal-action brakes, the latest type of safety steering, fingertouch starting control on the instrument panel, tri-beam safety head lights, airplane type instrument dials and other up-to-the-minute equipment.

Highland Glee Club Holds Annual Meeting and Election

The Highland Glee Club held its annual dinner and business meeting at the Trinity Church parish house Monday evening. A large number of active members were present and Mr. Edgar Smith, the first conductor and one of the founders of the club, was guest of honor. The meeting was presided over by Mr. George Wight, president.

Reports were received from the various committees. The Treasurer's report was most encouraging and showed a favorable balance in the treasury as of May 21st.

The following officers were re-elected for the coming season:
President, George H. Wight; Vice President, Clinton W. Kyle; Secretary, Charles G. Norton; Treasurer, Gustave R. Breitke; Music Committee, Cedi J. Hall; Sponsoring Membership Committee, Arthur F. Slason; Concert Committee, Francis H. Williams; Publicity, Melville H. Smith; Librarian, Gustav W. Ulmer; Assistant Librarian, James L. Dinsmore.

The Highland Glee Club is approaching its next season with greater enthusiasm than for many seasons past. Suggestions were advanced for a greater participation in the civic and charitable life of the community. It has added many new sponsoring members to its roster during the past year, has balanced its budget and in addition has secured special honors at Hartford in its annual contest with other member clubs of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, thus gaining prestige not only in its home city, but all over New England, where interest in music is being fostered by the Federation movement.

A personal tribute was paid to Dr. Ralph Maclean, Director for his faithful services to the Club, and many congratulations were extended him for his success in Hartford.

Many organizations will avail themselves of the opportunity to include the services of the Highland Glee Club in their fall and winter programs for 1934 and 1935.

Newton Chinaman Brandishes Gun

Chinese laundrymen have gone modern; become Americanized. They cannot now, as in past years, be assaulted or insulted with impunity by their customers. Evidence of this was shown in the Newton court yesterday when Yee Quong How, a young Chinaman who has been engaged in the laundry business in Newton for years, was arraigned on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on Nathan Horblit who resides at 63 Jackson rd., Newton. Horblit claimed that when he tried to get laundry at Yee's place at 305 Washington st., Newton, without having a laundry check, that Yee pulled a revolver during an argument, and threatened to shoot him. Yee, who has a good record, told a different story. He testified that Horblit called him a vile name, whereupon he pulled the revolver out of a drawer and told Horblit to leave the laundry. He said he did not point the weapon at Horblit. Judge Bacon believed Yee, placed him on probation for 6 months and ordered the weapon confiscated.

V.F.W. To Conduct "Poppy Drive" To Aid Welfare Fund

The Daily Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Newton, will conduct a "Poppy Drive" tomorrow for the benefit of its Welfare fund with Commander MacNamee in charge. The local drive is being held in conjunction with that of other posts throughout the country, the day having been set apart as a National Day. The Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Post will co-operate with the veterans.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt has endorsed the drive in the following letter addressed to the Commander-in-Chief of the V. F. W. of the United States at Washington:

"Every orphan deserves a chance for happiness equal to that enjoyed by the average American child. This opportunity is given the orphans of veterans by the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

"Proceeds from the annual sale of Buddy Poppies make possible the maintenance of this orphanage. Buddy Poppies also offer a source of employment and relief for needy and disabled veterans in their home communities. For these two very real reasons, we all should wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day."

Reception For German Ambassador at Newton Ctr.

The reception and tea for Dr. Hans Luther, German Ambassador to the United States given by the German Consul General and Frau von Toppelshorn, on Sunday at their Newton Center home, was a gala event.

The gold-braided dress uniforms of the army and navy officials, the gay gowns of the ladies and the splendid music of the more than thirty members of the Karlsruhe band gave unusual color and interest to the event.

In the receiving line with the host and hostess, Baron and Baroness von Toppelshorn, were the Ambassador Dr. Hans Luther, Lt. General von Boetticher of the Army, Captain Witthoef of the Navy and Commander Harsdorf von Enderdorf of the Karlsruhe. Among the American officers present were Rear Admiral Henry Hough and Lt. John Watson of the United States Army Reserve.

The pourers at the tea which was served at the home of Mrs. John Walz of Cambridge, Mrs. Francis P. Garland, and Miss Dai Buell of Newton, and Miss Grace Wetherill of Brookline.

Over two hundred distinguished diplomatic and other guests were delightfully served by a bevy of attractive society girls.

ket of fruit. The initial letters cut into the background relate to the figures; the XP is Christ's monogram; the cruciform anchor stands for Hope. The memorial inscription at the bottom of the window is as follows: "In loving memory of Grace Margaret Jones, died January 4, 1933"

The window was designed and made in one of the leading stained glass studios in this country, that of Messrs. Reynolds, Francis & Robinson of Boston. Among the notable windows made by them are the Medical window in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York; the ten nave windows in the Riverside Church, New York, of which Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick is minister (the so-called Rockefeller Church); the great Apocalypse window in the East Liberty Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh (the Mellon Church); and all the windows in the American Memorial Cemetery Chapel at Belleau Wood, France.

Dr. Bradley will announce his decision regarding the call to the Boston church on Sunday, June 17.

Newton Ctr. Fruit Store Wants To Open on Sundays

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a petition was received from the Karakelas Fruit Exchange at 1365 Centre st., Newton Centre, asking that he be granted a common victualler license. The reason stated in the application by the petitioner, who is a resident of Watertown, is that he wishes to sell tonic and ice cream on Sundays. Karakelas started an out-door fruit and vegetable market a year or two ago at the corner of Centre st. and Norwood ave. A frame building was erected on the site.

Discharged Janitor Loses Court Fight

Henry Mullen of Auburn street, Auburndale received an adverse decision in the Newton district court last Monday in his attempt to overturn the action of the Newton School Committee in removing him from his position as a janitor at the Newton High School. Mullen was discharged late in March by Secretary George Kellar of the Newton School Department after he had been absent from duty for a week and after he had reported to the court with the odor of alcohol on his breath. Mullen demanded a hearing and was granted one by the School Committee which sustained Mr. Kellar. James P. Atkins, attorney for Mullen, then resorted to court action. Judge Lynch of Milford, who presided at the legal hearing, ruled that Kellar and the School Committee were within their rights in removing Mullen.

THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS FOR 1934

(Conclusion)

P. W. A. Projects

Included in the federal grants to the city of Newton under the Public Works Administration are funds for three school building projects. These grants were applied for and approved during the fall and winter of 1933. One third of the amount needed is an out and grant while two-thirds is to be borrowed by the city on bonds.

The school projects are: (1) An addition to the badly crowded F. A. Day Junior High School, providing four additional classrooms, a large play room in the basement and additional storage and office space; (2) A six room addition and major alterations to the Bigelow Junior High School. These changes will provide a modern, well-equipped cafeteria, a well-appointed library, suitable assembly facilities, additional office space, rest rooms for teachers, modern sanitary arrangements, a new heating plant and complete modernization of all facilities, comparable to what is offered in our other junior high schools; (3) A new sixteen room elementary school on Nevada Street in Newtonville. The erection of this building will enable us to discontinue the use of portable units and attic and basement rooms at the Horace Mann and Stearns Schools. It will also enable us to close the Barnard and Adams schools, both of which are old wooden buildings which have long outlived their usefulness. The new building will be an attractive Georgian type of building, simple and effective in design. Great care and study have gone into the plans for all of these projects. The co-operation extended by the Buildings Commissioner has been such as to enable us to secure plans which in every particular meet every requirement of the School Department. These additions to the physical plant of the school system should be a source of pride and satisfaction to all concerned. It is expected that the addition projects will be completed for use next September. The new elementary school will be opened in September 1935.

Conclusion

As was stated in the beginning, we have tried to cover in this report high spots of progress, especially in the matter of policy and the development of ways and means for carrying forward the "new" education so necessary in the light of the challenge of a "new" day. More important, however, than mere devices and procedures is the spirit of our efforts. The teachers of Newton are undertaking experiments and planning and developing procedures which in the judgment of all concerned give promise of freeing teachers and students from the pressure of purely artificial academic standards so that they may live in terms of real life and self expression. We believe that through the abandonment of some of our older forms and procedures we can be helped to think and teach in new terms and approach our problems in the spirit of pioneering and adventuring in education.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN LUND,
Superintendent of Schools.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

There may be a difference of opinion as to whether frequent week-ends are as effective as extended vacations in breaking-up a Summer but it is generally agreed that one may speedily "go broke" either way.

Treasured Memories

Few memories are closer to our hearts as a Nation than those surrounding Memorial Day. The tenderest of these were gathered—at least for those of us no longer young—when the significance of the anniversary seemed more widespread. Today the holiday spirit interferes and causes many to put aside thoughts of those brave souls who fought valiantly to uphold the cause of their country. Instead of a united community, as in the old days, we are scattered, usually by automobile, on rides through the country on golf courses, at baseball grounds and here and there where diversion and entertainment may be found. A sincere and earnest group is left behind to carry on.

It is a treasured memory—the picture of the veterans turning out to honor comrades gone before. Of all my boyhood impressions none has remained more deeply fixed than those made by the solemn procession on its way to the cemetery. From the time my understanding revealed the sanctity of Memorial Day I have always held its observance with reverence. Those who share that feeling are happily aware that it will always stay with us. Such recollections are to be prized and those who do not possess nor care to gather them are depriving themselves of one of life's choicest gifts.

Still in the Air

It may seem strange but I find myself viewing the approach of hot weather with alarm. It is all because of an eminent doctor (at least he never gives a consultation for less than $25 and usually charges $50) whose words were as discouraging as they were final. He wasn't talking to me, for thus far I haven't had any complaint a regular practitioner can't find a name for and treat at the common man's price. No, this learned physician was enunciating for the benefit of a patient and I happened to overhear some of his words of wisdom. The worst of it was—and I'm telling this all wrong by starting with the climax—that I did not hear the complete conversation.

You see, I was in a hotel lobby on business when this doctor came out of the elevator with another man. They took seats next to mine and I found myself an involuntary eavesdropper. The man said, "Doctor, I followed you down here so I could talk to you about my stomach, without my wife hearing us. She's sick enough without that. I've glad to hear you say she's coming along nicely and we'll start for the old shore place as soon as you say so. What I wanted to ask you was what kind of stuff should I drink to keep cool this Summer without upsetting me. What I mean is could I drink this new beer without getting fat?"

"Beer is fattening," was the reply. "And alcohol heats the blood so hard stuff would raise blazes with me?"

"Correct."

"Berk is fattening, too, isn't it, Doc?"

"Yes."

"Well, that's off. Heaven knows I can't take on any more weight. I've got too much now, you said so yourself."

"Under the circumstances milk would not be advisable," the physician declared.

"Ice water, real cold, is bad for me and for anybody, isn't it?"

"It is."

"Well, Doc, you'll have to advise me. What can I do? What do you recommend?"

The doctor cleared his throat. The patient looked expectant. I leaned forward. It was a tense moment.

"I'll tell you what you can drink to keep cool this Summer," said the doctor. "You—"

Just then a bellhop touched my arm, and calling me by name, said, "This way, sir, that party you called says for you to come right up to the room."

First Aid to Genius

It happens to be my good fortune to have the confidence of an inventor. He does me the honor to share his secrets with me and under this pledge of silence there is little I can tell you. I can, without breaking faith, prophesy for him a great future. He is now 12 years old. Furthermore, he has given me permission to discuss in print one of his more recent activities, providing I am vague as to details. He probably doesn't know that it is quite impossible for me to be otherwise concerning things mechanical.

Summoned into confidence we met in the workshop the other day. There he unfolded his belief that people would find much comfort on rainy days if their umbrellas were equipped with radio receiving sets. I assured him that I for one would enjoy the rhythm of a spirited selection while plodding through a thunder shower. His idea was that folks seem to be grouchy and morose when facing inclement weather and that a little radio music would cheer them. I found that he had sent for me to aid him in obtaining the wrecks of umbrellas on which to experiment. Unfortunately I was able to supply only one. He seemed surprised and glanced at the one I carry regularly. I caught the intimation but resisted an impulse to go without despite the importance of the cause.

Possessing no ingenuity whatever I'm afraid I was of little assistance. In my struggle to be of help I suggested that in fine weather sunshades are sometimes used, particularly at the beaches. He recalled the big sun umbrellas he had seen used to shelter bathers. In fact, he was pleased because he visualized even greater possibilities in the installation of receiving sets on the larger sun shields. I left him, enthusiastic and grateful over my contribution to the achievement of science.

Renew Oak Hill Gravel Pit Permit

was resumed in the open. Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the commit-tee, announced that by a vote of six to one, the committee favored the re-nuval of the permit for a period of 6 months. Alderman Holden was the only member of the committee to dis-sent. Alderman McKay asked what conditions had been attached to the future operation of the gravel pits by Wilbur in the Oak Hill area. He called attention to the condition of the abandoned gravel pit near Beethoven ave., Waban, where a deep pool of water has formed and in which a child fell last week. McKay asked—"Will the Oak Hill property be left in good condition as to the grading of the land?"

Alderman Grebenstein, who has consistently favored the renewals of permits to continue the operation of the gravel pits at the Oak Hill area, replied to McKay by saying that the Wilbur pit (the Highland Sand & Gravel Company) is not operated as was the Beethoven ave. pit. He said that the excavated material at Oak Hill was washed and 10 percent re-turned to the excavated area. He said the hummocks where this waste was dumped might not be levelled until some later date, but City Engi-neer Morse states that all conditions are being lived up to by Wilbur. Grebenstein said that in 1931 the gravel and sand taken from the Oak Hill pits totalled 291,000 tons, in 1932 the amount was 157,000 tons and last year only 45,000 tons. So far this year 42,000 tons of gravel have been excavated, so Mr. Grebenstein will need to excavate the whole area of over 80 acres. He said that he believes the pits at Oak Hill will not be left in the condition the other pits in Newton were.

Alderman McKay said—"We have heard this same story in relation to the Beethoven ave. pit, and the prom-ises were not kept." McKay asserted that Wilbur should be compelled to file a bond as assurance that the exca-vated area will be properly graded. He commented that the land at Oak Hill has not been levelled, and he stated that the city should cause the menace created by the abandoned pit at Beethoven ave. to be eliminated. He asked if the conditions as to trucking had been considered by the commit-tee? Grebenstein said there would be trucking at all hours on Dedham st., Oak Hill, that the complainants against the trucking live on Brook-line st., a half-mile distant, that the trucks are prohibited on Brookline st. and very little dust is caused at the pit.

Alderman Temperley asked Greben-stein—"How will they fill in the holes and ponds at the Oak Hill pits when 90 per cent of the material excavated is hauled away? It will require magic to do so." Temperley expressed the belief that when it becomes unprofit-able to operate the pits, the area will be leveled and left as is. Alderman Holden said that the Oak Hill pits have caused a big traffic nuisance with hundreds of trucks travelling to and from the place. He commented that Wilbur had stated he is through with excavating gravel from the Esty prop-erty, which adjoins his property at Oak Hill and now is taking gravel from the Wiswall property.

Alderman Cronin asked Grebenstein what provision had been made to as-sure less noise from the pit, in view of the protests made by Oak Hill resi-dents? Grebenstein replied that the protesters live ¼ of a mile away. Alderman James, who has also spoken in favor of the renewals of the permits to Wilbur for the past several years said that the entrance to the pits is only ¼ of a mile from the West Roxbury line, and Wilbur says that most of the trucking to and from the pits is towards West Roxbury.

The permit was renewed by a vote of 13 to 7. Those voting for the re-nuval were Aldermen Bowen, Chand-ler, Collins, Cronin, Farrell, Floyd, Gallagher, Grebenstein, Hill, Mans-field, Hutchinson, Jamieson, and Sprout. The aldermen who voted against the renewal of the permit were—Cordingley, Goddard, Gordon, Hol-den, McKay, Melcher, and Temperley.

Alderman Grebenstein, after the vote had been taken, asked all the members of the Aldermen to visit the Wilbur property and see conditions there themselves.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE STATE MEETING

Saturday and Sunday, the 12th and 13th, two beautiful May days, found the New Ocean House, Swampscott, humming with activity; porters, bell boys, baggage, taxis, automobiles, all the indication of the happy gathering of spirited women, whose voices called gay greetings, and whose hearts were stirred, as every year it happens, with the enthusiasm and thrill of these days of contact. By Monday morning nearly 2000 clubwomen of the State had arrived to enter Convention Hall for the opening session at 10 o'clock—a hall bright with flowers of the platform, inspiring with bunting and flags draping the walls that seemed the background for this organization that has in all its endeavors the furthering of good citizenship.

Convention Hall belongs, indeed, to the clubwomen of the State Federation, for here a tablet in their honor has been placed by the management of the New Ocean House, in tribute of respect for their aims and accomplishments, and also in recognition that this was the first organization to hold a convention in this beautiful oceanfront spot, realizing its possibilities to meet the needs of such a gathering, while offering the charm of background breathing of a May-day vacation.

Before the sessions ended on Wednesday nearly 3000 representatives of the 137,000, or more, membership of the 395 clubs of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, came to listen and carry back to their fellow members the story of high achievements, hopes, plans, and ideals. And with them about 300 Juniors came to give their message for the 2500 Juniors of the State, and to gain information as to the activities of the Senior Clubs for which they are fitting, while serving in many worthwhile community interests themselves and having their own delightful social contacts.

Following the plan of last year which is that of the General Federation, the State president was assisted in presiding over the many lengthy sessions by her vice-presidents, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett calling the first session to order of business and presiding over the first half of the Monday morning's reports. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, first vice-president and the incoming president, presided over the last half, welcomed with stirring applause by the loyal clubwomen in a touching tribute, similar to the greetings that have made Mrs. Bennett's huge task of leadership one of joy and compensation. In the afternoon Mrs. David A. Westcott, fourth vice-president, shared honors with the president, and on Tuesday, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, third vice-president.

Mrs. Bennett's first greeting was one to inspire and arouse, a fitting beginning to this presentation of accounting: "True citizenship demands courage and character. The future of any organization and the stability of the country, as well, depends on our endeavor to cooperate with the Legislature in making adequate laws for the safety and welfare of the people. Every child should inherit at birth, food, shelter, care, and education and, if we can add to that, wholesome family relations and a training in good citizenship, then we have contributed much to its well-being. These are the aims of our Federation, and the future of the Woman's Club movement depends upon our ability to interest our young people in this worthwhile work."

Gratifying reports were given by the secretaries, officers, and the treasurer; in the course of which a gain of 387 members was announced, and the addition of seven clubs, as follows: Cambridge Woman's Club, Rochester Woman's Club, Hobbs Community Club, Dorcas Club, Arlington; the Musical Guild, Boston; the Massachusetts League of Women Hairdressers, and the Second District Junior Past Presidents' Club, Miss Ruth Lothrop, president.

Four clubs withdrew from the Federation during the year. They were the Traveler Club, Lawrence; Musical Club, Malden; Little Garden Club of Greater Boston and the Unity Guild, Holyoke. Two other clubs, the Half Century Club, Boston, and the 1884 Club of Lynn, were reported as having disbanded.

In this connection, also, it might be stated here, that it was announced that five clubs of this State have joined the General Federation during the last year. They are the Middlebrook Woman's Club, the North Brookfield Woman's Club, the Pine Heights Woman's Club of Dedham, the Dover Woman's Club, and the Hannah Adams Club of Medford.

"Just a question and answer bureau," was what Mrs. Philip H. Tirrill, corresponding secretary, answered to the question as to her duties. As to her correspondence, she said: "Just about 700 letters would be a good average for the year's work." All sorts of inquiries come to her from the clubs of the State, and it is her task to explain the necessary steps in becoming an affiliated member.

Among reports of chairmen—and clubwomen who have attended at any time one of these annual meetings know what a wealth of accomplishment is reported, a wealth that no editor could bring to you in many weekly columns, which she, indeed, regrets, so stimulating and almost overwhelming in inspiration are they.

Mrs. William S. Piper, chairman of the division of Child Welfare, in an impressive report, urged that all women's clubs of the State become informed on the actual food needs of children in their public schools. She said: "The goal is, for every child in Massachusetts three good meals a day. For every school child the additional assurance of an adequate noonday meal at school or at home."

"Many clubs are giving generous amounts of money for supplying milk for undernourished school children," she continued. "Approximately $2000 has been donated for this purpose." Another impressive part of her report dealt with the value of Boy Scout training. She stated: "Since statistics show that it costs $15 a year for each boy enrolled in the organized Boys' Club, and surveys show that in areas where supervised recreation and boys' clubs exist there has been a progressive decrease in delinquency; also that it costs $500 a year to keep a boy in a reform school, and $400 in jail, can you imagine a greater return to a community on an investment of $15?"

Because this is a new venture that may be news to clubwomen in general it is brought to attention that Mrs. Herbert Stephens, State chairman of Art, has held Classes for Art chairmen all the year at Federation Headquarters in Boston, to teach the simple crafts. These were free of charge, the only requirement being that the students start classes in their own clubs. She has had 17 chairmen and these have started classes of from 5 to 25 clubwomen. They have done fine work in making lamp shades, lead bowls, and holders, paper-bound books, others of tapestry, and some beautiful boxes. The Art Scholarship lectures at the Museum earned for this department $50, which has been given to the Museum for a start on the Federation's permanent Art Fund.

In the announcement made of the four clubs that will be rewarded for special activities in the field of art by gifts of four paintings by Massachusetts artists, there was a thrill for Newton that the Newton Centre Woman's Club again has captured one of the coveted prizes. The others were the Clinton Woman's Club, the Northboro Woman's Club and the Arlington Heights Study Club.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club, chosen from clubs with a membership of 400 and over, has Miss Priscilla Ordway and Mrs. James H. Orr as Art chairman and Mrs. Alden H. Spear as president. The Brockton Woman's Club and the Boston section of the council of Jewish women were awarded honorable mention in this division. The Clinton Woman's Club was prize-winner in the division of clubs with membership between 200 and 399. The Hyde Park Current Events Club won honorable mention. The Northboro Woman's Club was winner in the division of clubs with 75 to 199 members. The East Bridgewater Woman's Club won honorable mention. The Arlington Heights Study Club was winner among clubs with 10 to 75 members. The Art Lovers Club of Boston won honorable mention.

The Penny Art prize winners were of special interest to members. Each member donates a penny each year, and with the fund collected four good pictures executed by Massachusetts artists are awarded to the Massachusetts clubs which have done most for art during the year. The judging points are civic art work, art classes, visits to museums and arrangements of corners in club rooms.

The judges in the Penny Art prize contest were A. J. Philpott, art editor of the Boston Globe; Amy Sackler and Dorothy Adlow.

Speaking of prize awards, a report of Tuesday's session might well be made here. Mrs. Clyde H. Swan, chairman, announced that the committee of Conservation had a difficult time in making decisions on the 119 note books entered: First prize to girls, Constance Duffie, Penniman School, Braintree; honorable mention, Emily Nash, of Braintree; first prize for boys, Russell Brown, Waltham; honorable mention, Robert H. Chislow, Noah Terry School, Braintree; first prize for a school, to Barre Centre school, and honorable mention to Woodland Street school, West Boylston.

First award for the greatest number of individual notebooks in proportion to the individual enrollment went to the Sandwich school, with honorable mention to the Roosevelt school in Framingham.

The prize for the cover design awarded to a school was given to Meredith Walker of Forest school, Easton.

It might be noted here, also, that Mrs. Swan had one of the finest exhibits of public school work shown in the corridors of the New Ocean House. As chairman of the division of Conservation she has increased interest in outdoor natural life among young people, and these books, made by the pupils, and filled with collections of pictures, essays, specimens of growing things of different kind, and hand-drawn sketches, represented an endless amount of effort and educational study.

The Philergians Club of Braintree feels proud that three children from that town won first prizes and honorable mentions. Last year Braintree pupils won two awards. This woman's club feels that the most valuable result of a contest of this sort is not the medal which goes to the successful child, but the great gain which is made by every child participating, in the fun of knowledge of outdoor life, the interest in animals, birds, insects, and flowers, and knowledge of the dangers of forest fires and of methods of preventing them, as well as the use of products of the forest.

Also playing a conspicuous place in the large number of exhibits was one arranged by Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, in which was the display of a beautiful hand-made quilt, the gift of the Cliftondale Women's Civic league to Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, a former president of the league. The quilt was fashioned together artistically by Mrs. William J. Batman, the retiring president.

Returning to the subject of prizes and reports, a thrilling moment was the one in which Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, founder of the Mothercraft movement and chairman of Mothercraft in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, announced Tuesday morning the gift of a Mothercraft International Headquarters at the Hotel Lenox, Boston.

This room is to be known as the Mary E. Pryor Memorial Room, and is the gift of L. C. Pryor, manager of the Hotel Lenox, in memory of his mother. The room is already open, but will not be definitely dedicated until October 19th. It will be hung with portraits of the Mothercraft movement. A library on child welfare is being assembled for the Headquarters.

Mrs. Kimball also announced that the Mothercraft motion picture film, prepared under her personal supervision in Hollywood to demonstrate the work among young girls in public schools, had been taken over by the State Department of Education, University Extension, for use in the course of the State.

The winners of the Mothercraft prize essay contest for 1934, in which many school children participated, were announced by Mrs. C. R. Elder of Amherst, State chairman of that division. They are Constance Joseph of Hull, first prize of $5; Claire de Marest of Braintree, second prize of $3; and Georgia Cabiaux of Marlboro, third prize of $2. Honorable mention was given to Edith Helfand of Dartmouth; Lena Castagnetti of Framingham; Harriet Ayes of Gardner; Helen Carney of Lawrence; Priscilla Turpel of Lynn; Augusta Cooper of Milford; Dorothy Hayden of Orange; May Vitsov of Peabody; Elinor Speedman of Salem; and Ruth Flanagan of Worcester. Several hundred papers were received in the contest.

Clubwomen will be interested also in the announcement that Mrs. Kimball will have the formal opening of the famous Dickinson-Baggs Tavern in Amherst this season on June 6th, which will be celebrated as the annual play day of the Mothercraft Club. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, State president, will be one of the guests of honor. Mrs. John F. Kimball will be present and will act as hostess for June.

Clubwomen were delighted when Mrs. Edward Tregoning, chairman of the committee on Education, announced on Tuesday that $60,000 had been set aside by her committee for scholarships and loan funds and that a survey in this field was now being conducted under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Howard.

Several Resolutions were read for the first time on Monday, and when it came time for consideration and adoption, at least one caused considerable difference of opinion, with candid expression thereof. More on this subject will be given in full under discussion of business transacted.

Two gala evenings marked the affair. Flowers and lovely gowns gave color and festivity. Chiffons, satins and laces, in white and purples, blues and pinks, blacks and pastels, a fluttering, shimmering background for equally varied hues in bouquets that were the outpouring of love and honor from district clubwomen. Youth had its hour Monday evening; when forty Junior presidents, each bearing an armful of bright flowers, led by Mrs. I. William Crowell, State chairman of Junior Membership, bearing a beautiful silk flag, Old Glory, and Mrs. Charles Carter Willson, vice-chairman, our own Mrs. Willson of Auburndale, president of the Newton Federation, very lovely with her brunette coloring, and in evening gown, bearing an equally beautiful silk flag of the State, circled Convention Hall. (Both of these leaders had, naturally, attended the Junior banquet, as had also Mrs. John F. Capron, of Newton Centre, a member of the State Junior Membership committee.)

The director of each district, carrying a high staff with the district number in gold, headed each division, and Old Glory and the State Flag borne by leaders heralded the approach of the procession. It stirred the heart, and applause mingled with the orchestra music, now tender, now gay, that gave them rhythmic step.

The Juniors had just come from their banquet, where they had voted to accept as theirs an invocation written by Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, former State Federation president, which reads: "Oh, Lord, under thy guidance may the Juniors of this Federation seek knowledge courageously, walk fearlessly, and live nobly in thy service."

Miss Sylvia Koose, of Wollaston, spokesman for the 300 Juniors who filled a section of the Hall, voiced their ambition, proving they are ready for a high task of gaining knowledge and acting fearlessly thereupon, which she stated was "to offset the propaganda of today to the effect that all young people are going downward."

Tuesday evening was Governor's Night, when State Presidents and directors gave their entrance march, in festive array, with flowers, and before tear-dimmed eyes, for the loveliness of this honoring of leaders always stirs the heart. Mist and rain, dreariness without, were forgotten in the gaiety and beauty of the Hall that never had been so thronged. Governor Ely complimented Mrs. Bennett on her gracious introduction, whimsically paying tribute to the beauty of the "parade" in saying "that (Continued on page 8) ton Centre, in a single residence zone. Mr. McKay said he had received complaints that the building had already been erected, and had been up a couple of months, although no action has been taken by the Aldermen on this matter, and no permit granted. Alderman McKay said he went to the locus, saw the building and met one of the Brodick brothers there. Mr. McKay said that when he started to question Brodick regarding the unauthorized erection of the business structure in a residence zone, Brodick was arrogant, insolent and impertinent. McKay stated that this is the same man who last year placed advertising signs illegally on the reservation along Commonwealth ave. near Cedar and Morton sts. and flaunted the authority of the city.

President Collins of the Board suggested that Mr. McKay take the matter up with Buildings Commissioner Hagemann whose duty is to prosecute any person violating the zoning ordinance or building laws in this manner. Alderman Holden said that he concurred with Alderman McKay in the matter of the unlawful erection and use of the Brodick real estate office on Morton st. He said the matter had been called to the attention of Buildings Commissioner Hagemann, that the latter was shown copies of Boston newspapers in which the Brodicks had placed advertisements with the real estate office on Morton st. mentioned, but that he had not stopped the Brodicks from using the office.

Alderman Gallagher inquired, "Who is this man Brodick?" Alderman Holden replied that Brodick resides at West Newton opposite the Alhambra Golf Club and that the property at Newton Centre is in the name of his wife, Mrs. Maude Brodick. Gallagher was about to make further inquiries, when President Collins abruptly adjourned the meeting at midnight.
